15TH YEAR. NO. 92.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 26, 1899.

TWO CENTS

GEN. JOUBERT'S FORCE

Boer Commander Counting on 50,000 Men.

NO EUROPEAN INTERVENTION.

The Representative of the South African Republic Convinced of the Hopelessness of Such Help—Late Note of Chamberlain to President Kruger.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 26.—It is reported from Pretoria that Commandant General Piet Joubert reckons on 18,000 Transvaal troops, 16,000 from the Orange Free State, 8,000 from Cape Colony, 2,000 from Natal and 6,000 Hollanders, German and other volunteers.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Brussels correspondent of The Standard says that Dr. Leyds, European representative of the South African republic, now recognizes the hopelessness of any attempt to obtain European intervention.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The officials of the foreign office gave out the text of the letter of the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, to the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner, dated Sept. 22. The British reply expresses regret that her majesty's offer, No. 5, of Sept. 8 had been refused and said:

"The object her majesty's government had in view in the recent negotiations has been stated in a manner which cannot admit of misapprehension, viz, to obtain such substantial and immediate representation for the Outlanders as will enable them to secure for themselves that fair and just treatment which was formally promised them in 1881 and which her majesty intended to secure for them when she granted privileges of self-government to the Transvaal. No conditions less comprehensive than those contained in the telegram of Sept. 8 can be relied on to effect this object.

"The refusal of the South African government to entertain the offer thus made, coming as it does after four months of protracted negotiations, themselves the climax of five years of extended agitation, makes it useless to further pursue the discussion on the lines hitherto followed, and the imperial government is now compelled to consider the situation afresh and formulate new proposals for a final settlement of the issues which have been created in South Africa by the policy constantly followed for many years by the government of South Africa. They will communicate the result of their deliberations in a later dispatch."

The imperial government takes up the charge of breach of faith insinuated by Secretary of State Reitz, Sept. 16, "which we cannot pass over in silence." Mr. Chamberlain refutes this charge.

At another point the communication said:

"The imperial government sees no ground for misapprehension on the part of the South African republic as to its answer regarding non-interference and suzerainty, as the imperial government had already stated that it would not press for the appointment of a joint commission of inquiry, in view of the fact that such an inquiry would, in the opinion of the government of the South African republic, prejudice the right of independence repeatedly recognized by the imperial government."

"As to the use of the English language in the volksraad, the imperial government regards this as reasonable and is astonished that the government of the South African republic should deem it unnecessary and make a point of denying that the government of the South African republic ever proposed the same to the British agent."

DURBAN, Natal, Sept. 26.—Seven hundred and fifty men of the Leicestershire regiment, 750 of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, 200 mounted infantry and the Eighteenth hussars arrived at Dundee from Ladysmith.

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 26.—Von Veltheim, the former trooper in the Cape police, who shot and killed Woolf Joel, nephew, partner and executor of the late Barney Barnato, in Johannesburg in March of last year, after failing in an attempt to blackmail, has been arrested while crossing the frontier.

It is said that he was returning with the object of giving the government information.

One Death; Twenty-Six New Cases.

KEY WEST, Sept. 26.—The new cases of yellow fever number 26, the deaths 1.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

One of the Most Notable Ever Witnessed at Newport—Prominent People Present.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 26.—The marriage in the Protestant Episcopal All Souls chapel, which followed the Russian orthodox service, uniting Prince Cantacuzene, Count Speransky of Russia and Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant and granddaughter of General U. S. Grant, was one of the most brilliant ever witnessed in Newport.

Right Rev. H. C. Potter, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Nevins of the American church in Rome. But in accordance with the laws of the state of Rhode Island Rev. Dr. Potter of the Emanuel church of this city read that portion of the service which legally united the distinguished pair.

Honore Palmer, a cousin of the bride,

PRINCESS CANTACUZENE.
(Formerly Miss Julia Dent Grant.)

acted as best man by proxy for Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, who was unable to be present.

The bridal procession included only Miss Grant and her escort and the ushers, as there were no bridesmaids nor any maid of honor.

As the bride's father at present is with the army in the Philippines, her brother, Ulysses S. Grant, third, a member of the third class at West Point, in full cadet uniform, acted in his place.

The ushers were: Potter Palmer, Jr., a cousin of the bride; Lockwood Honore, uncle of the bride; Captain Sartoris, a member of General Fitzhugh Lee's staff during the late war and also a cousin of the bride; Robert L. Gerry of New York, H. Roger Winthrop of Newport, John Prentiss of New York, Worthington Whitehouse of New York and Lathrop Randolph of Boston.

Miss Grant was gowned in white. Her dress was severely cut, but of the richest white satin with a sweeping train and veil of tulle.

She carried a shower bouquet of stephanotis and lilies of the valley and wore the gift of the bridegroom, a corsage ornament of diamonds and enamel and a rope of pearls.

The prince was attired in the full uniform of the chevalier garde, brilliant with red and gold.

Among the congregation, beside the immediate family, were Mrs. Ulysses Grant, the grandmother of the bride, H. H. McFarce, Edwin C. Honore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Honore, Jr., Mrs. Sartoris, wife of Captain Sartoris, Major General Nelson A. Miles, Mrs. Miles and Miss Miles and Lieutenant Colonel Michler of General Miles' staff, Major General Merritt and Major Mott of his staff, Adjutant General Corbin, Colonel and Mrs. Hein of West Point, Samuel Thayer of Wisconsin, Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn, Chauncey M. Depew and many others.

The reception at the Potter Palmer residence was one of the largest ever held in Newport. The bride couple received under an immense floral arch, with Mrs. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer standing on the right, while seated near Mrs. U. S. Grant.

The prince and princess started for New York on board the steam yacht Narada.

Strikers Called on Senator Hanna.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—A committee from the street railroad men's union called upon Senator Hanna, who is the president of the Cleveland City Railroad company. The men said they had been received courteously by the senator, who admitted that the strikers on the Big Consolidated lines had grievances which he would have corrected were they his employees.

TO FREE AMERICANS.

Rebels Will Release 14 Prisoners Tomorrow or Thursday.

THREE JOINED FILIPINO ARMY.

Became Officers After Their Capture.

Two Englishmen Released Brought the Information—They Had No Information of Captain Rockefeller.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—10 a. m.—Two Englishmen who had been held by the insurgents since June arrived at Angeles. They report that the Filipino congress has resolved that 14 American prisoners shall be surrendered on Wednesday or Thursday.

They have, however, no information as to the whereabouts of Captain Chas. M. Rockefeller of the Nineteenth infantry, who disappeared in April last and of whom no trace has been discovered. They assert that three Americans who were captured by the rebels are acting as officers in the insurgent army.

THE CHINESE CAN LAND.

Finally Agreed to Admit the Shipment to the Philippines, but No More to Try It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Secretary Root received a cable message from General Otis regarding the Chinese situation in the Philippines. He says that the shipment of 700 can be landed without any serious interference with military operations. General Otis discusses at considerable length the subject of Chinese in the Philippine islands, and the dispatch was referred to the state department, where it was made the subject of a conference between Acting Secretary Hill and the Chinese minister.

The result of the conference between Acting Secretary Hill, with whom the war department had rested the responsibility for the decision, and Minister Wu, is set out in the following official statement:

"The Chinese from Amoy, on the steamers Esmeralda and Salvador, about one-half of them being previous residents of the Philippines, have been permitted to land, owing to the special circumstances of the case, on the promise of the Chinese consul general at Manila that no more Chinese will leave Chinese ports for the Philippines unless qualified to land under the war department regulations."

It was stated that the Chinese minister was satisfied with this action in this particular case, although he does not concede the right of exclusion generally in the Philippines, and the Chinese government stands by the principles enunciated in the formal protest which was made last week by the Chinese minister here against General Otis' action.

The war department regulations referred to in the above statement are supposed to be contained in the order made by General Otis a year ago, declaring the Chinese exclusion laws to be in force in the Philippines.

A GUNBOAT CAPTURED.

Rebels Burned It and Carried Away the Guns—Officer and Nine Men Missing.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—It was reported that the insurgents had captured the United States gunboat Urdaneta in the Orani river, on the northeast side of Manila bay, where she was patrolling. One officer and nine of her crew are missing.

The United States gunboat Petrel, sent to investigate the matter returned and reported that the Urdaneta beached opposite the town of Orani, on the Orani (not Arani) river. She was riddled with bullets and burned and the following guns with their ammunition were captured: A 100-pounder, one Colt automatic gun and one Nordenfeldt 25-millimetre gun. The crew of the Urdaneta probably are prisoners or have been killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The gunboat Ordaneta, which was captured with her crew at Orani, about 25 miles from Manila, on the bay of Manila, is a little craft of only 40 tons displacement, not much larger than a small tug. She was captured by the navy early in the war, and has been on police duty for the day for months past and was manned by men from the Oregon.

According to the last reports to the department the little boat was last May under the command of Naval Cadet Weiborn C. Wood, but the personnel of the crew is not a matter of record, being subject to frequent change.

Naturally the navy officials are vexed that the difficulties of the negotiations looking to the release of Lieutenant Gilmore of the Yorktown and his men should be added to by this last misfortune.

Enroute to Philippines.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—The new Twenty-eighth regiment from Camp Meade passed through here for service in the Philippines.

SCHLEY IN THE PARADE.

His Name Given Out as a Participant in Dewey Procession—High Prices For Seats.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Enormous prices have been paid for good positions from which to view the Dewey land parade. Rear Admiral Schley engaged a box at the Hotel Majestic, as has also the widow of Captain Gridley, the officer in command of the Olympia during the battle with Montojo's fleet and the forts of Cavite.

Others who engaged boxes there are Governor Bushnell of Ohio, H. M. Flagler, Adjutant General Stewart of Pennsylvania and Vice President McCullough of Chicago and Northwestern railway. Governor Roosevelt and family will witness the parade from the Fifth Avenue hotel.

Active preparations were in progress on the ships of the squadron off Tompkinsville for the naval parade. The fighting machines are being made immaculate.

Arrangements for the squadron's representation in the land parade have about been completed. The executive officer will be in command of each ship's delegation of seamen. There will be three full companies from each ship now off Tompkinsville, except the Texas, which will have two companies. There are 52 men in each company.

There will be a battalion of four full companies of marines. The New York, the Brooklyn and the Massachusetts will each have a company. The fourth company will be made up of men chosen from the guard of other ships. Major Murphy of the Brooklyn will be in command of the battalion of marines and Lieutenant Mathews of the Brooklyn will be his adjutant. It is thought the Marretta, the composite gunboat which is now at Boston, will stop here on her way to Washington, where she has been ordered to report on Oct. 2.

The Scorpion, the converted yacht, it is expected will come.

The following United States vessels arrived Monday: Dispatch boat Dolphin, revenue cutters Onondaga and William Windom and revenue practice ship Salmon P. Chase. These vessels will take part in the Dewey naval parade on Friday.

The reception committee has finally decided upon the order to be taken by the city officials and the guests of the city in the land parade of next Saturday. It is as follows:

Sousa's band.
Battalion sailors from Olympia.
Dewey and the mayor.
Dewey's five captains at Manila.
Dewey's personal staff.

Rear Admiral Sampson and Randolph Guggenheimer.

Admiral Sampson's staff.
Admiral Philip, commandant of the New York station, and President T. F. Woods of the board of aldermen.

Staff of Admiral Philip.

Junior officers of the North Atlantic squadron.

That will complete the naval formation. Then will come the guests of the city in this order:

Visiting governors not accompanied by troops.

Major General Miles and aides.

Rear Admiral Schley and Rear Admiral Miller (retired.)

Joint committee of the municipal assembly. [Fourteen of them.]

Sailors of the North Atlantic squadron.

Following the sailors will be the soldiers of the regular army and other military organizations.

Kearsarge's Successful Trial.

ROCKPORT, Mass., Sept. 26.—The new battleship Kearsarge crossed the finish line, having taken 4 hours, 20 minutes, 30 seconds for the run. An estimate, deducting 30 minutes for turning at Cape Porpoise, shows that she exceeded 17 knots by a fraction.

SAMOAN WAR CLAIMS.

The Three Governments Have Them Under Consideration.

GERMANY DON'T HAVE TO PAY.

She Took No Part In the Bombardment. No Proposition Made For Her to Stand For Part of the Damage Done by Mataafa's Men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The three governments interested in Samoa—Great Britain, Germany and the United States—have been considering the claims arising out of the bombardment last summer, in which the American forces under Admiral Kautz, and the British forces under Captain Sturdee, participated. As a preliminary step the British government has signified a purpose to adopt in this case the principle observed in the damage done by the bombardment of Alexandria, Egypt, namely, that private property destroyed as a necessary incident to the prosecution of naval and military operations would be paid for.

While applying this general principle, the adjustment of the various claims is yet to be made according to the circumstances of each. The claims are being considered under the main heads, viz: Those arising from the joint naval operations of the British and the American forces, and second, those growing out of the operations of the Samoan natives, chiefly the followers of Mataafa.

As Germany took no part in the bombardment she has no damages to pay.

It is said also that no proposition has been made to have Germany pay a part of the Samoan damage done by the Mataafa forces. The course of the United States has not yet been fully determined, either as to the bombardment or the claims arising from native depredations.

FOR SHOOTING AT MILAN.

Man Publicly Shot, Another Condemned and Pardoned, Others Sentenced.

BELGRADE, Serbia, Sept. 26.—The court rendered judgment in the cases of the prisoners who have been on trial some time past charged with the attempted assassination of former King Milan of Serbia, July 6, when he was shot at by a Bosnian, Knad Knezevic, Knezevic and Paisitch, the leaders of the conspiracy, were sentenced to death, 10 others were condemned to 20 years' imprisonment, 1 to 9 years' imprisonment and 7 to 5 years' imprisonment. Six of the men on trial were acquitted. Knezevic was shot publicly in the presence of a large crowd.

In view of the absence of trustworthy evidence the finding of the tribunal is the subject of general condemnation.

After the sentences were read Paisitch was informed that King Alexander had pardoned him.

J. HAY BROWN APPOINTED.

Governor Stone Named Him to Succeed the Late Justice Williams.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—Governor Stone appointed J. Hay Brown of Lancaster to the vacancy on the supreme court bench created by the death of Judge Henry W. Williams of Wellsboro last winter.

Mr. Brown will take his seat when the court reconvenes at Pittsburg next month. He is the Republican nominee for supreme court judge to be voted for in November. Judge S. Leslie Mestrozat of Unontown is the Democratic candidate. By reason of two vacancies existing on the bench and no elector being entitled to vote for more than one person, both candidates are certain of election.

Some Judges Paid Big Sums.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A number of judges of the city were called before the Mazet legislative investigation committee for the purpose of ascertaining the opinions of the different members of the judiciary as to the advisability of the passage of a stringent law prohibiting the paying of election expenses by the candidates for judicial offices. This action was taken, Chairman Mazet explained, at the request of the City club, the chamber of commerce and other bodies of a similar character. All but one had made big contributions. Some of them favored such a law, and others said they could not see why judges should be exempt.

Some Judges Paid Big Sums.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A number of judges of the city were called before the Mazet legislative investigation committee for the purpose of ascertaining the opinions of the different members of the judiciary as to the advisability of the passage of a stringent law prohibiting the paying of election expenses by the candidates for judicial offices. This action was taken, Chairman Mazet explained, at the request of the City club, the chamber of commerce and other bodies of a similar character. All but one had made big contributions. Some of them favored such a law, and others said they could not see why judges should be exempt.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

15TH YEAR. NO. 92.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 26, 1899.

GEN. JOUBERT'S FORCE

Boer Commander Counting on 50,000 Men.

NO EUROPEAN INTERVENTION.

The Representative of the South African Republic Convinced of the Hopelessness of Such Help—Late Note of Chamberlain to President Kruger.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 26.—It is reported from Pretoria that Commandant General Piet Joubert reckons on 18,000 Transvaal troops, 16,000 from the Orange Free State, 8,000 from Cape Colony, 2,000 from Natal and 6,000 Hollanders, German and other volunteers.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Brussels correspondent of The Standard says that Dr. Leyds, European representative of the South African republic, now recognizes the hopelessness of any attempt to obtain European intervention.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The officials of the foreign office gave out the text of the letter of the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, to the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner, dated Sept. 22. The British reply expresses regret that her majesty's offer, No. 5, of Sept. 8 had been refused and said:

"The object her majesty's government had in view in the recent negotiations has been stated in a manner which cannot admit of misapprehension, viz., to obtain such substantial and immediate representation for the Outlanders as will enable them to secure for themselves that fair and just treatment which was formally promised them in 1881 and which her majesty intended to secure for them when she granted privileges of self-government to the Transvaal. No conditions less comprehensive than those contained in the telegram of Sept. 8 can be relied on to effect this object."

"The refusal of the South African government to entertain the offer thus made, coming as it does after four months of protracted negotiation, themselves the climax of five years of extended agitation, makes it useless to further pursue the discussion on the lines hitherto followed, and the imperial government is now compelled to consider the situation afresh and formulate new proposals for a final settlement of the issues which have been created in South Africa by the policy constantly followed for many years by the government of South Africa. They will communicate the result of their deliberations in a later dispatch."

The imperial government takes up the charge of breach of faith insinuated by Secretary of State Reitz, Sept. 16, "which we cannot pass over in silence," Mr. Chamberlain refutes this charge.

At another point the communication said:

"The imperial government sees no ground for misapprehension on the part of the South African republic as to its answer regarding non-interference and suzerainty, as the imperial government had already stated that it would not press for the appointment of a joint commission of inquiry, in view of the fact that such an inquiry would, in the opinion of the government of the South African republic, prejudice the right of independence repeatedly recognized by the imperial government."

"As to the use of the English language in the volksraad, the imperial government regards this as reasonable and is astonished that the government of the South African republic ever proposed the same to the British agent."

DURBAN, Natal, Sept. 26.—Seven hundred and fifty men of the Leicestershire regiment, 750 of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, 200 mounted infantry and the Eighteenth hussars arrived at Dundee from Ladysmith.

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 26.—Von Veltheim, the former trooper in the Cape police, who shot and killed Wolf Joel, nephew, partner and executor of the late Barney Barakat, in Johannesburg in March of last year, after failing in an attempt to blackmail, has been arrested while crossing the frontier.

It is said that he was returning with the object of giving the government information.

One Death; Twenty-Six New Cases.

KEY WEST, Sept. 26.—The new cases of yellow fever number 26, the deaths 1.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

One of the Most Notable Ever Witnessed at Newport—Prominent People Present.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 26.—The marriage in the Protestant Episcopal All Souls chapel, which followed the Russian orthodox service, uniting Prince Cantacuzene, Count Speransky of Russia and Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant and granddaughter of General U. S. Grant, was one of the most brilliant ever witnessed in Newport.

Right Rev. H. C. Potter, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Nevins of the American church in Rome. But in accordance with the laws of the state of Rhode Island Rev. Dr. Potter of the Emanuel church of this city read that portion of the service which legally united the distinguished pair.

Honore Palmer, a cousin of the bride,

PRINCESS CANTACUZENE.
(Formerly Miss Julia Dent Grant.)

acted as best man by proxy for Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, who was unable to be present.

The bridal procession included only Miss Grant and her escort and the ushers, as there were no bridesmaids nor any maid of honor.

As the bride's father at present is with the army in the Philippines, her brother, Ulysses S. Grant, third, a member of the third class at West Point, in full cadet uniform, acted in his place.

The ushers were: Potter Palmer, Jr., a cousin of the bride; Lockwood Honore, uncle of the bride; Captain Sartoris, a member of General Fitzhugh Lee's staff during the late war and also a cousin of the bride; Robert L. Gerry of New York, H. Roger Winthrop of Newport, John Prentiss of New York, Worthington Whitehouse of New York and Lathrop Randolph of Boston.

Miss Grant was gowned in white. Her dress was severely cut, but of the richest white satin with a sweeping train and veil of tulle.

She carried a shower bouquet of stephanotis and lilies of the valley and wore the gift of the bridegroom, a corsage ornament of diamonds and enamel and a rope of pearls.

The prince was attired in the full uniform of the chevalier garde, brilliant with red and gold.

Among the congregation, beside the immediate family, were Mrs. Ulysses Grant, the grandmother of the bride, H. H. Monroe, Edwin C. Honore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Honore, Jr., Mrs. Sartoris, wife of Captain Sartoris, Major General Nelson A. Miles, Mrs. Miles and Miss Miles and Lieutenant Colonel Michler of General Miles' staff, Major General Merritt and Major Mott of his staff, Adjutant General Corbin, Colonel Thayer of Wisconsin, Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn, Chauncey M. Depew and many others.

The reception at the Potter Palmer residence was one of the largest ever held in Newport. The bride couple received under an immense floral arch, with Mrs. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer standing on the right, while seated near was Mrs. U. S. Grant.

The prince and princess started for New York on board the steam yacht Narada.

Strikers Called on Senator Hanna.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—A committee from the street railroad men's union called upon Senator Hanna, who is the president of the Cleveland City Railroad company. The men said they had been received courteously by the senator, who admitted that the strikers on the Big Consolidated lines had grievances which he would have corrected were they his employees.

TO FREE AMERICANS.

Rebels Will Release 14 Prisoners Tomorrow or Thursday.

THREE JOINED FILIPINO ARMY.

Became Officers After Their Capture. Two Englishmen Released Brought the Information—They Had No Information of Captain Rockefeller.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—10 a. m.—Two Englishmen who had been held by the insurgents since June arrived at Angeles. They report that the Filipino congress has resolved that 14 American prisoners shall be surrendered on Wednesday or Thursday.

They have, however, no information as to the whereabouts of Captain Chas. M. Rockefeller of the Nineteenth infantry, who disappeared in April last and of whom no trace has been discovered. They assert that three Americans who were captured by the rebels are acting as officers in the insurgent army.

THE CHINESE CAN LAND.

Finally Agreed to Admit the Shipload to the Philippines, but No More to Try It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Secretary Root received a cable message from General Otis regarding the Chinese situation in the Philippines. He says that the shipload of 700 can be landed without any serious interference with military operations. General Otis discusses at considerable length the subject of Chinese in the Philippine islands, and the dispatch was referred to the state department, where it was made the subject of a conference between Acting Secretary Hill and the Chinese minister. The result of the conference between Acting Secretary Hill, with whom the war department had rested the responsibility for the decision, and Minister Wu, is set out in the following official statement:

"The Chinese from Amoy, on the steamers Esmeralda and Salvador, about one-half of them being previous residents of the Philippines, have been permitted to land, owing to the special circumstances of the case, on the promise of the Chinese consul general at Manila that no more Chinese will leave Chinese ports for the Philippines unless qualified to land under the war department regulations."

It was stated that the Chinese minister was satisfied with this action in this particular case, although he does not concede the right of exclusion generally in the Philippines, and the Chinese government stands by the principles enunciated in the formal protest which was made last week by the Chinese minister here against General Otis' action.

The war department regulations referred to in the above statement are supposed to be contained in the order made by General Otis a year ago, declaring the Chinese exclusion laws to be in force in the Philippines.

A GUNBOAT CAPTURED.

Rebels Burned It and Carried Away the Guns—Officer and Nine Men Missing.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—It was reported that the insurgents had captured the United States gunboat Urdaneta in the Orani river, on the northeast side of Manila bay, where she was patrolling. One officer and nine of her crew are missing.

The United States gunboat Petrel, sent to investigate the matter returned and reported that the Urdaneta beached opposite the town of Orani, on the Oran (not Arani) river. She was riddled with bullets and burned and the following guns with their ammunition were captured: A 100-pounder, one Colt automatic gun and one Nordenfeldt 25-millimetre gun. The crew of the Urdaneta probably are prisoners or have been killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The gunboat Oraneta, which was captured with her crew at Orani, about 25 miles from Manila, on the bay of Manila, is a little craft of only 40 tons displacement, not much larger than a small tug. She was captured by the navy early in the war, and has been on police duty for one day for months past and was manned by men from the Oregon.

According to the last reports to the department the little boat was last May under the command of Naval Cadet Weiborn C. Wood, but the personnel of the crew is not a matter of record, being subject to frequent change.

Naturally the navy officials are vexed that the difficulties of the negotiations looking to the release of Lieutenant Gilmore of the Yorktown and his men should be added to by this last misfortune.

Enroute to Philippines.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—The new Twenty-eighth regiment from Camp Meade passed through here for service in the Philippines.

SCHLEY IN THE PARADE.

His Name Given Out as a Participant in Dewey Procession—High Prices for Seats.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Enormous prices have been paid for good positions from which to view the Dewey land parade. Rear Admiral Schley engaged a box at the Hotel Majestic, as has also the widow of Captain Gridley, the officer in command of the Olympia during the battle with Montojo's fleet and the forts of Cavite.

Others who engaged boxes there are Governor Bushnell of Ohio, H. M. Flagler, Adjutant General Stewart of Pennsylvania and Vice President McCulloch of Chicago and Northwestern railway. Governor Roosevelt and family will witness the parade from the Fifth Avenue hotel.

Active preparations were in progress on the ships of the squadron off Tompkinsville for the naval parade. The fighting machines are being made immaculate.

Arrangements for the squadron's representation in the land parade have about been completed. The executive officer will be in command of each ship's delegation of seamen. There will be three full companies from each ship now off Tompkinsville, except the Texas, which will have two companies. There are 52 men in each company.

There will be a battalion of four full companies of marines. The New York, the Brooklyn and the Massachusetts will each have a company. The fourth company will be made up of men chosen from the guard of other ships. Major Murphy of the Brooklyn will be in command of the battalion of marines and Lieutenant Mathews of the Brooklyn will be his adjutant. It is thought the Marietta, the composite gunboat which is now at Boston, will stop here on her way to Washington, where she has been ordered to report on Oct. 2.

The Scorpion, the converted yacht, it is expected will come.

The following United States vessels arrived Monday: Dispatch boat Dolphin, revenue cutters Onondaga and William Windom and revenue practice ship Salmon P. Chase. These vessels will take part in the Dewey naval parade on Friday.

The reception committee has finally decided upon the order to be taken by the city officials and the guests of the city in the land parade of next Saturday. It is as follows:

Sousa's band.
Battalion sailors from Olympia.
Dewey and the mayor.
Dewey's five captains at Manila.
Dewey's personal staff.
Rear Admiral Sampson and Randolph Guggenheimer.
Admiral Sampson's staff.

Admiral Philip, commandant of the New York station, and President T. F. Woods of the board of aldermen.
Staff of Admiral Philip.
Junior officers of the Olympia.
Junior officers of the North Atlantic squadron.

That will complete the naval formation. Then will come the guests of the city in this order:

Visiting governors not accompanied by troops.

Major General Miles and aides.
Rear Admiral Schley and Rear Admiral Miller (retired.)

Joint committee of the municipal assembly. [Fourteen of them.]

Sailors of the North Atlantic squadron.

Following the sailors will be the soldiers of the regular army and other military organizations.

Kearsarge's Successful Trial.

ROCKPORT, Mass., Sept. 26.—The new battleship Kearsarge crossed the finish line, having taken 4 hours, 20 minutes, 30 seconds for the run. An estimate, deducting 30 minutes for turning at Cape Porpoise, shows that she exceeded 17 knots by a fraction.

SAMOAN WAR CLAIMS.

The Three Governments Have Them Under Consideration.

GERMANY DON'T HAVE TO PAY.

She Took No Part In the Bombardment. No Proposition Made For Her to Stand For Part of the Damage Done by Mataafa's Men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The three governments interested in Samoa—Great Britain, Germany and the United States—have been considering the claims arising out of the bombardment last summer, in which the American forces under Admiral Kautz, and the British forces under Captain Sturdee, participated. As a preliminary step the British government has signified a purpose to adopt in this case the principle observed in the damage done by the bombardment of Alexandria, Egypt, namely, that private property destroyed as a necessary incident to the prosecution of naval and military operations would be paid for.

While applying this general principle, the adjustment of the various claims is yet to be made according to the circumstances of each. The claims are being considered under the main heads, viz: Those arising from the joint naval operations of the British and the American forces, and second, those growing out of the operations of the Samoan natives, chiefly the followers of Mataafa.

As Germany took no part in the bombardment she has no damages to pay.

It is said also that no proposition has been made to have Germany pay a part of the Samoan damage done by the Mataafa forces. The course of the United States has not yet been fully determined, either as to the bombardment or the claims arising from native depredations.

FOR SHOOTING AT MILAN.

Man Publicly Shot, Another Condemned and Pardoned, Others Sentenced.

BEIGRADE, Serbia, Sept. 26.—The court rendered judgment in the cases of the prisoners who have been on trial some time past charged with the attempted assassination of former King Milan of Serbia, July 6, when he was shot at by a Bosnian, Knad Knezevic. Knezevic and Paisitch, the leaders of the conspiracy, were sentenced to death, 10 others were condemned to 20 years' imprisonment, 1 to 9 years' imprisonment and 7 to 5 years' imprisonment. Six of the men on trial were acquitted. Knezevic was shot publicly in the presence of a large crowd.

In view of the absence of trustworthy evidence the finding of the tribunal is the subject of general condemnation.

After the sentences were read Paisitch was informed that King Alexander had pardoned him.

J. HAY BROWN APPOINTED.

Governor Stone Named Him to Succeed the Late Justice Williams.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—Governor Stone appointed J. Hay Brown of Lancaster to the vacancy on the supreme court bench created by the death of Judge Henry W. Williams of Wellsville last winter.

Mr. Brown will take his seat when the court reconvenes at Pittsburg next month. He is the Republican nominee for supreme court judge to be voted for in November. Judge S. Leslie Mestrezat of Uniontown is the Democratic candidate. By reason of two vacancies existing on the bench and no elector being entitled to vote for more than one person, both candidates are certain of election.

THE EAST END. WORK ON BOULEVARD

New Driveway Will Be Completed Very Soon.

DIGGING DRAINS ON PENNA. AVE.

Rinehart Is Once More Doing Some Work on That Street—One Year Next Month Since Any Clay Was Mined at the Sewer Pipe Plant—East End News.

Yesterday a large force of men commenced work on the new boulevard leading from the Calcutta road to the property recently donated the city by W. L. Thompson for park purposes. When it will be completed is a matter that cannot be determined at this date. The boulevard is to be macadamized and will be 80 feet wide. It will be the best made road in or about the city when the contractors complete their work. The work on the boulevard through the property of Samuel S. Dixon adjoining the Coburn tract will be commenced within a few days. It is the intention to have both roads completed at the same time.

TWO PREACHERS.

One Is Going, Another Coming to Fill the Former's Place.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. W. H. Haverfield and family, who have been spending several days with relatives in Canton, returned to their residence on Pennsylvania avenue. They expect to leave for Andover the last of the week in order that Mr. Haverfield can preach at his new charge next Sunday.

Reverend Orcutt, who occupied the pulpit at the Second M. E. church last Sunday, expects to move his effects to East End by the first of next week. He will occupy one of the Watson houses on Pennsylvania avenue near the old loop. Those who heard him speak last Sunday are well pleased, and are of the opinion that he will be the means of greatly building up the church.

ALMOST A YEAR

Since Any Work Was Done at the Sewer Pipe Plant.

It will be a year in November since any work was done in the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson sewer pipe plant, and it will be one year on Oct. 18, since the clay diggers suspended operations. Many rumors have been published about the resumption of the works, but from present indications it will be another year before any pipe is made at the plant. In the meantime the kilns are being damaged by the weather, and on some kilns the clay covering has been washed off by the heavy rains.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE.

Rinehart Is Again Doing Work on That Thoroughfare.

Contractor H. S. Rinehart has placed a force of men at work on Pennsylvania avenue digging drains against the curbing on both sides of the street. How long it will require him to complete the work is a matter that cannot be determined. Rinehart claims the street has been a source of annoyance to him ever since work was commenced and he will be glad when the street is accepted by the city.

PAID THE BILL.

San Juan Hill Fight Cost the Boys a Little Money.

Alex Chaffin, whose home on Sandy hill was damaged last week by some flying stones thrown by boys who had a pitched battle, was given several dollars yesterday to pay for the damage which resulted to his property through the fight. The boys took up a collection and when the purse was handed

Grant Moved.

John Grant, of Mulberry, street yesterday moved his effects to his new residence on Pennsylvania avenue.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird, of Mulberry street, left yesterday for East Springfield where they will spend several days visiting friends.

C. L. Carman will leave for Holliday's Cove, next week, where he will take charge of a country school. The term lasts six months.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE DAY.

From 800 to 1,000 People From Here to Go to Pittsburg Saturday.

Josiah Wedgwood lodge, No. 235, Order Sons of St. George, expect to take from 800 to 1,000 people from this vicinity to the Pittsburg Exposition Saturday on their $1 excursion.

It will be Sons of St. George day at the Exposition, and in honor of the event it is the intention of the Sons of St. George of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio to make it the biggest day in the history of Pittsburg's show. They will make the occasion an opportunity of honoring Lieut. Dan Godfrey, of the British Guards band, London, now playing at the Exposition, presenting a handsome gold medal to Lieutenant Godfrey and a bronze medal to each of the 50 bandsmen, from the British Americans of eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. J. H. Williams, of Philadelphia, a prominent attorney, will be present to make the presentation speech.

Josiah Wedgwood lodge is one of the strongest in the order, and is making rapid strides in membership this year.

Going to Buffalo.

Rev. C. E. Locke, D. D., pastor of the Central M. E. church, San Francisco, son of Rev. W. H. Locke, chaplain of the Mansfield reformatory, formerly of the First M. E. church, this city, has been called to and has accepted the pastorate of Delaware street church, the largest in Buffalo.

Neat Souvenirs.

Wm. Erlanger, our popular clothier, favored the sanctum sanctorum with a very neat souvenir in the way of china ware. Our townsman is wide awake and abreast of the times in his superb establishment.

LISBON, Sept. 26.—[Special]—Marriage license has been issued to J. C. Croft, East Liverpool, and Anna B. McBean, East Palestine; James H. Crum, of Allegheny, and Maggie Wren, Salem.

CIRCUIT COURT CASES

Some Continued and Some Settled Yesterday.

THE DEIDRICK ALIMONY CASE

Continued Until the Supreme Court Decides the Benner Case In Which the Same Points Are Involved—One Case Dismissed—Court to Adjourn Friday.

LISBON, Sept. 26.—[Special]—Circuit court opened yesterday with Judge W. H. Frazer, J. B. Burrows and P. A. Laubie on the bench.

The following cases were continued: John C. Whinnery versus the Salem Water company; Rebecca A. Cope and others versus John W. Hoopes; also the case of W. H. Mullins versus the Salem board of education, arising out of the employment of a lady teacher.

The case of Joseph L. Deidrick versus Louisa C. Deidrick was continued pending the supreme court's decision in the Benner case in which exactly the same points are involved. In the court below Mrs. Deidrick was the plaintiff and sued her husband for alimony for her support. She received at the hands of the court an allowance of about $14,000 and from this finding the husband appeals.

The case of Alex Stewart versus Sarah J. Campbell was settled.

In the case of Alice A. Armstrong versus Lucinda C. Armstrong the appeal was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

One of the cases to be heard is that of the Burford Brothers Pottery company vs. William N. Bryan. Bryan brought suit for damages, alleged to have resulted from the neglect of the company to keep their machinery and appliances in proper condition. The plaintiff was non-suited on a technicality in the common pleas court and appealed to the circuit court, which overruled the court below and sent the case back to be tried upon its merits. This resulted in a heavy verdict for the plaintiff, from which the defendant company appealed.

Court will adjourn Friday.

RISE IS DUE.

Rivermen Have Hopes of a Scant Barge Stage This Week.

The rains of the past 24 hours have been general throughout the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys, and as the ground is in good shape and the indications for more rain good, rivermen have hopes for a scant barge stage.

Last night the outlook for a rise was promising. The stage yesterday was 1.7 feet and today had risen to 2.8 feet and still going up.

High grade overcoats in the late new shades. Joseph Bros.' price is $12. You can match them anywhere at from $15 to $18. Our big purchase is the cause of these bargain prices.

* HILL & HAWKINS.

—Mrs. G. S. Beardmore is visiting friends in Minerva for several weeks.

If "coming events cast their shadows before," those shadows on the blind presage a wedding in the near future. The young lady may even be "all ready" to marry, that is, she thinks she's "all ready" for her trousseau's prepared, the "trip" has been planned, and the house picked out and "everything."

When we see a young woman go out to meet fate that way it brings to mind the Frenchman's saying of the Charge of the Light Brigade. "It was magnificent but it was not war." It is magnificent to see the young girl face the future so fearlessly, but it is not life. No young woman is ready for married life unless her physical condition is up to the standard of marriage, in the health of all the delicate womanly organs, and rarely is that the case.

Young women entering upon the state of marriage will find no friend so helpful as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, prevents the drains that ruin the health, and makes the ordeal of motherhood so easy that it is practically almost painless.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser answers every question. It is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For the cloth-bound edition send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ALMOST A YEAR

Since Any Work Was Done at the Sewer Pipe Plant.

It will be a year in November since any work was done in the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson sewer pipe plant, and it will be one year on Oct. 18, since the clay diggers suspended operations. Many rumors have been published about the resumption of the works, but from present indications it will be another year before any pipe is made at the plant. In the meantime the kilns are being damaged by the weather, and on some kilns the clay covering has been washed off by the heavy rains.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE.

Rinehart Is Again Doing Work on That Thoroughfare.

Contractor H. S. Rinehart has placed a force of men at work on Pennsylvania avenue digging drains against the curbing on both sides of the street. How long it will require him to complete the work is a matter that cannot be determined. Rinehart claims the street has been a source of annoyance to him ever since work was commenced and he will be glad when the street is accepted by the city.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE DAY.

From 800 to 1,000 People From Here to Go to Pittsburg Saturday.

Josiah Wedgwood lodge, No. 235, Order Sons of St. George, expect to take from 800 to 1,000 people from this vicinity to the Pittsburg Exposition Saturday on their $1 excursion.

It will be Sons of St. George day at the Exposition, and in honor of the event it is the intention of the Sons of St. George of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio to make it the biggest day in the history of Pittsburg's show. They will make the occasion an opportunity of honoring Lieut. Dan Godfrey, of the British Guards band, London, now playing at the Exposition, presenting a handsome gold medal to Lieutenant Godfrey and a bronze medal to each of the 50 bandmen, from the British Americans of eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. J. H. Williams, of Philadelphia, a prominent attorney, will be present to make the presentation speech.

Josiah Wedgwood lodge is one of the strongest in the order, and is making rapid strides in membership this year.

Some Continued and Some Settled Yesterday.

THE DEIDRICK ALIMONY CASE

LISBON, Sept. 26.—[Special]—Circuit court opened yesterday with Judge W. H. Frazer, J. B. Burrows and P. A. Laubie on the bench.

The following cases were continued: John C. Whinnery versus the Salem Water company; Rebecca A. Cope and others versus John W. Hoopes; also the case of W. H. Mullins versus the Salem board of education, arising out of the employment of a lady teacher.

The case of Joseph L. Deidrick versus Louisa C. Deidrick was continued pending the supreme court's decision in the Benner case in which exactly the same points are involved. In the court below Mrs. Deidrick was the plaintiff and sued her husband for alimony for her support. She received at the hands of the court an allowance of about $14,000 and from this finding the husband appeals.

The case of Alex Stewart versus Sarah J. Campbell was settled.

In the case of Alice A. Armstrong versus Lucinda C. Armstrong the appeal was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

One of the cases to be heard is that of the Burford Brothers Pottery company vs. William N. Bryan. Bryan brought suit for damages, alleged to have resulted from the neglect of the company to keep their machinery and appliances in proper condition. The plaintiff was non-suited on a technicality in the common pleas court and appealed to the circuit court, which overruled the court below and sent the case back to be tried upon its merits. This resulted in a heavy verdict for the plaintiff, from which the defendant company appealed.

Court will adjourn Friday.

RISE IS DUE.

Rivermen Have Hopes of a Scant Barge Stage This Week.

The rains of the past 24 hours have been general throughout the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys, and as the ground is in good shape and the indications for more rain good, rivermen have hopes for a scant barge stage.

Last night the outlook for a rise was promising. The stage yesterday was 1.7 feet and today had risen to 2.8 feet and still going up.

High grade overcoats in the late new shades. Joseph Bros.' price is $12. You can match them anywhere at from $15 to $18. Our big purchase is the cause of these bargain prices.

THE EAST END. WORK ON BOULEVARD

New Driveway Will Be Completed Very Soon.

DIGGING DRAINS ON PENNA. AVE.

Rinehart Is Once More Doing Some Work on That Street—One Year Next Month Since Any Clay Was Mined at the Sewer Pipe Plant—East End News.

Yesterday a large force of men commenced work on the new boulevard leading from the Calcutta road to the property recently donated the city by W. L. Thompson for park purposes. When it will be completed is a matter that cannot be determined at this date. The boulevard is to be macadamized and will be 80 feet wide. It will be the best made road in or about the city when the contractors complete their work. The work on the boulevard through the property of Samuel S. Dixon adjoining the Coburn tract will be commenced within a few days. It is the intention to have both roads completed at the same time.

TWO PREACHERS.

One Is Going, Another Coming to Fill the Former's Place.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. W. H. Haverfield and family, who have been spending several days with relatives in Canton, returned to their residence on Pennsylvania avenue. They expect to leave for Andover the last of the week in order that Mr. Haverfield can preach at his new charge next Sunday.

Reverend Orcutt, who occupied the pulpit at the Second M. E. church last Sunday, expects to move his effects to East End by the first of next week. He will occupy one of the Watson houses on Pennsylvania avenue near the old loop. Those who heard him speak last Sunday are well pleased, and are of the opinion that he will be the means of greatly building up the church.

HILL & HAWKINS.

—Mrs. G. S. Beardmore is visiting friends in Minerva for several weeks.

If "coming events cast their shadows before," those shadows on the blind presage a wedding in the near future. The young lady may even be "all ready" to marry, that is, she thinks she's "all ready" for her trousseau's prepared, the "trip" has been planned, and the house picked out and "everything."

When we see a young woman go out to meet fate that way it brings to mind the Frenchman's saying of the Charge of the Light Brigade. "It was magnificent but it was not war." It is magnificent to see the young girl face the future so fearlessly, but it is not life. No young woman is ready for married life unless her physical condition is up to the standard of marriage, in the health of all the delicate womanly organs, and rarely is that the case.

Young women entering upon the state of marriage will find no friend so helpful as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, prevents the drains that ruin the health, and makes the ordeal of motherhood so easy that it is practically almost painless.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Ann of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser answers every question. It is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For the cloth-bound edition send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SOUTH SIDE.

HAVE GOT OIL FEVER

Southside People Expect to Make a Strike.

TALK OF A POTTERY IN CHESTER

Record Sale of a Plan of Lots—Realty Prices Steadily Advancing—Rally Day Services—All the News of the Southside Suburb.

There is some talk in Chester of a company being formed for the purpose of drilling for oil or gas out Mill creek. Some men who have interested themselves in the matter claim that should a well be put down to any great depth they would surely strike either gas or oil.

The situation has been thoroughly discussed by those interested and it is the intention to enlist the services of O. A. Heck, who has been successful in drilling on the Mercer farm. How soon drilling will be commenced is not known.

ANOTHER POTTERY.

J. E. McDonald May Get One For Chester Before the New Year.

It is probable that J. E. McDonald will bring a pottery to Chester very soon. Several strings are now out and should he be successful the plant will be located on his property east of the mill site. When Mr. McDonald was seen with reference to the above he refused to talk of the matter, other than he might have something to give out within a few days.

LAST LOT SOLD.

One Plat of Lots Was Sold Within a Few Months' Time.

The last lot in the Rigby tract in Chester was sold last evening to Oscar Allison and W. B. McLane. There were over 50 lots in this tract when it was placed on the market, but they did not last but a few months.

It is a singular fact, that when the farms of Chester were subdivided into lots they sold faster than was anticipated. The first prices were very low, but in some instances these same lots could not be purchased today for double their first prices. The price of land throughout Grant district is steadily advancing.

RALLY DAY.

Chester Chapel Will Have Special Services For the Occasion.

On Sunday, October 8, the Chester chapel will observe the annual rally day service. A special program is being arranged for the occasion and a pleasant service is anticipated. The regular communion services will be observed on this date, it being postponed from next Sunday. These services will be in charge of Rev. J. R. Greene, of First End.

WELCOMED THEIR PASTOR.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz Given a Surprise by the Members of His Church.

The members of St. John's Evangelical church met in the Sunday school room of the church last evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of extending to their pastor, Rev. John G. Reinartz, a welcome. It was nothing short of a surprise party. When the pastor and his wife appeared in the room, an address of welcome in German was made by William Martin, while Reverend Frischoorn made an address in English. Reverend Reinartz responded in an able manner, after which the members of the church spent the balance of the evening in a social manner.

Edison Going to New Mexico.

Thomas A. Edison will leave for Santa Fe, N. M., this fall to superintend the erection of the big gold concentrating plant that is to be used on the famous Ortiz grant, says the New York Tribune. Mr. Edison refuses to state what the process that he has invented is, other than that he had succeeded in finding a thoroughly automatic process, which would be operated without the use of water. There is absolutely no handling of the material after it is shoveled or dumped into the machine until the waste and gold are delivered from the plant in separate piles. By his process, he asserts, gold bearing beds that will not yield enough gold to pay for washing by the old process can be made to pay a handsome return. The 54,000 acres of the Ortiz grant are roughly estimated to contain from $500,000,000 to $800,000,000 worth of gold, and all attempts heretofore to separate it from the gravel and quartz have been failures on account of the scarcity of water. Mr. Edison states that he is not interested in the Galesco company, which has bought the grant and that he will simply build and operate the concentrating plant under contract.

Who Wants to Be a Marquis?

Every little while Dom Eugenio Faria de Teixeira comes into public notice, and the latest thing about him is his offer to sell his title of Marquis da Agua Branca, which was conferred by Dom Pedro when he was emperor of Brazil. Dom Eugenio frankly admits that his financial necessities cause him to advertise that his title is for sale. He made a stir when he came to New York in 1896. It was said he was worth $50,000,000. As a matter of fact, his mother had about $250,000, which the son lost in real estate speculation. In fact, he lost everything except his title. The advertisement of the fact that it is in the market says that only propositions from distinguished gentlemen will be considered, and applicants must give genealogy.

HAVE GOT OIL FEVER

Southside People Expect to Make a Strike.

TALK OF A POTTERY IN CHESTER

Record Sale of a Plan of Lots—Realty Prices Steadily Advancing—Rally Day Services—All the News of the Southside Suburb.

There is some talk in Chester of a company being formed for the purpose of drilling for oil or gas out Mill creek. Some men who have interested themselves in the matter claim that should a well be put down to any great depth they would surely strike either gas or oil.

The situation has been thoroughly discussed by those interested and it is the intention to enlist the services of C. A. Heck, who has been successful in drilling on the Mercer farm. How soon drilling will be commenced is not known.

ANOTHER POTTERY.

J. E. McDonald May Get One For Chester Before the New Year.

It is probable that J. E. McDonald will bring a pottery to Chester very soon. Several strings are now out and should he be successful the plant will be located on his property east of the mill site. When Mr. McDonald was seen with reference to the above he refused to talk of the matter, other than he might have something to give out within a few days.

LAST LOT SOLD.

One Plat of Lots Was Sold Within a Few Months' Time.

The last lot in the Rigby tract in Chester was sold last evening to Oscar Allison and W. B. McLane. There were over 50 lots in this tract when it was placed on the market, but they did not last but a few months.

It is a singular fact, that when the farms of Chester were subdivided into lots they sold faster than was anticipated. The first prices were very low, but in some instances these same lots could not be purchased today for double their first prices. The price of land throughout Grant district is steadily advancing.

RALLY DAY.

Chester Chapel Will Have Special Services For the Occasion.

On Sunday, October 8, the Chester chapel will observe the annual rally day service. A special program is being arranged for the occasion and a pleasant service is anticipated. The regular communion services will be observed on this date, it being postponed from next Sunday. These services will be in charge of Rev. J. R. Greene, of East End.

SOUTHSIDE NEWS.

Interesting News Notes About People and Things Across the Ohio.

George Greene will leave tomorrow for Apollo where he will attend the annual conference of the Free Methodist church. His family will stay at Homewood during his stay at conference.

Miss Crill, of the Free Methodist church, has left for Apollo with Miss Baldwin where they will attend the annual conference of the church.

Chester council Jr. O. U. A. M. held an interesting meeting last night at which time the proposed entertainments to be given during the winter were discussed.

Doctor Toot will move office to new residence on Fifth street about the first week in October.

HORACE NEWCOMET-ELLA WORTHINGTON.

People Well Known Here to Be Married in Terre Haute, Ind.

Mrs. James R. Hill left yesterday afternoon for Terre Haute, Ind., to attend the wedding of Horace Newcomet and Miss Ella Worthington. The marriage ceremony will be performed at high noon Wednesday, Oct. 4, at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. Newcomet is in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania company while Miss Worthington is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Worthington and has a host of friends in this city being very well known here, having visited at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hill, Kossuth street, for several summers.

WELCOMED THEIR PASTOR.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz Given a Surprise by the Members of His Church.

The members of St. John's Evangelical church met in the Sunday school room of the church last evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of extending to their pastor, Rev. John G. Reinartz, a welcome. It was nothing short of a surprise party. When the pastor and his wife appeared in the room, an address of welcome in German was made by William Martin, while Reverend Frishcorn made an address in English. Reverend Reinartz responded in an able manner, after which the members of the church spent the balance of the evening in a social manner.

Edison Going to New Mexico.

Thomas A. Edison will leave for Santa Fe, N. M., this fall to superintend the erection of the big gold concentrating plant that is to be used on the famous Ortiz grant, says the New York Tribune. Mr. Edison refuses to state what the process that he has invented is, other than that he has succeeded in finding a thoroughly automatic process, which would be operated without the use of water. There is absolutely no handling of the material after it is shoveled or dumped into the machine until the waste and gold are delivered from the plant in separate piles. By his process, he asserts, gold bearing beds that will not yield enough gold to pay for washing by the old process can be made to pay a handsome return. The 54,000 acres of the Ortiz grant are roughly estimated to contain from $500,000,000 to $800,000,000 worth of gold, and all attempts heretofore to separate it from the gravel and quartz have been failures on account of the scarcity of water. Mr. Edison states that he is not interested in the Galesteo company, which has bought the grant and that he will simply build and operate the concentrating plant under contract.

Who Wants to Be a Marquis?

Every little while Dom Eugenio Faria de Teixeira comes into public notice, and the latest thing about him is his offer to sell his title of Marquis da Agua Branca, which was conferred by Dom Pedro when he was emperor of Brazil. Dom Eugenio frankly admits that his financial necessities cause him to advertise that his title is for sale. He made a stir when he came to New York in 1896. It was said he was worth $50,000,000. As a matter of fact, his mother had about $250,000, which the son lost in real estate speculation. In fact, he lost everything except his title. The advertisement of the fact that it is in the market says that only propositions from distinguished gentlemen will be considered, and applicants must give genealogy.

UP TO COUNCIL.

The people having, by a vote of ten to one, voted to issue $20,000 of bonds for the purchase of the Bradshaw site for Mr. Carnegie's $50,000 public library, the further arrangements are now in the hands of council. The preliminaries for the sale of the bonds, and the selection of a library committee are scheduled for tonight's session. It is to be hoped that there will be no breaks such as occurred in the sale of the sewer bonds. For once council ought to brace up and try not to disgrace the city in concluding the negotiations with Mr. Carnegie.

VOTING PLACES.

There seems to have been more or less misunderstanding about polling places at Saturday's election. The law requires that there shall be a voting place in each ward. This was provided and as a result the East End was left without a polling place, the First ward polls being at Hall's lumber yard. The question has arisen whether the new Fifth ward has not been in legal existence since September 1, and if that was so then the East End was entitled to a polling place for the new ward. It has now been decided that the Fifth ward was in existence, although there will be no ward election until spring. However, the failure to have a polling place

BE SOMETHING.

Yes, represent something. Be for or against. Don't be a thing—a nonentity, nothing. Fling your flag to the breeze. If you are an advocate of the liquor league and the saloon, come out boldly and let the world know it. Don't pretend to be a good man, a good citizen, a law-observing and law-abiding voter, and then, on the sly, advocate and vote for that which you know to be evil and vile. Don't laugh at this and imagine yourself too crafty and clever to be caught in your trickery and cunning. Smarter and more cunning and much craftier men have tested this feature, and have been forced to recognize the truth of the trite old quotation: "Be SURE thy sin will find thee out." Don't enact the part of a coward and act as do the proprietors of some of the journals in this city, who pray "good Lord and good devil," and who dare not advocate any party or any cause, fearful of losing a dollar by being a man. Be something. Represent something.

More goods received this week of our big purchase from the celebrated make of Goldsmith, Joseph, Feiss & Co. Joseph Bros. will save to buyers many dollars.

CALIFORNIA POTTERY

Parties Are Trying to Buy the Plant,

BUT SAY $7,000 IS TOO MUCH

The Plant and Three Acres Can Be Purchased at a Much Lower Figure, as the $7,000 Includes Eleven Acres That Are Not Needed.

There is a deal now on foot in this city to purchase the California pottery now held by the First National bank. Overtures have been made to the bank to purchase the plant, but they want $7,000 for the property. This price has been considered too high by those who want the plant and if a lower quotation is made the property will be bought outright.

There has been no company formed yet, but four men are interested in the concern, one of them being employed at present by the Cleveland and Pittsburg company, the others in the uptown potteries. Some action may be taken by the men before the first of the month.

The plant will be thoroughly overhauled if purchased. A new boiler and engine will be purchased and a new packing shed built.

NOT THAT MUCH.

The Pottery and Three Acres Can Be Bought For Less Than $7,000.

If the parties desire to go into the potting business they can purchase the plant and three acres of ground, upon which are located the gas well and dwelling house, at a considerably lower figure than $7,000. There are 11 more acres in the tract, but they are not necessary for pottery purposes unless the parties who buy the plant desire to go into the real estate business. The $7,000 price includes the plant and 14 acres of land, which is a very low figure.

DIRECTORS WERE HERE.

They Were Looking For Thomas Diddle, Who Is Needed as a Reference.

Infirmary Directors Tarr and McBride were in the city yesterday looking for Thomas Diddle. Ida McElroy is ill at her home in Racine, Meigs county, with typhoid fever and it was claimed she was a resident of this county. Diddle was given as a reference, and it was found that Miss McElroy had only been in the county 11 months before she went home, therefore she is not a resident here and this county will not have to keep her.

THEY WANT AN ADVANCE

Motormen Want an Increase of Two Cents an Hour

AND MANAGER HEALY DECLINES

Saying Business at Present Would Not Justify Him in Acceding to Their Request--The Men Will Hold a Meeting to Consider His Reply.

Last Saturday evening the motormen and conductors of the street railway company held a meeting in their room in East End and decided to ask the street railway company for 20 cents an hour instead of 18 cents as is now being paid. A committee composed of C. A. Allison, Samuel Kerr and O. L. Baker was appointed to confer with Manager Healy and request the advance. Mr. Healy was seen yesterday morning by the committee and after the request had been made said the present business did not justify him in granting the increase. A meeting will be held the last of the week, when the committee will make a report of their conference with the management.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Z. B. Kinsey spent the day in Georgetown.

Commissioner,
CHRIS BOWMAN.
Surveyor,
J. C. KELLY.
Infirmary Directors,
W. A. TARR, long term.
L. C. HOOPER, short term.

ROOSEVELT.

Roosevelt has no use for a disloyal man. He believes in the flag and that which the flag represents, and has no patience with the fellow who would lower "Old Glory."

FORAKER.

Foraker is evidently all right in his support of the administration, and he asserts that there is but one side at the present time for any loyal or patriotic man. Is this much comfort to the grannies?

UP TO COUNCIL.

The people having, by a vote of ten to one, voted to issue $20,000 of bonds for the purchase of the Bradshaw site for Mr. Carnegie's $50,000 public library, the further arrangements are now in the hands of council. The preliminaries for the sale of the bonds, and the selection of a library committee are scheduled for tonight's session. It is to be hoped that there will be no breaks such as occurred in the sale of the sewer bonds. For once council ought to brace up and try not to disgrace the city in concluding the negotiations with Mr. Carnegie.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO.

VOTING PLACES.

There seems to have been more or less misunderstanding about polling places at Saturday's election. The law requires that there shall be a voting place in each ward. This was provided and as a result the East End was left without a polling place, the First ward polls being at Hall's lumber yard. The question has arisen whether the new Fifth ward has not been in legal existence since September 1, and if that was so then the East End was entitled to a polling place for the new ward. It has now been decided that the Fifth ward was in existence, although there will be no ward election until spring. However, the failure to have a polling place

BE SOMETHING.

Yes, represent something. Be for or against. Don't be a thing—a nonentity, nothing. Fling your flag to the breeze. If you are an advocate of the liquor league and the saloon, come out boldly and let the world know it. Don't pretend to be a good man, a good citizen, a law-observing and law-abiding voter, and then, on the sly, advocate and vote for that which you know to be evil and vile. Don't laugh at this and imagine yourself too crafty and clever to be caught in your trickery and cunning. Smarter and more cunning and much craftier men have tested this feature, and have been forced to recognize the truth of the trite old quotation: "Be SURE thy sin will find thee out." Don't enact the part of a coward and act as do the proprietors of some of the journals in this city, who pray "good Lord and good devil," and who dare not advocate any party or any cause, fearful of losing a dollar by being a man. Be something. Represent something.

More goods received this week of our big purchase from the celebrated make of Goldsmith, Joseph, Feiss & Co. Joseph Bros. will save to buyers many dollars.

CALIFORNIA POTTERY

Parties Are Trying to Buy the Plant,

BUT SAY $7,000 IS TOO MUCH

The Plant and Three Acres Can Be Purchased at a Much Lower Figure, as the $7,000 Includes Eleven Acres That Are Not Needed.

There is a deal now on foot in this city to purchase the California pottery now held by the First National bank. Overtures have been made to the bank to purchase the plant, but they want $7,000 for the property. This price has been considered too high by those who want the plant and if a lower quotation is made the property will be bought outright.

There has been no company formed yet, but four men are interested in the concern, one of them being employed at present by the Cleveland and Pittsburg company, the others in the uptown potteries. Some action may be taken by the men before the first of the month.

The plant will be thoroughly overhauled if purchased. A new boiler and engine will be purchased and a new packing shed built.

NOT THAT MUCH.

The Pottery and Three Acres Can Be Bought For Less Than $7,000.

If the parties desire to go into the pottery business they can purchase the plant and three acres of ground, upon which are located the gas well and dwelling house, at a considerably lower figure than $7,000. There are 11 more acres in the tract, but they are not necessary for pottery purposes unless the parties who buy the plant desire to go into the real estate business. The $7,000 price includes the plant and 14 acres of land, which is a very low figure.

DIRECTORS WERE HERE.

They Were Looking For Thomas Diddle, Who Is Needed as a Reference.

Infirmary Directors Tarr and McBride were in the city yesterday looking for Thomas Diddle. Ida McElroy is ill at her home in Racine, Meigs county, with typhoid fever and it was claimed she was a resident of this county. Diddle was given as a reference, and it was found that Miss McElroy had only been in the county 11 months before she went home, therefore she is not a resident here and this county will not have to keep her.

LIBRARY HAS FUNDS.

Secretary Brownfield Receives a Warrant For $483.96 From Clerk Hill.

C. W. Brownfield, secretary of the library, has received from Clerk W. B. Hill a warrant for $483.96, the balance due the library from the board of education. The total amount received from the board this year is $967.92.

Excursion to East Palestine.

Oct. 3, 4 and 5 low rate non-transferable excursion tickets will be sold from East Liverpool to East Palestine for the fair. Good returning until Oct. 6. *

Why pay $10 for a double faced overcoat when you can purchase same overcoat at Joseph Bros. for $7?

Motormen Want an Increase of Two Cents an Hour

AND MANAGER HEALY DECLINES

Saying Business at Present Would Not Justify Him in Acceding to Their Request--The Men Will Hold a Meeting to Consider His Reply.

Last Saturday evening the motormen and conductors of the street railway company held a meeting in their room in East End and decided to ask the street railway company for 20 cents an hour instead of 18 cents as is now being paid. A committee composed of C. A. Allison, Samuel Kerr and O. L. Baker was appointed to confer with Manager Healy and request the advance. Mr. Healy was seen yesterday morning by the committee and after the request had been made said the present business did not justify him in granting the increase. A meeting will be held the last of the week, when the committee will make a report of their conference with the management.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Z. B. Kinsey spent the day in Georgetown.

—Edward Blackburn left at noon for a stay in Lisbon.

—W. A. Hill left at noon for a short stay in Moravia, Pa.

—Miss Lizzie Copestick is visiting friends in New Brighton.

—Charles D. Carter, a prominent musician of Pittsburg, was in the city today calling on acquaintances.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Fisher, who have been spending several weeks in the south, returned to the city yesterday.

—George B. Landis, of Cleveland, state educational secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, will be in the city for three days next week.

—John Kennedy returned yesterday to his home in East Palestine after spending Sunday in the city. His wife will spend several days here visiting friends.

—Henry J. Dake, representing Autenreith & Sons, Allegheny City, was an East Liverpool visitor today, purchasing pottery supplies from various establishments in our city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutes, of Lisbon, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lyme, of East Liverpool, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Casselman over Sunday.—Alliance Review.

—Rev. George C. Sweezy, of Westfield, N. Y., stopped off in this city last night. He was a guest of Rev. John Lloyd Lee, they having studied together while attending college.

—Dr. Frank Kerr and brother, Andy Kerr, left today for Pittsburg, where Doctor Kerr will assume charge of the practice of Doctor Kfrk for a few weeks. He will then engage in business for himself in Pittsburg. He has many friends in the city who will wish him much success.

THE MAYOR WAS BUSY

He Had Numerous Cases to Care For.

THE TOTAL LIST OF OFFENDERS

Was Jim Sharp, Michael Maloney, Jimmie O'Rourke, Sarah McCormick, Ella McConnell, Cordelia Crooks, Frank Ward, Ed McShane, Sherley Coleman and Ed Dinerstein.

Every time Jim Sharp visits the home of his father there is trouble, and yesterday was no exception to the rule. Jim went home yesterday, and as a result of his visit he was arrested by Officer Grim for using some very bad language. His escapade cost him $9.60, and he paid the amount. Jim has not been a visitor to the mayor's court for several months, and has been working very steadily.

was very drunk when Officer White found him yesterday afternoon in the rear of M. J. Cloran's saloon. He had a cut on the top of his head, and it was claimed that he had a watch and chain and some money during the day, but they were missing when White got him. He was questioned in regard to the matter, but was so drunk that he didn't even know his own name and couldn't tell anything about the articles. He was released early this morning so he could go to work, and will call at the mayor's office this evening and settle for his drunk.

Sarah McCormick

called at the mayor's office last evening and entered a plea of guilty upon a charge made by William E. Chambers. She acknowledged that she swept dust on Mary Wright and hit her with the broom, and it cost her $9.60 which she paid.

HALF SISTERS FIGHT.

Ella McConnell and Cordelia Crooks Had a Scrap Sept. 18.

Ella McConnell and Cordelia Crooks, who are half sisters, had an altercation over an old score at the corner of Second and Market streets Sept. 18. There were some words and then they went at it in good shape and Cordelia retreated to the office of the mayor, where she exhibited a few scratches and entered a complaint against Ella for using abusive, profane language and fighting. She acknowledged that she had also used some abusive language and taken part in the fight and Mayor Bough warned her that Ella might retaliate but that made no difference to Cordelia. Last night Officer Davidson arrested Ella and she at once pleaded guilty and paid $7.60 but made a similar charge against Cordelia and she will be arrested. There is not much chance that she will plead not guilty as the mayor has already heard her story.

THE WRONG MAN.

Jimmie O'Rourke Hit David Brooks With an Apple Back of the Ear.

Yesterday as David Brooks, the colored expressman, was driving up Lisbon street he was somewhat shocked when the hard side of an apple struck him back of the ear. He made complaint to Mayor Bough and Jimmie O'Rourke was arrested by Davidson. Jimmie acknowledged that he had thrown one apple, but said he thought Brooks was "Doc" Headley, upon whom he wanted to get revenge, as Headley had been teasing him. The mayor gave him a lecture and let him go upon the promise that he would apologize to Brooks.

MAYOR BOUGH

Has a Private Interview With Several West End Small Boys.

This morning Frank Ward, Edward McShane, Sherley Coleman and Eddie Dinerstein called on the mayor. For several days Rev. B. M. Carson and family have been annoyed by small boys knocking at their front door and one day somebody threw a stone against the door. The boys all claimed they were innocent, and as there was no evidence they were turned loose. Mayor Bough says Dinerstein is at the head of the gang and plans all the mischief.

A SALOON WAS RAIDED

Officer White Made a Capture Last Night

AT THE PLACE OF BILLY MORROW

He Saw Two Women Enter the Saloon At 11 O'clock and Watched the Place Until After 2 O'clock This Morning—His Efforts Were Rewarded, but He Had to Pry the Door Open.

Last night about 11:20 o'clock Officer White saw two women go in the back door to the saloon of William E. Morrow, Sixth street. He watched for a short time and then secured Officers Grim, Whan and Woods and Colin Kinsey and George Bettridge and they surrounded the place.

At 2:30 this morning Officer White pried the door open and found the two women without much trouble, but James Walters was hid under a bill board and Morrow was also in hiding.

When the girls appeared before Mayor Bough this afternoon they gave their names as Florence Cavanaugh and Mame Caruthers and were fined $19.60 each, which they paid. The names given are fictitious, and one of the women is said to be married and resides in Wells-ville, while the other is her sister and comes from Braddock, Pa.

Morrow and Walters will get their hearing tomorrow.

THE MAYOR WAS BUSY

He Had Numerous Cases to Care For.

THE TOTAL LIST OF OFFENDERS

Was Jim Sharp, Michael Maloney, Jimmie O'Rourke, Sarah McCormick, Ella McConnell, Cordelia Crooks, Frank Ward, Ed McShane, Shirley Coleman and Ed Dinerstein.

Every time Jim Sharp visits the home of his father there is trouble, and yesterday was no exception to the rule. Jim went home yesterday, and as a result of his visit he was arrested by Officer Grim for using some very bad language. His escapade cost him $9.60, and he paid the amount. Jim has not been a visitor to the mayor's court for several months, and has been working very steadily.

Michael Maloney

was very drunk when Officer White found him yesterday afternoon in the rear of M. J. Cloran's saloon. He had a cut on the top of his head, and it was claimed that he had a watch and chain and some money during the day, but they were missing when White got him. He was questioned in regard to the matter, but was so drunk that he didn't even know his own name and couldn't tell anything about the articles. He was released early this morning so he could go to work, and will call at the mayor's office this evening and settle for his drunk.

Sarah McCormick

called at the mayor's office last evening and entered a plea of guilty upon a charge made by William E. Chambers. She acknowledged that she swept dust on Mary Wright and hit her with the broom, and it cost her $9.60 which she paid.

HALF SISTERS FIGHT.

Ella McConnell and Cordelia Crooks Had a Scrap Sept. 18.

Ella McConnell and Cordelia Crooks, who are half sisters, had an altercation over an old score at the corner of Second and Market streets Sept. 18. There were some words and then they went at it in good shape and Cordelia retreated to the office of the mayor, where she exhibited a few scratches and entered a complaint against Ella for using abusive, profane language and fighting. She acknowledged that she had also used some abusive language and taken part in the fight and Mayor Bough warned her that Ella might retaliate but that made no difference to Cordelia. Last night Officer Davidson arrested Ella and she at once pleaded guilty and paid $7.60 but made a similar charge against Cordelia and she will be arrested. There is not much chance that she will plead not guilty as the mayor has already heard her story.

THE WRONG MAN.

Jimmie O'Rourke Hit David Brooks With an Apple Back of the Ear.

Yesterday as David Brooks, the colored expressman, was driving up Lisbon street he was somewhat shocked when the hard side of an apple struck him back of the ear. He made complaint to Mayor Bough and Jimmie O'Rourke was arrested by Davidson. Jimmie acknowledged that he had thrown one apple, but said he thought Brooks was "Doc" Headley, upon whom he wanted to get revenge, as Headley had been teasing him. The mayor gave him a lecture and let him go upon the promise that he would apologize to Brooks.

MAYOR BOUGH

Has a Private Interview With Several West End Small Boys.

This morning Frank Ward, Edward McShane, Shirley Coleman and Eddie Dinerstein called on the mayor. For several days Rev. B. M. Carson and family have been annoyed by small boys knocking at their front door and one day somebody threw a stone against the door. The boys all claimed they were innocent, and as there was no evidence they were turned loose. Mayor Bough says Dinerstein is at the head of the gang and plans all the mischief.

A SALOON WAS RAIDED

Officer White Made a Capture Last Night

AT THE PLACE OF BILLY MORROW

He Saw Two Women Enter the Saloon After 11 O'clock and Watched the Place Until After 2 O'clock This Morning—His Efforts Were Rewarded, but He Had to Pry the Door Open.

Last night about 11:30 o'clock Officer White saw two women go in the back door to the saloon of William E. Morrow, Sixth street. He watched for a short time and then secured Officers Grim, Whan and Woods and Colin Kinsey and George Bettridge and they surrounded the place.

At 2:30 this morning Officer White pried the door open and found the two women without much trouble, but James Walters was hid under a bill board and Morrow was also in hiding.

When the girls appeared before Mayor Bough this afternoon they gave their names as Florence Cavanaugh and Mame Caruthers and were fined $19.60 each, which they paid. The names given are fictitious, and one of the women is said to be married and resides in Wells-ville, while the other is her sister and comes from Braddock, Pa.

Morrow and Walters will get their hearing tomorrow.

Rumor is rife that a prominent professional man was in the saloon at the time of the raid, and that he was hidden away in a very undesirable location, eventually succeeding in escaping, but by a very narrow margin. Investigation gave no confirmation of this yarn.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another - Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government - Tariffs on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The Philippines completely fill the stage. During the war with Spain and for a year or two previous to that Cuba was the place outside our own territorial limits to which the eyes of Americans were principally turned. Now the newspaper correspondents have practically all deserted Havana, and Cuba has become an old story.

The president and his advisers, however, still find in Cuban affairs much that demands their closest study. The present relation of the United States to Cuba is almost without a parallel in the history of dependent governments. The relation of England to Egypt was originally something like our present relation to Cuba, and perhaps our guardianship may develop in the same way. At present the administration regards Cuba as on a totally different basis from Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. Our government is bound by the Teller resolution and by the treaty of peace to establish an independent government in Cuba, and then if the people of that island of their own free will desire annexation to the United States that is another matter. The American people, too, might have something to say about it. But Mr. McKinley feels that he is not justified now in assuming anything more than that the American policy is to try to prepare Cuba for self government, and this may be interpreted as including independence if the Cubans really want it.

While this is the fundamental theory upon which the administration is acting, it is deeply impressed with the necessity of proceeding toward local self government with great deliberation. The task of setting up an autonomous government in Cuba will not be easy. The Spaniards there still hate the Cubans and the Cubans the Spaniards. The Cubans are, moreover, divided between the Autonomists, those who were willing to accept General Blanco's autonomy scheme, and the Radicals, whose sympathies were with the Cuban army. Almost anything which the United States might do now toward advancing local government would be interpreted as benefiting one race or faction or the other. It is hoped that in time the different elements of the population will realize that they have a common interest and so be more easy to harmonize.

When the time comes to act, local government will probably be introduced by degrees. Municipal autonomy, many of the president's best advisers say, should come first. Self government might then, after it has been found successful in the cities, be made applicable to the provinces. Some provinces will be ready for it earlier than others perhaps, and lastly an autonomous government might be given to the island at large. That this will be the logical course is indicated by the fact that most of the culture and the property interests are centered in the cities. With a suitable limitation of the suffrage it would be possible to get an electorate which would be fairly able to manage municipal affairs.

The limitations of the suffrage will doubtless be property and educational. The property qualification, many persons argue, should be based upon the amount of income, for Cuban incomes are likely to be pretty small for many years to come. A moderate sized one, however, might be offered as a substitute for landed possessions. Such restrictions, property and educational, would leave within the limits of citizenship the better classes of Cubans and Spaniards. It would shut out the negroes and the lower strata of country farmers.

A certain percentage of the Cuban army, perhaps one-fourth upon a reasonable test, would come within the suffrage lines. It is not the belief of the president's advisers just now that it would be safe to go much further than this in extending the suffrage upon which the gradual development of self government is to rest. Of course this same body of voters would be the one ultimately to pass upon the question of annexation, and the real interests of the island, it is felt, could not with safety be committed to all its inhabitants.

Some misunderstanding exists here as to the extent to which the Cubans are now participating in the government of the island. It has been said in criticism that the Havana postoffice and custom house are filled with Americans. This is true only to the extent that these establishments are the central offices for the whole island in the postal and customs service respectively. In the local postoffice and the local custom house three-fourths of the employees are Cubans. Practically all of the Havana police force are Cubans. So are the local municipal officers, including the mayor. To be sure, they are appointed by General Ludlow instead of being elected by popular vote, but this does not seem to make much difference to the Cubans. They are excessively fond of holding office and do not care so much how they get it.

The Cubans want a tariff system of their own. They think the interests of the island should be solely considered. Their tobacco has a reputation which they do not wish injured by the free entry of Porto Rican tobacco, which would be mixed with it, and all would go out of the island as Cuban. This arrangement they resent. In the matter of coffee they do not care so much, since there is comparatively little coffee culture in Cuba, but they do not want their customs system arranged to accommodate Porto Rico. They think that that island should look to the United States for its market.

SOUTHERN PINE LANDS.

Large Sales at From $5 to $15 an Acre.

From time to time during the past year attention has been called to the large purchases of yellow pine land which were being made in the Louisiana and Mississippi timber belt by lumbermen from the northwest, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The tendency toward that kind of investment seems to be steadily on the increase, and all through the summer and fall a continuous stream of buyers and their agents and representatives have sojourned briefly in New Orleans. Enormous tracts have been acquired at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre. It is an undeniable fact that the pine districts of the northwest are being rapidly "cut out," and the date of their exhaustion is a matter of easy computation. This, taken in connection with the remarkable boom in lumber, makes it highly probable that a good deal of the timber land buying which has been recently going on has been of a speculative character. It is said on good authority that much of the property acquired has been bought with money borrowed on the standing trees, and in several instances the loans were actually larger than the price paid for the land.

In this connection Manager J. A. Blaffer of the New Orleans Progressive union tells an interesting story. "Not long ago," he said, "I met a very agreeable gentleman who is in the sawmill business in Minnesota. He came here for the purpose of buying a large tract of yellow pine land, and in the course of conversation it developed that his personal capital, which was not especially great, was tied up in his business in the northwest. I then asked him frankly where he got the money for such a deal as he had in progress. He laughed. 'I have no trouble about that,' he replied. 'I simply send a surveyor down here, and he makes an accurate report on the exact quantity of standing timber. Meanwhile my lawyers have looked into the matter of title, and I then go to the bank and put up the timber as collateral. They are glad to let me have all the money I need.' I expressed some surprise, and he answered me there was nothing unusual about the transaction. 'Any man with a straight record,' he said, 'can borrow whatever he needs on Louisiana pine.'"

Shipping Coffee in Chunks.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

EXPOSITION EXCURSIONS

For rates, tickets, time of trains and other details about the reduced fares, please apply to the nearest ticket agent of the Pennsylvania lines.

Vacation Trips.

The Pennsylvania lines extend direct to places of summer sojourn along the Atlantic Ocean. Atlantic City, Cape May, Asbury Park Long Branch and resorts on the New Jersey coast are seashore terminals of the Pennsylvania system. Newport, Narragansett and summer havens in New England are reached over the Pennsylvania route via New York. The Adirondacks, White Mountains, Catskills and mountain retreats of the east are also reached through New York. Resorts in the Alleghenies are located upon the Pennsylvania route and may be reached via Pittsburg without changing car. The Pennsylvania lines also lead to resorts in Michigan and the lake region through three gateways: Cleveland, Toledo and Fort Wayne. Full information about rates, through time of trains and the convenient manner in which summer resorts may be reached will be cheerfully furnished upon application to local passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or by addressing J. K. Dillon, D. P. Agt., Pittsburg Pa.

New Sunday Trains.

Forcible Proof.

"What was your father whipping you for last night?" asked one small boy of another.
"Oh," replied the other, "we had an argument about my Sunday school lesson, and he was proving to me that the whale actually did swallow Jonah."—Troy Times.

Small kindnesses, small courtesies, small considerations, habitually practiced in our social intercourse, give a greater charm to the character than the display of great talents and accomplishments.—M. A. Kelly.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

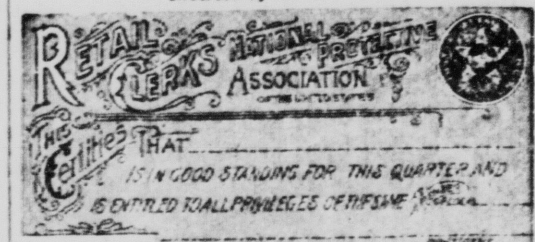

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailors Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHING.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. CUBA AND HER FUTURE.

Careful Study by the President and His Advisers.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another—Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government—Tariff on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. CUBA AND HER FUTURE.

Careful Study by the President and His Advisers.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another—Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government—Tariff on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The Philippines completely fill the stage. During the war with Spain and for a year or two previous to that Cuba was the place outside our own territorial limits to which the eyes of Americans were principally turned. Now the newspaper correspondents have practically all deserted Havana, and Cuba has become an old story.

The president and his advisers, however, still find in Cuban affairs much that demands their closest study. The present relation of the United States to Cuba is almost without a parallel in the history of dependent governments. The relation of England to Egypt was originally something like our present relation to Cuba, and perhaps our guardianship may develop in the same way. At present the administration regards Cuba as on a totally different basis from Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. Our government is bound by the Teller resolution and by the treaty of peace to establish an independent government in Cuba, and then if the people of that island of their own free will desire annexation to the United States that is another matter. The American people, too, might have something to say about it. But Mr. McKinley feels that he is not justified now in assuming anything more than that the American policy is to try to prepare Cuba for self government, and this may be interpreted as including independence if the Cubans really want it.

While this is the fundamental theory upon which the administration is acting, it is deeply impressed with the necessity of proceeding toward local self government with great deliberation. The task of setting up an autonomous government in Cuba will not be easy. The Spaniards there still hate the Cubans and the Cubans the Spaniards. The Cubans are, moreover, divided between the Autonomists, those who were willing to accept General Blanco's autonomy scheme, and the Radicals, whose sympathies were with the Cuban army. Almost anything which the United States might do now toward advancing local government would be interpreted as benefiting one race or faction or the other. It is hoped that in time the different elements of the population will realize that they have a common interest and so be more easy to harmonize.

When the time comes to act, local government will probably be introduced by degrees. Municipal autonomy, many of the president's best advisers say, should come first. Self government might then, after it has been found successful in the cities, be made applicable to the provinces. Some provinces will be ready for it earlier than others perhaps, and lastly an autonomous government might be given to the island at large. That this will be the logical course is indicated by the fact that most of the culture and the property interests are centered in the cities. With a suitable limitation of the suffrage it would be possible to get an electorate which would be fairly able to manage municipal affairs.

The limitations of the suffrage will doubtless be property and educational. The property qualification, many persons argue, should be based upon the amount of income, for Cuban incomes are likely to be pretty small for many years to come. A moderate sized one, however, might be offered as a substitute for landed possessions. Such restrictions, property and educational, would leave within the limits of citizenship the better classes of Cubans and Spaniards. It would shut out the negroes and the lower strata of country farmers.

A certain percentage of the Cuban army, perhaps one-fourth upon a reasonable test, would come within the suffrage lines. It is not the belief of the president's advisers just now that it would be safe to go much further than this in extending the suffrage upon which the gradual development of self government is to rest. Of course this same body of voters would be the one ultimately to pass upon the question of annexation, and the real interests of the island, it is felt, could not with safety be committed to all its inhabitants.

Some misunderstanding exists here as to the extent to which the Cubans are now participating in the government of the island. It has been said in criticism that the Havana postoffice and custom house are filled with Americans. This is true only to the extent that these establishments are the central offices for the whole island in the postal and customs service respectively. In the local postoffice and the local custom house three-fourths of the employees are Cubans. Practically all of the Havana police force are Cubans. So are the local municipal officers, including the mayor. To be sure, they are appointed by General Ludlow instead of being elected by popular vote, but this does not seem to make much difference to the Cubans. They are excessively fond of holding office and do not care so much how they get it.

The Cubans want a tariff system of their own. They think the interests of the island should be solely considered. Their tobacco has a reputation which they do not wish injured by the free entry of Porto Rican tobacco, which would be mixed with it, and all would go out of the island as Cuban. This arrangement they resent. In the matter of coffee they do not care so much, since there is comparatively little coffee culture in Cuba, but they do not want their customs system arranged to accommodate Porto Rico. They think that that island should look to the United States for its market.

SOUTHERN PINE LANDS.

Large Sales at From $5 to $15 an Acre.

From time to time during the past year attention has been called to the large purchases of yellow pine land which were being made in the Louisiana and Mississippi timber belt by lumbermen from the northwest, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The tendency toward that kind of investment seems to be steadily on the increase, and all through the summer and fall a continuous stream of buyers and their agents and representatives have sojourned briefly in New Orleans. Enormous tracts have been acquired at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre. It is an undeniable fact that the pine districts of the northwest are being rapidly "cut out," and the date of their exhaustion is a matter of easy computation. This, taken in connection with the remarkable boom in lumber, makes it highly probable that a good deal of the timber land buying which has been recently going on has been of a speculative character. It is said on good authority that much of the property acquired has been bought with money borrowed on the standing trees, and in several instances the loans were actually larger than the price paid for the land.

In this connection Manager J. A. Blaffer of the New Orleans Progressive union tells an interesting story. "Not long ago," he said, "I met a very agreeable gentleman who is in the sawmill business in Minnesota. He came here for the purpose of buying a large tract of yellow pine land, and in the course of conversation it developed that his personal capital, which was not especially great, was tied up in his business in the northwest. I then asked him frankly where he got the money for such a deal as he had in progress. He laughed. 'I have no trouble about that,' he replied. 'I simply send a surveyor down here, and he makes an accurate report on the exact quantity of standing timber. Meanwhile my lawyers have looked into the matter of title, and I then go to the bank and put up the timber as collateral. They are glad to let me have all the money I need.' I expressed some surprise, and he answered me there was nothing unusual about the transaction. 'Any man with a straight record,' he said, 'can borrow whatever he needs on Louisiana pine.'"

OOM PAUL'S PEOPLE.

New Points About the Character of the Boers.

KRUGER A KING IN RURAL GARB.

A Look at the Best Side of the Boers. Hospitable, Though Dirty — Why Civilization Is Backward — Not Wholly Incorruptible — Hatred of the British.

A timely and instructive book entitled "Oom Paul's People," is being brought out by D. Appleton & Co. The author, Howard C. Hillegas, sympathizes with the Transvaal republic. The author reports a personal interview which he had with President Kruger that throws considerable light on the Boer side of the dispute with the uitlanders, and then he goes on to tell many interesting things about the personality of the man:

"President Kruger impresses one as being a king in the garb of a farmer, a genius in a dunce's cap. At first sight he would be mistaken for an awkward countryman, with 'store clothes' and a silk hat intended for some one else. His frock coat is far too small to reach around his corpulent body, and his trousers seem to have a natural antipathy for his shoes. He wears no cuffs, and the presence of a collar and tie may be determined only by drawing aside the natural curtain formed by his whiskers. He is uncouth in his manner, but he has great natural attractiveness, gained by a long life among hunters in the wilds.

"President Kruger is short in stature, measuring less than 5 feet 7 inches. His head and body are large and fat, but his legs are thin and short. His head is just a trifle longer than broad, and almost fits the English definition of 'square head.' The small eyes are surmounted by bushy, white eyebrows, which extend half an inch beyond his forehead. When he is not sitting for a photograph, his hair is not so neatly arranged as it appears in the well known pictures, but hangs loosely down over his wide forehead, except when, with a hasty swish of the hand, he brushes it aside. The hair is nearly white, and hangs over the sides of his head in long tresses, which cover both his ears. When he smiles, the big fat circles above his cheeks are pushed upward and shut his small gray eyes from view. But when pleased the president generally laughs hilariously, and then his eyes remain closed for the greater part of a minute. The mouth is wide and ungainly. The constant use of a heavy pipe has caused a deep depression on the left side of his lower lip, and this gives the whole mouth the appearance of being unbalanced. His chin is large and prominent, and his ears correspond relatively in size and symmetry with his face. When in repose, his features are not pleasant to look upon, but when lighted up by a smile they become rather attractive and generally cause his laughter to become contagious among his hearers."

From President Kruger to his people is an easy step, and Mr. Hillegas brings to the consideration of this topic the same resolve to bring out the man's best points. He says:

"The wholesale slander and misrepresentation with which the Boers of South Africa have been pursued cannot be outlived by them in a hundred years. It originated when the British forces took possession of the Cape of Good Hope, and it has continued with unabated vigor ever since. The Boer's habits and mode of life are similar to those of the American ranchman, and in reality there is not much difference between the two except that the latter is not so far removed from civilization. Physically the Boers are the equals if not the superiors of their old time enemy the Zulus. It would be difficult to find anywhere an entire race of such physical giants as the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. If an average height of all the full grown males in the country were taken, it would be found to be not less than 6 feet 2 inches and probably more. Their physique, notwithstanding their comparatively idle mode of living, is magnificently developed. With the Boer, his religion is his first and uppermost thought. The Old Testament is the pattern which he strives to follow. His religious temperament is portrayed in almost every sentence he utters, and his repetition of Biblical parables and sayings is a custom which so impresses itself upon the mind of the stranger that it is but natural that those who are unacquainted with the Boer should declare it a sure sign of his hypocrisy. He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. The Boer homestead is as unpretentious as its owner. Generally it is a low one story stone structure, with a steep tile roof and a small annex in the rear, which is used as a kitchen. The door is on a level with the ground, and four windows afford all the light that is required in the four square rooms in the interior. A dining room and three bedrooms suffice for a family, however large. The floors are of hardened clay, liberally coated with manure, which is designed to ward off the pestiferous insects that swarm over the plains. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

"The Boer of today is a creature of circumstance. He is outstripped because he has had no opportunities for development. Driven from Cape Colony, where he was rapidly developing a national character, he was compelled to wander into lands that offered no opportunities of any description. He has been cut off for almost a hundred years from an older and more energetic civilization, and even from his neighbors; it is no wonder that he is a century behind the van. No other civilized race on earth has been handicapped in such a manner, and if there had been one it is a matter for conjecture whether it would have held its own, as the Boer has done, or whether it would have fallen to the level of the savage."

Lobbyists seem to be as perniciously active there as here. Mr. Hillegas seems inclined to blame them for the corruptibility of the Boer statesmen, rather than the corruptibility of the statesmen for the existence of the lobbyist. He says:

"Every train from Johannesburg, the uitlander capital, takes to Pretoria scores of lobbyists, who use all their powers, both of persuasion and finance, to influence the minds of the legislators, either in the way of granting valuable concessions for small considerations or of securing the passage of bills favorable to the lobbyists. It is no wonder that the uitlanders declare that less than one-fourth of the raad members are unassailably honest and that all others can be bribed. The Boer alone is not blameworthy who, having never possessed more than $100 at one time, yields to the constant importunities of the lobbyist and sells his vote for several thousand dollars."

However, Mr. Hillegas makes out a good case for his proteges. He says, speaking of the first arrivals of uitlanders in the Transvaal, attracted by the discovery of gold:

"The natural contempt which the Englishmen, who compose the majority of the uitlander population, always have for persons and races not their intellectual or social equals soon created a gulf between the Boers and the newcomers. This line of cleavage was extended when the newcomers attempted to obtain a foothold in the politics of the country. The Boers, who had been suddenly outnumbered three to one, naturally resented the interference, especially as it came from persons who had no desire to become permanent residents of the country and who wanted a voice in the conduct of the national affairs only as a means to attain their own ends, without caring about the welfare of the entire republic."

"One example is sufficient to show the conduct of the uitlanders toward the Boers, but thousands could be given. President Kruger journeyed to Johannesburg in order to learn from the newcomers what his government might do to improve the industry. A crowd met Mr. Kruger and after rude remarks on his personal appearance sang 'God Save the Queen.' Later the Transvaal flag was torn down from a staff in front of the house in which the president was conferring with leading residents of the city.

"Of the million white people south of the Zambezi, probably half are mere fortune seekers, who would leave the country the very instant they secured a moderate fortune. These have the welfare of the country at heart only in so far as it interferes or assists them in attaining their desired goal. They would ask that Portugal be allowed to rule all of South Africa if they received the assurance that the much sought after fortune could be secured six months sooner. The question of granting the right of voting to the uitlanders in the Transvaal is one which so vitally affects the future life of the government that the Boers' concession of that right would be tantamount to presenting the country to the British government."

Teachers and Stationery.

A remarkable charge has been made against the public schoolteachers of Washington by the board of directors of the Business Men's association. As in most cities, the teachers are enabled to get stationery and similar articles at wholesale rates. It is charged that they have gone into the stationery business, purchasing these articles in large quantities and making customers of their pupils, to whom, of course, they sell at the regular retail figures. This evil is said to have reached such proportions as to injure the stationery trade in the city, and has been brought to the attention of the Business Men's association. The board of directors has passed a resolution condemning the schoolteachers for the practice and is trying to get the district commissioners to put a stop to it.

Fighting Department Stores.

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical association recently tried to induce the company which makes a certain well known proprietary preparation not to sell to department stores or anybody who would undersell the regular retail druggist. The company declined, and the association has arranged a boycott among its own members, so that hardly a retail druggist in Kentucky now sells the article in question. Something similar has been done in Pittsburgh. The fight is attracting attention in other places and is likely to be imitated extensively.

Telephoning in New Zealand.

In Nelson, New Zealand, if you use the telephone you must not give the number; you must name the party you want, and the exchange girl will cheerfully tell you whether he is in or out; if latter, where he is and when he will be back.

The NEWS REVIEW has just closed a contract with Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, the famous map publishers, for the EXCLUSIVE sale and distribution of the new Rand McNally

Expansion Atlas

In this city and vicinity.

This is the revised edition and is right up to date. It contains general maps covering every part of the world, complete and accurate, but its special interest is found in the new maps and descriptive matter pertaining to the

New American Colonies,

The Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Manila and vicinity, including a chronology of all the important events of the Spanish-American war.

The Dewey Souvenir,

A handsomely engraved colored plate, containing excellent portraits of Admirals Dewey and Farragut and the American naval commanders in the Orient, forms the frontispiece of the book. In the center is a beautiful picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, showing the position of each of the American and Spanish vessels and the scenery of the bay, drawn from official descriptions.

Photographs

Of the leading American war ships and portraits of all the presidents are also shown. All the maps are fully and completely indexed so that it is possible in a moment to find any place desired. Population, area and other interesting information is given briefly and accurately up to date.

The map showing how the United States have expanded since the foundation of this government is one of the most valuable features of the book, as it shows

He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. The Boer homestead is as unpretentious as its owner. Generally it is a low one story stone structure, with a steep tile roof and a small annex in the rear, which is used as a kitchen. The door is on a level with the ground, and four windows afford all the light that is required in the four square rooms in the interior. A dining room and three bedrooms suffice for a family, however large. The floors are of hardened clay, liberally coated with manure, which is designed to ward off the pestiferous insects that swarm over the plains. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

"The Boer of today is a creature of circumstance. He is outstripped because he has had no opportunities for development. Driven from Cape Colony, where he was rapidly developing a national character, he was compelled to wander into lands that offered no opportunities of any description. He has been cut off for almost a hundred years from an older and more energetic civilization, and even from his neighbors; it is no wonder that he is a century behind the van. No other civilized race on earth has been handicapped in such a manner, and if there had been one it is a matter for conjecture whether it would have held its own, as the Boer has done, or whether it would have fallen to the level of the savage."

Lobbyists seem to be as perniciously active there as here. Mr. Hillegas seems inclined to blame them for the corruptibility of the Boer statesmen, rather than the corruptibility of the statesmen for the existence of the lobbyist. He says:

"Every train from Johannesburg, the uitlander capital, takes to Pretoria scores of lobbyists, who use all their powers, both of persuasion and finance, to influence the minds of the legislators, either in the way of granting valuable concessions for small considerations or of securing the passage of bills favorable to the lobbyists. It is no wonder that the uitlanders declare that less than one-fourth of the raad members are unassailably honest and that all others can be bribed. The Boer alone is not blameworthy who, having never possessed more than $100 at one time, yields to the constant importunities of the lobbyist and sells his vote for several thousand dollars."

However, Mr. Hillegas makes out a good case for his proteges. He says, speaking of the first arrivals of uitlanders in the Transvaal, attracted by the discovery of gold:

"The natural contempt which the Englishmen, who compose the majority of the uitlander population, always have for persons and races not their intellectual or social equals soon created a gulf between the Boers and the newcomers. This line of cleavage was extended when the newcomers attempted to obtain a foothold in the politics of the country. The Boers, who had been suddenly outnumbered three to one, naturally resented the interference, especially as it came from persons who had no desire to become permanent residents of the country and who wanted a voice in the conduct of the national affairs only as a means to attain their own ends, without caring about the welfare of the entire republic.

"One example is sufficient to show the conduct of the uitlanders toward the Boers, but thousands could be given. President Kruger journeyed to Johannesburg in order to learn from the newcomers what his government might do to improve the industry. A crowd met Mr. Kruger and after rude remarks on his personal appearance sang 'God Save the Queen.' Later the Transvaal flag was torn down from a staff in front of the house in which the president was conferring with leading residents of the city.

"Of the million white people south of the Zambezi, probably half are mere fortune seekers, who would leave the country the very instant they secured a moderate fortune. These have the welfare of the country at heart only in so far as it interferes or assists them in attaining their desired goal. They would ask that Portugal be allowed to rule all of South Africa if they received the assurance that the much sought after fortune could be secured six months sooner. The question of granting the right of voting to the uitlanders in the Transvaal is one which so vitally affects the future life of the government that the Boers' concession of that right would be tantamount to presenting the country to the British government."

Teachers and Stationery.

A remarkable charge has been made against the public schoolteachers of Washington by the board of directors of the Business Men's association. As in most cities, the teachers are enabled to get stationery and similar articles at wholesale rates. It is charged that they have gone into the stationery business, purchasing these articles in large quantities and making customers of their pupils, to whom, of course, they sell at the regular retail figures. This evil is said to have reached such proportions as to injure the stationery trade in the city, and has been brought to the attention of the Business Men's association. The board of directors has passed a resolution condemning the schoolteachers for the practice and is trying to get the district commissioners to put a stop to it.

Fighting Department Stores.

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical association recently tried to induce the company which makes a certain well known proprietary preparation not to sell to department stores or anybody who would undersell the regular retail druggist. The company declined, and the association has arranged a boycott among its own members, so that hardly a retail druggist in Kentucky now sells the article in question. Something similar has been done in Pittsburgh. The fight is attracting attention in other places and is likely to be imitated extensively.

The NEWS REVIEW has just closed a contract with Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, the famous map publishers, for the EXCLUSIVE sale and distribution of the new Rand McNally

Expansion Atlas

In this city and vicinity.

This is the revised edition and is right up to date. It contains general maps covering every part of the world, complete and accurate, but its special interest is found in the new maps and descriptive matter pertaining to the

New American Colonies,

The Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Manila and vicinity, including a chronology of all the important events of the Spanish-American war.

The Dewey Souvenir,

A handsomely engraved colored plate, containing excellent portraits of Admirals Dewey and Farragut and the American naval commanders in the Orient, forms the frontispiece of the book. In the center is a beautiful picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, showing the position of each of the American and Spanish vessels and the scenery of the bay, drawn from official descriptions.

Photographs

Of the leading American war ships and portraits of all the presidents are also shown. All the maps are fully and completely indexed so that it is possible in a moment to find any place desired. Population, area and other interesting information is given briefly and accurately up to date.

The map showing how the United States have expanded since the foundation of this government is one of the most valuable features of the book, as it shows

OOM PAUL'S PEOPLE.

New Points About the Character of the Boers.

KRUGER A KING IN RURAL GARB.

A Look at the Best Side of the Boers. Hospitable, Though Dirty — Why Civilization Is Backward — Not Wholly Incorruptible — Hatred of the British.

A timely and instructive book entitled "Oom Paul's People," is being brought out by D. Appleton & Co. The author, Howard C. Hillegas, sympathizes with the Transvaal republic. The author reports a personal interview which he had with President Kruger that throws considerable light on the Boer side of the dispute with the uitlanders, and then he goes on to tell many interesting things about the personality of the man:

"President Kruger impresses one as being a king in the garb of a farmer, a genius in a dunce's cap. At first sight he would be mistaken for an awkward countryman, with 'store clothes' and a silk hat intended for some one else. His frock coat is far too small to reach around his corpulent body, and his trousers seem to have a natural antipathy for his shoes. He wears no cuffs, and the presence of a collar and tie may be determined only by drawing aside the natural curtain formed by his whiskers. He is uncouth in his manner, but he has great natural attractiveness, gained by a long life among hunters in the wilds.

"President Kruger is short in stature, measuring less than 5 feet 7 inches. His head and body are large and fat, but his legs are thin and short. His head is just a trifle longer than broad, and almost fits the English definition of 'square head.' The small eyes are surmounted by bushy, white eyebrows, which extend half an inch beyond his forehead. When he is not sitting for a photograph, his hair is not so neatly arranged as it appears in the well known pictures, but hangs loosely down over his wide forehead, except when, with a hasty swish of the hand, he brushes it aside. The hair is nearly white, and hangs over the sides of his head in long tresses, which cover both his ears. When he smiles, the big fat circles above his cheeks are pushed upward and shut his small gray eyes from view. But when pleased the president generally laughs hilariously, and then his eyes remain closed for the greater part of a minute. The mouth is wide and ungainly. The constant use of a heavy pipe has caused a deep depression on the left side of his lower lip, and this gives the whole mouth the appearance of being unbalanced. His chin is large and prominent, and his ears correspond relatively in size and symmetry with his face. When in repose, his features are not pleasant to look upon, but when lighted up by a smile they become rather attractive and generally cause his laughter to become contagious among his hearers."

From President Kruger to his people is an easy step, and Mr. Hillegas brings to the consideration of this topic the same resolve to bring out the man's best points. He says:

"The wholesale slander and misrepresentation with which the Boers of South Africa have been pursued cannot be outlived by them in a hundred years. It originated when the British forces took possession of the Cape of Good Hope, and it has continued with unabated vigor ever since. The Boer's habits and mode of life are similar to those of the American ranchman, and in reality there is not much difference between the two except that the latter is not so far removed from civilization. Physically the Boers are the equals if not the superiors of their old time enemy the Zulus. It would be difficult to find anywhere an entire race of such physical giants as the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. If an average height of all the full grown males in the country were taken, it would be found to be not less than 6 feet 2 inches and probably more. Their physique, notwithstanding their comparatively idle mode of living, is magnificently developed. With the Boer, his religion is his first and uppermost thought. The Old Testament is the pattern which he strives to follow. His religious temperament is portrayed in almost every sentence he utters, and his repetition of Biblical parables and sayings is a custom which so impresses itself upon the mind of the stranger that it is but natural that those who are unacquainted with the Boer should declare it a sure sign of his hypocrisy. He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

CUBA AND HER FUTURE.

Careful Study by the President and His Advisers.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another—Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government—Tariff on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The Philippines completely fill the stage. During the war with Spain and for a year or two previous to that Cuba was the place outside our own territorial limits to which the eyes of Americans were principally turned. Now the newspaper correspondents have practically all deserted Havana, and Cuba has become an old story.

The president and his advisers, however, still find in Cuban affairs much that demands their closest study. The present relation of the United States to Cuba is almost without a parallel in the history of dependent governments. The relation of England to Egypt was originally something like our present relation to Cuba, and perhaps our guardianship may develop in the same way. At present the administration regards Cuba as on a totally different basis from Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. Our government is bound by the Teller resolution and by the treaty of peace to establish an independent government in Cuba, and then if the people of that island of their own free will desire annexation to the United States that is another matter. The American people, too, might have something to say about it. But Mr. McKinley feels that he is not justified now in assuming anything more than that the American policy is to try to prepare Cuba for self government, and this may be interpreted as including independence if the Cubans really want it.

While this is the fundamental theory upon which the administration is acting, it is deeply impressed with the necessity of proceeding toward local self government with great deliberation. The task of setting up an autonomous government in Cuba will not be easy. The Spaniards there still hate the Cubans and the Cubans the Spaniards. The Cubans are, moreover, divided between the Autonomists, those who were willing to accept General Blanco's autonomy scheme, and the Radicals, whose sympathies were with the Cuban army. Almost anything which the United States might do now toward advancing local government would be interpreted as benefiting one race or faction or the other. It is hoped that in time the different elements of the population will realize that they have a common interest and so be more easy to harmonize.

When the time comes to act, local government will probably be introduced by degrees. Municipal autonomy, many of the president's best advisers say, should come first. Self government might then, after it has been found successful in the cities, be made applicable to the provinces. Some provinces will be ready for it earlier than others perhaps, and lastly an autonomous government might be given to the island at large. That this will be the logical course is indicated by the fact that most of the culture and the property interests are centered in the cities. With a suitable limitation of the suffrage it would be possible to get an electorate which would be fairly able to manage municipal affairs.

The limitations of the suffrage will doubtless be property and educational. The property qualification, many persons argue, should be based upon the amount of income, for Cuban incomes are likely to be pretty small for many years to come. A moderate sized one, however, might be offered as a substitute for landed possessions. Such restrictions, property and educational, would leave within the limits of citizenship the better classes of Cubans and Spaniards. It would shut out the negroes and the lower strata of country farmers.

A certain percentage of the Cuban army, perhaps one-fourth upon a reasonable test, would come within the suffrage lines. It is not the belief of the president's advisers just now that it would be safe to go much further than this in extending the suffrage upon which the gradual development of self government is to rest. Of course this same body of voters would be the one ultimately to pass upon the question of annexation, and the real interests of the island, it is felt, could not with safety be committed to all its inhabitants.

Some misunderstanding exists here as to the extent to which the Cubans are now participating in the government of the island. It has been said in criticism that the Havana postoffice and custom house are filled with Americans. This is true only to the extent that these establishments are the central offices for the whole island in the postal and customs service respectively. In the local postoffice and the local custom house three-fourths of the employees are Cubans. Practically all of the Havana police force are Cubans. So are the local municipal officers, including the mayor. To be sure, they are appointed by General Ludlow instead of being elected by popular vote, but this does not seem to make much difference to the Cubans. They are excessively fond of holding office and do not care so much how they get it.

The Cubans want a tariff system of their own. They think the interests of the island should be solidly considered. Their tobacco has a reputation which they do not wish injured by the free entry of Porto Rican tobacco, which would be mixed with it, and all would go out of the island as Cuban. This arrangement they resent. In the matter of coffee they do not care so much, since there is comparatively little coffee culture in Cuba, but they do not want their customs system arranged to accommodate Porto Rico. They think that that island should look to the United States for its market.

SOUTHERN PINE LANDS.

Large Sales at From $5 to $15 an Acre.

From time to time during the past year attention has been called to the large purchases of yellow pine land which were being made in the Louisiana and Mississippi timber belt by lumbermen from the northwest, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The tendency toward that kind of investment seems to be steadily on the increase, and all through the summer and fall a continuous stream of buyers and their agents and representatives have sojourned briefly in New Orleans. Enormous tracts have been acquired at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre. It is an undeniable fact that the pine districts of the northwest are being rapidly "cut out," and the date of their exhaustion is a matter of easy computation. This, taken in connection with the remarkable boom in lumber, makes it highly probable that a good deal of the timber land buying which has been recently going on has been of a speculative character. It is said on good authority that much of the property acquired has been bought with money borrowed on the standing trees, and in several instances the loans were actually larger than the price paid for the land.

In this connection Manager J. A. Blaffer of the New Orleans Progressive union tells an interesting story. "Not long ago," he said, "I met a very agreeable gentleman who is in the sawmill business in Minnesota. He came here for the purpose of buying a large tract of yellow pine land, and in the course of conversation it developed that his personal capital, which was not especially great, was tied up in his business in the northwest. I then asked him frankly where he got the money for such a deal as he had in progress. He laughed. 'I have no trouble about that,' he replied. 'I simply send a surveyor down here, and he makes an accurate report on the exact quantity of standing timber. Meanwhile my lawyers have looked into the matter of title, and I then go to the bank and put up the timber as collateral. They are glad to let me have all the money I need.' I expressed some surprise, and he answered me there was nothing unusual about the transaction. 'Any man with a straight record,' he said, 'can borrow whatever he needs on Louisiana pine.'"

Shipping Coffee in Chunks.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

EXPOSITION EXCURSIONS

To Pittsburg via Pennsylvania Lines on Thursdays.

Excursion tickets to Pittsburg account the Exposition will be sold for regular trains via Pennsylvania lines on Thursdays, Sept. 7, 14, 21 and 28, and Oct. 5, 12 and 19, from Ashtabula, Erie, Massillon, New Philadelphia, Powhatan and intermediate ticket stations on the Fort Wayne route, and from Dennison, Cadiz, Wheeling, Washington, New Cumberland and intermediate ticket stations on the Pan Handle route.

The rate will be one fare for round trip, with 25 cents added for admission coupon to Exposition.

The return limit will cover three days including date on which ticket is purchased.

The Exposition of 1899 will be a marvel. Numerous special new attractions will be added to the principal features of former seasons. The music programs will be by the world's greatest musical organizations. Sousa and his famous band of 50 pieces will give afternoon and evening concerts from Sept. 6 to 19; Godfrey's British Guards Band, of London, England, will furnish music from Sept. 20 to Sept. 30; the celebrated New York Symphony Orchestra of 50 pieces, under the direction of Mr. Walter Damrosch, will entertain Exposition visitors with fine music from Oct. 2 to Oct. 14, and the famous Innes Band of 50 pieces will be the musical attraction from Oct. 16 to Oct. 21.

For rates, tickets, time of trains and other details about the reduced fares, please apply to the nearest ticket agent of the Pennsylvania lines.

Vacation Trips.

The Pennsylvania lines extend direct to places of summer sojourn along the Atlantic Ocean. Atlantic City, Cape May, Asbury Park Long Branch and resorts on the New Jersey coast are seashore terminals of the Pennsylvania system. Newport, Narragansett and summer havens in New England are reached over the Pennsylvania route via New York. The Adirondacks, White Mountains, Catskills and mountain retreats of the east are also reached through New York. Resorts in the Alleghenies are located upon the Pennsylvania route and may be reached via Pittsburg without changing car. The Pennsylvania lines also lead to resorts in Michigan and the lake region through three gateways: Cleveland, Toledo and Fort Wayne. Full information about rates, through time of trains and the convenient manner in which summer resorts may be reached will be cheerfully furnished upon application to local passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or by addressing J. K. Dillon, D. P. Agt., Pittsburg Pa.

New Sunday Trains.

Under new schedule taking effect on Pennsylvania lines, C. & P. division, Sunday, July 23, a new train will be run regularly on Sundays between Pittsburg, East Liverpool, Steubenville and Bellaire. The train will leave Pittsburg union station 7:10 a. m., central time, arrive East Liverpool 9:02 a. m., Steubenville 10:06 a. m., Bellaire 11:15 a. m., central time; returning leave Bellaire 1 p. m., East Liverpool 3:07 p. m.

Beaver County Fair Excursions.

Sept. 27, 28 and 29, low rate, non-transferable excursion tickets will be sold to Beaver, Pa., via Pennsylvania lines, for the County Fair, where visitors may see many new, novel and attractive exhibits. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Saturday, Sept. 30.

Forebode Proof.

"What was your father whipping you for last night?" asked one small boy of another. "Oh," replied the other, "we had an argument about my Sunday school lesson, and he was proving to me that the whale actually did swallow Jonah."—Troy Times.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

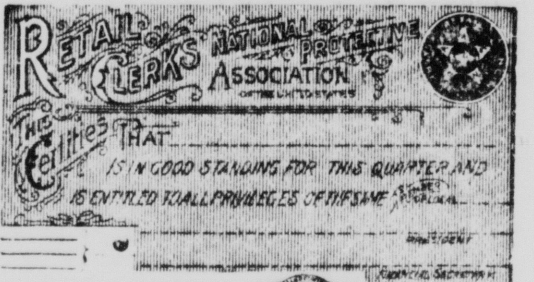

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS. All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Used only by firms named in lower left hand corner, and properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

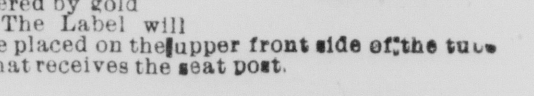

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

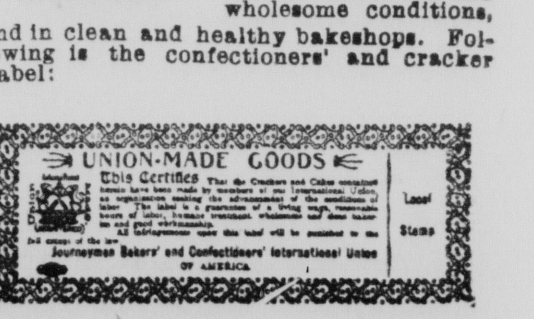

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

CUBA AND HER FUTURE.

Careful Study by the President and His Advisers.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another - Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government - Tariff on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The Philippines completely fill the stage. During the war with Spain and for a year or two previous to that Cuba was the place outside our own territorial limits to which the eyes of Americans were principally turned. Now the newspaper correspondents have practically all deserted Havana, and Cuba has become an old story.

The president and his advisers, however, still find in Cuban affairs much that demands their closest study. The present relation of the United States to Cuba is almost without a parallel in the history of dependent governments. The relation of England to Egypt was originally something like our present relation to Cuba, and perhaps our guardianship may develop in the same way. At present the administration regards Cuba as on a totally different basis from Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. Our government is bound by the Teller resolution and by the treaty of peace to establish an independent government in Cuba, and then if the people of that island of their own free will desire annexation to the United States that is another matter. The American people, too, might have something to say about it. But Mr. McKinley feels that he is not justified now in assuming anything more than that the American policy is to try to prepare Cuba for self government, and this may be interpreted as including independence if the Cubans really want it.

While this is the fundamental theory upon which the administration is acting, it is deeply impressed with the necessity of proceeding toward local self government with great deliberation. The task of setting up an autonomous government in Cuba will not be easy. The Spaniards there still hate the Cubans and the Cubans the Spaniards. The Cubans are, moreover, divided between the Autonomists, those who were willing to accept General Blanco's autonomy scheme, and the Radicals, whose sympathies were with the Cuban army. Almost anything which the United States might do now toward advancing local government would be interpreted as benefiting one race or faction or the other. It is hoped that in time the different elements of the population will realize that they have a common interest and so be more easy to harmonize.

When the time comes to act, local government will probably be introduced by degrees. Municipal autonomy, many of the president's best advisers say, should come first. Self government might then, after it has been found successful in the cities, be made applicable to the provinces. Some provinces will be ready for it earlier than others perhaps, and lastly an autonomous government might be given to the island at large. That this will be the logical course is indicated by the fact that most of the culture and the property interests are centered in the cities. With a suitable limitation of the suffrage it would be possible to get an electorate which would be fairly able to manage municipal affairs.

The limitations of the suffrage will doubtless be property and educational. The property qualification, many persons argue, should be based upon the amount of income, for Cuban incomes are likely to be pretty small for many years to come. A moderate sized one, however, might be offered as a substitute for landed possessions. Such restrictions, property and educational, would leave within the limits of citizenship the better classes of Cubans and Spaniards. It would shut out the negroes and the lower strata of country farmers.

A certain percentage of the Cuban army, perhaps one-fourth upon a reasonable test, would come within the suffrage lines. It is not the belief of the president's advisers just now that it would be safe to go much further than this in extending the suffrage upon which the gradual development of self government is to rest. Of course this same body of voters would be the one ultimately to pass upon the question of annexation, and the real interests of the island, it is felt, could not with safety be committed to all its inhabitants.

Some misunderstanding exists here as to the extent to which the Cubans are now participating in the government of the island. It has been said in criticism that the Havana postoffice and custom house are filled with Americans. This is true only to the extent that these establishments are the central offices for the whole island in the postal and customs service respectively. In the local postoffice and the local custom house three-fourths of the employees are Cubans. Practically all of the Havana police force are Cubans. So are the local municipal officers, including the mayor. To be sure, they are appointed by General Ludlow instead of being elected by popular vote, but this does not seem to make much difference to the Cubans. They are excessively fond of holding office and do not care so much how they get it.

The Cubans want a tariff system of their own. They think the interests of the island should be solely considered. Their tobacco has a reputation which they do not wish injured by the free entry of Porto Rican tobacco, which would be mixed with it, and all would go out of the island as Cuban. This arrangement they resent. In the matter of coffee they do not care so much, since there is comparatively little coffee culture in Cuba, but they do not want their customs system arranged to accommodate Porto Rico. They think that that island should look to the United States for its market.

SOUTHERN PINE LANDS.

Large Sales at From $5 to $15 an Acre.

From time to time during the past year attention has been called to the large purchases of yellow pine land which were being made in the Louisiana and Mississippi timber belt by lumbermen from the northwest, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The tendency toward that kind of investment seems to be steadily on the increase, and all through the summer and fall a continuous stream of buyers and their agents and representatives have sojourned briefly in New Orleans. Enormous tracts have been acquired at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre. It is an undeniable fact that the pine districts of the northwest are being rapidly "cut out," and the date of their exhaustion is a matter of easy computation. This, taken in connection with the remarkable boom in lumber, makes it highly probable that a good deal of the timber land buying which has been recently going on has been of a speculative character. It is said on good authority that much of the property acquired has been bought with money borrowed on the standing trees, and in several instances the loans were actually larger than the price paid for the land.

In this connection Manager J. A. Blaffer of the New Orleans Progressive union tells an interesting story. "Not long ago," he said, "I met a very agreeable gentleman who is in the sawmill business in Minnesota. He came here for the purpose of buying a large tract of yellow pine land, and in the course of conversation it developed that his personal capital, which was not especially great, was tied up in his business in the northwest. I then asked him frankly where he got the money for such a deal as he had in progress. He laughed. 'I have no trouble about that,' he replied. 'I simply send a surveyor down here, and he makes an accurate report on the exact quantity of standing timber. Meanwhile my lawyers have looked into the matter of title, and I then go to the bank and put up the timber as collateral. They are glad to let me have all the money I need.' I expressed some surprise, and he answered me there was nothing unusual about the transaction. 'Any man with a straight record,' he said, 'can borrow whatever he needs on Louisiana pine.'"

Shipping Coffee in Chunks.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

EXPOSITION EXCURSIONS

To Pittsburg via Pennsylvania Lines on Thursdays.

Excursion tickets to Pittsburg account the Exposition will be sold for regular trains via Pennsylvania lines on Thursdays, Sept. 7, 14, 21 and 28, and Oct. 5, 12 and 19, from Ashtabula, Erie, Massillon, New Philadelphia, Powhatan and intermediate ticket stations on the Fort Wayne route, and from Dennison, Cadiz, Wheeling, Washington, New Cumberland and intermediate ticket stations on the Pan Handle route.

The rate will be one fare for round trip, with 25 cents added for admission coupon to Exposition.

The return limit will cover three days including date on which ticket is purchased.

The Exposition of 1899 will be a marvel. Numerous special new attractions will be added to the principal features of former seasons. The music programs will be by the world's greatest musical organizations. Sousa and his famous band of 50 pieces will give afternoon and evening concerts from Sept. 6 to 19; Godfrey's British Guards Band, of London, England, will furnish music from Sept. 20 to Sept. 30; the celebrated New York Symphony Orchestra of 50 pieces, under the direction of Mr. Walter Damrosch, will entertain Exposition visitors with fine music from Oct. 2 to Oct. 14, and the famous Innes Band of 50 pieces will be the musical attraction from Oct. 16 to Oct. 21.

For rates, tickets, time of trains and other details about the reduced fares, please apply to the nearest ticket agent of the Pennsylvania lines.

Vacation Trips.

The Pennsylvania lines extend direct to places of summer sojourn along the Atlantic Ocean. Atlantic City, Cape May, Asbury Park Long Branch and resorts on the New Jersey coast are seashore terminals of the Pennsylvania system. Newport, Narragansett and summer havens in New England are reached over the Pennsylvania route via New York. The Adirondacks, White Mountains, Catskills and mountain retreats of the east are also reached through New York. Resorts in the Alleghenies are located upon the Pennsylvania route and may be reached via Pittsburg without changing car. The Pennsylvania lines also lead to resorts in Michigan and the lake region through three gateways: Cleveland, Toledo and Fort Wayne. Full information about rates, through time of trains and the convenient manner in which summer resorts may be reached will be cheerfully furnished upon application to local passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or by addressing J. K. Dillon, D. P. Agt., Pittsburg Pa.

New Sunday Trains.

Under new schedule taking effect on Pennsylvania lines, C. & P. division, Sunday, July 23, a new train will be run regularly on Sundays between Pittsburg, East Liverpool, Steubenville and Bellaire. The train will leave Pittsburg union station 7:10 a. m., central time, arrive East Liverpool 9:02 a. m., Steubenville 10:06 a. m., Bellaire 11:15 a. m., central time; returning leave Bellaire 1 p. m., East Liverpool 3:07 p. m.

Beaver County Fair Excursions.

Forceful Proof.

"What was your father whipping you for last night?" asked one small boy of another.

"Oh," replied the other, "we had an argument about my Sunday school lesson, and he was proving to me that the whale actually did swallow Jonah."—Troy Times.

Small kindnesses, small courtesies, small considerations, habitually practiced in our social intercourse, give a greater charm to the character than the display of great talents and accomplishments.—M. A. Kelly.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

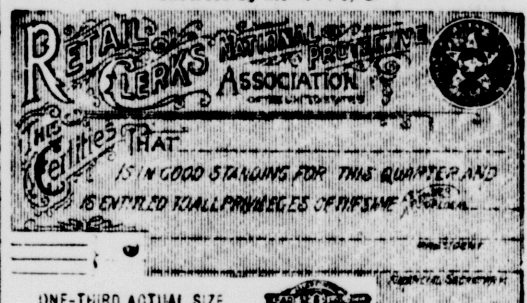

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. (Good only, after months passed in lower left hand corner, if properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.)

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

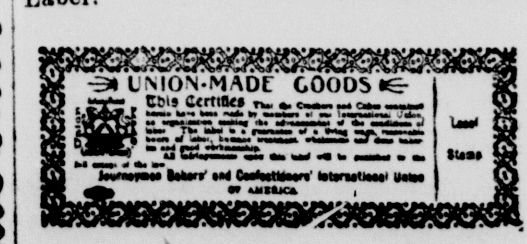

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

International This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

MESSAGE FROM OTIS.

Favorable Reports on the Situation in the Islands of Negros and Sulu.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—These dispatches from General Otis at Manila were made public by the war department:

MANILA, Sept. 23. Adjutant General, Washington: Hughes, Iloilo, reports Lopez and 64 armed men surrendered to Byrne at Castellano, Negros. Election in that island Oct. 2. Sought conference. Chief insurgents Panay wished to know what promise could be given them in case of formal submission. Told no arrangements possible until surrendered and force disbanded.

MANILA, Sept. 25. Adjutant General, Washington: Bates returns from Jolo, 21st inst., having placed garrisons at Siasi and Bungam, Lawi Tawi group, one company each place. Affairs in archipelago satisfactory. Bates saw chief insurgents Zamboanga, still anxious to receive United States garrison on condition of withdrawal should Aguinaldo succeed in Luzon. Proposition not entertained. Zamboanga having trouble with more Datos in vicinity, who have raised United States flag. Dato Cagayan, Sulu island, visited Jolo, gave adhesion, and desired to raise American flag instead of Spanish flag on island. American flag will be raised there. Ready to give six months' notice in order to establish in archipelago customs regulations under protocol between Spain, Germany and Great Britain of 1885. Bates' report by mail.

PADDLE FOR PRISONERS.

Colorado Warden Advocated Its Use, at the Meeting of the National Prison Congress.

HARTFORD, Sept. 26.—Vice President Wright called the third day's session of the national prison congress to order in Keney hall.

Vice President Wright vacated the chair and it was taken by General Nelson Viall, the warden of Rhode Island state prison. Warden Henry Weller of the Minnesota state prison was appointed vice chairman of the meeting. The annual address of President A. T. Hart, the superintendent of the state reformatory of Indians at Jeffersonville, was read by Warden Scott of Concord, Mass.

Two papers were read, the first on "The Punishment of Prisoners," prepared by warden Clarence P. Hoyt of the Columbus state prison, and the other on "The Employment of Convict Labor," by Warden Henry Weller of the Minnesota state prison. Warden Hoyt's paper advocated the use of the paddle in punishing prisoners.

Warden Weller's paper called out a long discussion. The delegates were tendered a reception at the Athenaeum.

SENATOR WELLINGTON RESIGNS.

In Doing So He Made a Vigorous Attack on Governor Lowndes.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—United States Senator George L. Wellington resigned the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee in accordance with the recent written request of Governor Lloyd Lowndes, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. General Thomas J. Shryock was elected to succeed him. General Shryock is state treasurer.

In endorsing his resignation Senator Wellington delivered a speech in which he accused the governor of double dealing and treachery, and alleged that in conjunction with Senator McComas, Congressman Sydney E. Mudd and others, the chief executive had gone into combination to destroy the speaker's future political prospects.

Big Strike Feared in Havana.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—In spite of the efforts of the leaders a general strike to day seems inevitable. The only union that had not decided to join was the cartmen's union, but it was expected that the cartmen will go with the rest. The strikers are confident of winning. The various laundry establishments are closed, and it is impossible to get laundry work done, a very serious matter in Havana. It is probable that Havana today will be without bread owing to the bakers' strike.

Wages of Nearly 16,000 Raised.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—As a result of a meeting of the executive committee of the Lake Carriers' association the wages of nearly 16,000 men employed on the vessels of the great lakes will be raised from 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Oct. 1.

To Fill Ermentrout's Place.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—Governor Stone issued a writ for a special election in the Lehigh-Berks district, on Nov. 8, for the election of a congressman to succeed the late Daniel Ermentrout of Reading.

FIERCE GUERRILLA WARFARE.

The Yaquis Killing of Mexican Soldiers, With Small Loss to Themselves.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Lieutenant Majeran arrived at Torres on his way to the City of Mexico to make official reports as to the progress of the campaign against the Yaquis. He reported that the Indians had scattered into small bands and were vigorously waging a guerrilla warfare, and that the Mexican soldiers had adopted similar tactics. The Indians avoid open engagements with the soldiers, rather harassing them with attacks from secure positions in the mountains and along the rough mountain roads, not infrequently causing much loss of life among the soldiers with little harm to themselves. General Torres, in command of the Mexican troops, asks the Mexican war department to send a force of rurales to assist him, and it is thought they can render very effective service against the Indians. The Yaquis hold the rurales in great dread, as they are their old time enemies and a most formidable foe. During the past ten days a great many miners have arrived at Ortiz, having been driven out of the mountains by the threatening situation, and all bear tales of murder and bloodshed. Dozens of skirmish fights have resulted in a number of soldiers and Indians being killed and several miners have lost their lives. Many of them have deserted paying mines in order to save their lives.

PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOLS.

Meeting of the Theological Seminary Association, at Princeton, N. J. Foreign Clergymen Attended.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26.—The opening meeting of the annual convention of the General Association of Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian church of the United States was held in Miller chapel. Dr. H. C. Minton of San Francisco read a paper on "Origin and Object of the Association." Rev. W. Craven, president of Knox college, Toronto, delivered an address on "The Teaching of the Seminary in Relation to the Spiritual Life of the Students." The following clergymen were present from other countries:

Rev. Dr. S. D. E. Salmund, Aberdeen, Scotland; Dr. F. M. Hamill, Belfast, Ireland; Dr. J. A. Patterson, Edinburgh; Dr. A. S. Stewart, St. Andrews, Scotland; Dr. J. Scrimgeour, Montreal; President D. H. McVicar, Montreal, and Dr. W. Craven, Toronto. These gentlemen are on their way to the pan-Presbyterian convention to be held at Washington next week. The seminars represented were Western, Auburn, Lane, Omaha, McCormick, Lincoln, Biddle, San Francisco and Princeton.

Dr. William B. Green gave a reception in honor of the delegates last night at his home.

A Witness For Dreyfus Promoted.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Captain Freystaetter, who was a member of the Dreyfus courtmartial of 1894 and who testified before the courtmartial at Rennes that his original belief in the guilt of the accused was largely the result of the reading of the documents of the secret dossier, communicated to the judges in a private room, without the knowledge of Dreyfus or his counsel, has been appointed a commander of marine infantry at Rochefort, in the department of Charente Interieure.

Expelled by a Conference.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—Rev. John M. Life, chaplain of the Seventh Ohio volunteers, was found guilty by the Ohio Methodist conference of conduct unbecoming a minister of the Gospel in using disrespectful language to Rose Lee Burch, daughter of the lieutenant colonel of the regiment, and was expelled from the ministry. An appeal was taken. A year ago the charges were preferred by the girl and created a great sensation.

Captain Sigbee's Daughter Dead.

LEWES, Del., Sept. 26.—Miss Sigbee, daughter of Captain Sigbee, late of the inflated battle ship Maine, and now commander of the Texas, died of heart failure at the cottage of Mrs. Rutenhouse, Rehoboth, Del., where she had been spending the summer. Her remains will be sent to Washington for burial today.

He Didn't Like Pledges.

Judge Martin Grover of Troy, N. Y., was at one time approached by a young citizen who wished to be nominated to the state assembly. The shrewd old judge had certain doubts about him, which he expressed somewhat freely, and yet he was willing to afford him a trial. He therefore addressed the aspirant in this way:

"Young man, if you will give me your word that you won't steal when you get to Albany, I'll see what kin be done about sendin' you there."

"Judge Grover," replied the young man, drawing himself up with great dignity, "I go to Albany unpledged or I don't go at all."

OOM PAUL'S PEOPLE.

New Points About the Character of the Boers.

KRUGER A KING IN RURAL GARB.

A Look at the Best Side of the Boers. Hospitable, Though Dirty—Why Civilization Is Backward—Not Wholly Incorruptible—Hatred of the British.

A timely and instructive book entitled "Oom Paul's People," is being brought out by D. Appleton & Co. The author, Howard C. Hillegas, sympathizes with the Transvaal republic. The author reports a personal interview which he had with President Kruger that throws considerable light on the Boer side of the dispute with the uitlanders, and then he goes on to tell many interesting things about the personality of the man:

"President Kruger impresses one as being a king in the garb of a farmer, a genius in a dunce's cap. At first sight he would be mistaken for an awkward countryman, with 'store clothes' and a silk hat intended for some one else. His frock coat is far too small to reach around his corpulent body, and his trousers seem to have a natural antipathy for his shoes. He wears no cuffs, and the presence of a collar and tie may be determined only by drawing aside the natural curtain formed by his whiskers. He is uncouth in his manner, but he has great natural attractiveness, gained by a long life among hunters in the wilds.

"President Kruger is short in stature, measuring less than 5 feet 7 inches. His head and body are large and fat, but his legs are thin and short. His head is just a trifle longer than broad, and almost fits the English definition of 'square head.' The small eyes are surmounted by bushy, white eyebrows, which extend half an inch beyond his forehead. When he is not sitting for a photograph, his hair is not so neatly arranged as it appears in the well known pictures, but hangs loosely down over his wide forehead, except when, with a hasty swish of the hand, he brushes it aside. The hair is nearly white, and hangs over the sides of his head in long tresses, which cover both his ears. When he smiles, the big fat circles above his cheeks are pushed upward and shut his small gray eyes from view. But when pleased the president generally laughs hilariously, and then his eyes remain closed for the greater part of a minute. The mouth is wide and ungainly. The constant use of a heavy pipe has caused a deep depression on the left side of his lower lip, and this gives the whole mouth the appearance of being unbalanced. His chin is large and prominent, and his ears correspond relatively in size and symmetry with his face. When in repose, his features are not pleasant to look upon, but when lighted up by a smile they become rather attractive and generally cause his laughter to become contagious among his hearers."

From President Kruger to his people is an easy step, and Mr. Hillegas brings to the consideration of this topic the same resolve to bring out the man's best points. He says:

"The wholesale slander and misrepresentation with which the Boers of South Africa have been pursued cannot be outlived by them in a hundred years. It originated when the British forces took possession of the Cape of Good Hope, and it has continued with unabated vigor ever since. The Boer's habits and mode of life are similar to those of the American ranchman, and in reality there is not much difference between the two except that the latter is not so far removed from civilization. Physically the Boers are the equals if not the superiors of their old time enemy the Zulus. It would be difficult to find anywhere an entire race of such physical giants as the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. If an average height of all the full grown males in the country were taken, it would be found to be not less than 6 feet 2 inches and probably more. Their physique, notwithstanding their comparatively idle mode of living, is magnificently developed. With the Boer, his religion is his first and uppermost thought. The Old Testament is the pattern which he strives to follow. His religious temperament is portrayed in almost every sentence he utters, and his repetition of Biblical parables and sayings is a custom which so impresses itself upon the mind of the stranger that it is but natural that those who are unacquainted with the Boer should declare it a sure sign of his hypocrisy. He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. The Boer homestead is as unpretentious as its owner. Generally it is a low one story stone structure, with a steep tile roof and a small annex in the rear, which is used as a kitchen. The door is on a level with the ground, and four windows afford all the light that is required in the four square rooms in the interior. A dining room and three bedrooms suffice for a family, however large. The floors are of hardened clay, liberally coated with manure, which is designed to ward off the pestiferous insects that swarm over the plains. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

"The Boer of today is a creature of circumstance. He is outstripped because he has had no opportunities for development. Driven from Cape Colony, where he was rapidly developing a national character, he was compelled to wander into lands that offered no opportunities of any description. He has been cut off for almost a hundred years from an older and more energetic civilization, and even from his neighbors; it is no wonder that he is a century behind the van. No other civilized race on earth has been handicapped in such a manner, and if there had been one it is a matter for conjecture whether it would have held its own, as the Boer has done, or whether it would have fallen to the level of the savage."

Lobbyists seem to be as perniciously active there as here. Mr. Hillegas seems inclined to blame them for the corruptibility of the Boer statesmen, rather than the corruptibility of the statesmen for the existence of the lobbyist. He says:

"Every train from Johannesburg, the uitlander capital, takes to Pretoria scores of lobbyists, who use all their powers, both of persuasion and finance, to influence the minds of the legislators, either in the way of granting valuable concessions for small considerations or of securing the passage of bills favorable to the lobbyists. It is no wonder that the uitlanders declare that less than one-fourth of the raad members are unassailably honest and that all others can be bribed. The Boer alone is not blameworthy who, having never possessed more than $100 at one time, yields to the constant importunities of the lobbyist and sells his vote for several thousand dollars."

However, Mr. Hillegas makes out a good case for his proteges. He says, speaking of the first arrivals of uitlanders in the Transvaal, attracted by the discovery of gold:

"The natural contempt which the Englishmen, who compose the majority of the uitlander population, always have for persons and races not their intellectual or social equals soon created a gulf between the Boers and the newcomers. This line of cleavage was extended when the newcomers attempted to obtain a foothold in the politics of the country. The Boers, who had been suddenly outnumbered three to one, naturally resented the interference, especially as it came from persons who had no desire to become permanent residents of the country and who wanted a voice in the conduct of the national affairs only as a means to attain their own ends, without caring about the welfare of the entire republic."

"One example is sufficient to show the conduct of the uitlanders toward the Boers, but thousands could be given. President Kruger journeyed to Johannesburg in order to learn from the newcomers what his government might do to improve the industry. A crowd met Mr. Kruger and after rude remarks on his personal appearance sang 'God Save the Queen.' Later the Transvaal flag was torn down from a staff in front of the house in which the president was conferring with leading residents of the city.

"Of the million white people south of the Zambezi, probably half are mere fortune seekers, who would leave the country the very instant they secured a moderate fortune. These have the welfare of the country at heart only in so far as it interferes or assists them in attaining their desired goal. They would ask that Portugal be allowed to rule all of South Africa if they received the assurance that the much sought after fortune could be secured six months sooner. The question of granting the right of voting to the uitlanders in the Transvaal is one which so vitally affects the future life of the government that the Boers' concession of that right would be tantamount to presenting the country to the British government."

Teachers and Stationery.

A remarkable charge has been made against the public schoolteachers of Washington by the board of directors of the Business Men's association. As in most cities, the teachers are enabled to get stationery and similar articles at wholesale rates. It is charged that they have gone into the stationery business, purchasing these articles in large quantities and making customers of their pupils, to whom, of course, they sell at the regular retail figures. This evil is said to have reached such proportions as to injure the stationery trade in the city, and has been brought to the attention of the Business Men's association. The board of directors has passed a resolution condemning the schoolteachers for the practice and is trying to get the district commissioners to put a stop to it.

Fighting Department Stores.

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical association recently tried to induce the company which makes a certain well known proprietary preparation not to sell to department stores or anybody who would undersell the regular retail druggist. The company declined, and the association has arranged a boycott among its own members, so that hardly a retail druggist in Kentucky now sells the article in question. Something similar has been done in Pittsburgh. The fight is attracting attention in other places and is likely to be imitated extensively.

OOM PAUL'S PEOPLE.

New Points About the Character of the Boers.

KRUGER A KING IN RURAL GARB.

A Look at the Best Side of the Boers. Hospitable, Though Dirty — Why Civilization Is Backward — Not Wholly Incorruptible — Hatred of the British.

A timely and instructive book entitled "Oom Paul's People," is being brought out by D. Appleton & Co. The author, Howard C. Hillegas, sympathizes with the Transvaal republic. The author reports a personal interview which he had with President Kruger that throws considerable light on the Boer side of the dispute with the uitlanders, and then he goes on to tell many interesting things about the personality of the man:

"President Kruger impresses one as being a king in the garb of a farmer, a genius in a dunce's cap. At first sight he would be mistaken for an awkward countryman, with 'store clothes' and a silk hat intended for some one else. His frock coat is far too small to reach around his corpulent body, and his trousers seem to have a natural antipathy for his shoes. He wears no cuffs, and the presence of a collar and tie may be determined only by drawing aside the natural curtain formed by his whiskers. He is uncouth in his manner, but he has great natural attractiveness, gained by a long life among hunters in the wilds.

"President Kruger is short in stature, measuring less than 5 feet 7 inches. His head and body are large and fat, but his legs are thin and short. His head is just a trifle longer than broad, and almost fits the English definition of 'square head.' The small eyes are surmounted by bushy, white eyebrows, which extend half an inch beyond his forehead. When he is not sitting for a photograph, his hair is not so neatly arranged as it appears in the well known pictures, but hangs loosely down over his wide forehead, except when, with a hasty swish of the hand, he brushes it aside. The hair is nearly white, and hangs over the sides of his head in long tresses, which cover both his ears. When he smiles, the big fat circles above his cheeks are pushed upward and shut his small gray eyes from view. But when pleased the president generally laughs hilariously, and then his eyes remain closed for the greater part of a minute. The mouth is wide and ungainly. The constant use of a heavy pipe has caused a deep depression on the left side of his lower lip, and this gives the whole mouth the appearance of being unbalanced. His chin is large and prominent, and his ears correspond relatively in size and symmetry with his face. When in repose, his features are not pleasant to look upon, but when lighted up by a smile they become rather attractive and generally cause his laughter to become contagious among his hearers."

From President Kruger to his people is an easy step, and Mr. Hillegas brings to the consideration of this topic the same resolve to bring out the man's best points. He says:

"The wholesale slander and misrepresentation with which the Boers of South Africa have been pursued cannot be outlived by them in a hundred years. It originated when the British forces took possession of the Cape of Good Hope, and it has continued with unabated vigor ever since. The Boer's habits and mode of life are similar to those of the American ranchman, and in reality there is not much difference between the two except that the latter is not so far removed from civilization. Physically the Boers are the equals if not the superiors of their old time enemy the Zulus. It would be difficult to find anywhere an entire race of such physical giants as the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. If an average height of all the full grown males in the country were taken, it would be found to be not less than 6 feet 2 inches and probably more. Their physique, notwithstanding their comparatively idle mode of living, is magnificently developed. With the Boer, his religion is his first and uppermost thought. The Old Testament is the pattern which he strives to follow. His religious temperament is portrayed in almost every sentence he utters, and his repetition of Biblical parables and sayings is a custom which so impresses itself upon the mind of the stranger that it is but natural that those who are unacquainted with the Boer should declare it a sure sign of his hypocrisy. He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. The Boer homestead is as unpretentious as its owner. Generally it is a low one story stone structure, with a steep tile roof and a small annex in the rear, which is used as a kitchen. The door is on a level with the ground, and four windows afford all the light that is required in the four square rooms in the interior. A dining room and three bedrooms suffice for a family, however large. The floors are of hardened clay, liberally coated with manure, which is designed to ward off the pestiferous insects that swarm over the plains. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

"The Boer of today is a creature of circumstance. He is outstripped because he has had no opportunities for development. Driven from Cape Colony, where he was rapidly developing a national character, he was compelled to wander into lands that offered no opportunities of any description. He has been cut off for almost a hundred years from an older and more energetic civilization, and even from his neighbors; it is no wonder that he is a century behind the van. No other civilized race on earth has been handicapped in such a manner, and if there had been one it is a matter for conjecture whether it would have held its own, as the Boer has done, or whether it would have fallen to the level of the savage."

Lobbyists seem to be as perniciously active there as here. Mr. Hillegas seems inclined to blame them for the corruptibility of the Boer statesmen, rather than the corruptibility of the statesmen for the existence of the lobbyist. He says:

"Every train from Johannesburg, the uitlander capital, takes to Pretoria scores of lobbyists, who use all their powers, both of persuasion and finance, to influence the minds of the legislators, either in the way of granting valuable concessions for small considerations or of securing the passage of bills favorable to the lobbyists. It is no wonder that the uitlanders declare that less than one-fourth of the raid members are unassailably honest and that all others can be bribed. The Boer alone is not blameworthy who, having never possessed more than $100 at one time, yields to the constant importunities of the lobbyist and sells his vote for several thousand dollars."

However, Mr. Hillegas makes out a good case for his proteges. He says, speaking of the first arrivals of uitlanders in the Transvaal, attracted by the discovery of gold:

"The natural contempt which the Englishmen, who compose the majority of the uitlander population, always have for persons and races not their intellectual or social equals soon created a gulf between the Boers and the newcomers. This line of cleavage was extended when the newcomers attempted to obtain a foothold in the politics of the country. The Boers, who had been suddenly outnumbered three to one, naturally resented the interference, especially as it came from persons who had no desire to become permanent residents of the country and who wanted a voice in the conduct of the national affairs only as a means to attain their own ends, without caring about the welfare of the entire republic."

"One example is sufficient to show the conduct of the uitlanders toward the Boers, but thousands could be given. President Kruger journeyed to Johannesburg in order to learn from the newcomers what his government might do to improve the industry. A crowd met Mr. Kruger and after rude remarks on his personal appearance sang 'God Save the Queen.' Later the Transvaal flag was torn down from a staff in front of the house in which the president was conferring with leading residents of the city.

"Of the million white people south of the Zambezi, probably half are mere fortune seekers, who would leave the country the very instant they secured a moderate fortune. These have the welfare of the country at heart only in so far as it interferes or assists them in attaining their desired goal. They would ask that Portugal be allowed to rule all of South Africa if they received the assurance that the much sought after fortune could be secured six months sooner. The question of granting the right of voting to the uitlanders in the Transvaal is one which so vitally affects the future life of the government that the Boers' concession of that right would be tantamount to presenting the country to the British government."

MESSAGE FROM OTIS.

Favorable Reports on the Situation in the Islands of Negros and Sulu.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—These dispatches from General Otis at Manila were made public by the war department:

MANILA, Sept. 23. Adjutant General, Washington: Hughes, Iloilo, reports Lopez and 64 armed men surrendered to Byrne at Castellano, Negros. Election in that island Oct. 2. Sought conference. Chief insurgents Panay wished to know what promise could be given them in case of formal submission. Told no arrangements possible until surrendered and force disbanded.

MANILA, Sept. 25. Adjutant General, Washington: Bates returns from Jolo, 21st inst., having placed garrisons at Siassi and Bungam. Tawi Tawi group, one company each place. Affairs in archipelago satisfactory. Bates saw chief insurgents Zamboang, still anxious to receive United States garrison on condition of withdrawal should Aguinaldo succeed in Luzon. Proposition not entertained. Zamboanga having trouble with more Datus in vicinity, who have raised United States flag. Dato Cagayan, Sulu island, visited Jolo, gave adhesion, and desired to raise American flag instead of Spanish flag on island. American flag will be raised there. Ready to give six months' notice in order to establish in archipelago customs regulations under protocol between Spain, Germany and Great Britain of 1885. Bates' report by mail.

PADDLE FOR PRISONERS.

Colorado Warden Advocated Its Use, at the Meeting of the National Prison Congress.

HARTFORD, Sept. 26.—Vice President Wright called the third day's session of the national prison congress to order in Keney hall.

Vice President Wright vacated the chair and it was taken by General Nelson Viall, the warden of Rhode Island state prison. Warden Henry Wolfer of the Minnesota state prison was appointed vice chairman of the meeting. The annual address of President A. T. Hart, the superintendent of the state reformatory of Indiana at Jeffersonville, was read by Warden Scott of Concord, Mass.

Two papers were read, the first on "The Punishment of Prisoners," prepared by warden Clarence P. Hoyt of the Columbus state prison, and the other on "The Employment of Convict Labor," by Warden Henry Wolfer of the Minnesota state prison. Warden Hoyt's paper advocated the use of the paddle in punishing prisoners.

Warden Wolfer's paper called out a long discussion. The delegates were tendered a reception at the Athenium.

SENATOR WELLINGTON RESIGNS.

In Doing So He Made a Vigorous Attack on Governor Lowndes.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—United States Senator George L. Wellington resigned the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee in accordance with the recent written request of Governor Lloyd Lowndes, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. General Thomas J. Shryock was elected to succeed him. General Shryock is state treasurer.

In endorsing his resignation Senator Wellington delivered a speech in which he accused the governor of double dealing and treachery, and alleged that in conjunction with Senator McComas, Congressman Sydney E. Mudd and others, the chief executive had gone into combination to destroy the speaker's future political prospects.

Big Strike Feared in Havana.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—In spite of the efforts of the leaders a general strike to day seems inevitable. The only union that had not decided to join was the cartmen's union, but it was expected that the cartmen will go with the rest. The strikers are confident of winning. The various laundry establishments are closed, and it is impossible to get laundry work done, a very serious matter in Havana. It is probable that Havana today will be without bread owing to the bakers' strike.

Wages of Nearly 16,000 Raised.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—As a result of a meeting of the executive committee of the Lake Carriers' association the wages of nearly 16,000 men employed on the vessels of the great lakes will be raised from 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Oct. 1.

FIERCE GUERRILLA WARFARE.

The Yaquis Killing Of Mexican Soldiers, With Small Loss to Themselves.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Lieutenant Majoran arrived at Torres on his way to the City of Mexico to make official reports as to the progress of the campaign against the Yaquis. He reported that the Indians had scattered into small bands and were vigorously waging a guerrilla warfare, and that the Mexican soldiers had adopted similar tactics. The Indians avoid open engagements with the soldiers, rather harassing them with attacks from secure positions in the mountains and along the rough mountain roads, not infrequently causing much loss of life among the soldiers with little harm to themselves. General Torres, in command of the Mexican troops, asks the Mexican war department to send a force of rurales to assist him, and it is thought they can render very effective service against the Indians. The Yaquis hold the rurales in great dread, as they are their old time enemies and a most formidable foe. During the past ten days a great many miners have arrived at Ortiz, having been driven out of the mountains by the threatening situation, and all bear tales of murder and bloodshed. Dozens of skirmish fights have resulted in a number of soldiers and Indians being killed and several miners have lost their lives. Many of them have deserted paying mines in order to save their lives.

Meeting of the Theological Seminary's Association, at Princeton, N. J. Foreign Clergymen Attended.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26.—The opening meeting of the annual convention of the General Association of Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian church of the United States was held in Miller chapel. Dr. H. C. Minton of San Francisco read a paper on "Origin and Object of the Association." Rev. W. Craven, president of Knox college, Toronto, delivered an address on "The Teaching of the Seminary in Relation to the Spiritual Life of the Students." The following clergymen were present from other countries:

Rev. Dr. S. D. E. Salmund, Aberdeen, Scotland; Dr. F. M. Hamill, Belfast, Ireland; Dr. J. A. Patterson, Edinburgh; Dr. A. S. Stewart, St. Andrews, Scotland; Dr. J. Scrimgeour, Montreal; President D. H. McVicar, Montreal, and Dr. W. Craven, Toronto. These gentlemen are on their way to the pan-presbyterian convention to be held at Washington next week. The seminaries represented were Western, Auburn, Lane, Omaha, McCormick, Lincoln, Biddle, San Francisco and Princeton.

Dr. William B. Green gave a reception in honor of the delegates last night at his home.

A Witness For Dreyfus Promoted.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Captain Freystaetter, who was a member of the Dreyfus courtmartial of 1894 and who testified before the courtmartial at Rennes that his original belief in the guilt of the accused was largely the result of the reading of the documents of the secret dossier, communicated to the judges in a private room, without the knowledge of Dreyfus or his counsel, has been appointed a commander of marine infantry at Rochefort, in the department of Charente Inferieure.

Expelled by a Conference.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—Rev. John M. Life, chaplain of the Seventh Ohio volunteers, was found guilty by the Ohio Methodist conference of conduct unbecoming a minister of the Gospel in using disrespectful language to Rose Lee Burch, daughter of the lieutenant colonel of the regiment, and was expelled from the ministry. An appeal was taken. A year ago the charges were preferred by the girl and created a great sensation.

Captain St. Bee's Daughter Dead.

LEWES, Del., Sept. 26.—Miss Sigbee, daughter of Captain Sigbee, late of the inflated "batte-nip" Maine, and now commander of the Texas, died of heart failure at the cottage of Mrs. Rattenhouse, Rehoboth, Del., where she had been spending the summer. Her remains will be sent to Washington for burial today.

He Didn't Like Pledges.

Judge Martin Grover of Troy, N. Y., was at one time approached by a young citizen who wished to be nominated to the state assembly. The shrewd old judge had certain doubts about him, which he expressed somewhat freely, and yet he was willing to afford him a trial. He therefore addressed the aspirant in this way:

"Young man, if you will give me your word that you won't steal when you get to Albany, I'll see what kin be done about sendin you there."

"Judge Grover," replied the young man, drawing himself up with great dignity, "I go to Albany unpledged or I don't go at all."

MESSAGE FROM OTIS.

Favorable Reports on the Situation in the Islands of Negros and Sulu.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—These dispatches from General Otis at Manila were made public by the war department:

MANILA, Sept. 23.

Adjutant General, Washington:

Hughes, Iloilo, reports Lopez and 64 armed men surrendered to Byrne at Castellano, Negros. Election in that island Oct. 2. Sought conference. Chief insurgents Panay wished to know what promise could be given them in case of formal submission. Told no arrangements possible until surrendered and force disbanded.

MANILA, Sept. 25.

Adjutant General, Washington:

Bates returns from Jolo, 21st inst., having placed garrisons at Siassi and Bungam, Tawi Tawi group, one company each place. Affairs in archipelago satisfactory. Bates saw chief insurgents Zamboang, still anxious to receive United States garrison on condition of withdrawal should Aguinaldo succeed in Luzon. Proposition not entertained. Zamboanga having trouble with more Datos in vicinity, who have raised United States flag. Dato Cagayan, Sulu island, visited Jolo, gave adhesion, and desired to raise American flag instead of Spanish flag on island. American flag will be raised there. Ready to give six months' notice in order to establish in archipelago customs regulations under protocol between Spain, Germany and Great Britain of 1885. Bates' report by mail.

PADDLE FOR PRISONERS.

Colorado Warden Advocated Its Use, at the Meeting of the National Prison Congress.

HARTFORD, Sept. 26.—Vice President Wright called the third day's session of the national prison congress to order in Keney hall.

Vice President Wright vacated the chair and it was taken by General Nelson Vail, the warden of Rhode Island state prison. Warden Henry Weller of the Minnesota state prison was appointed vice chairman of the meeting. The annual address of President A. T. Hart, the superintendent of the state reformatory of Indians at Jeffersonville, was read by Warden Scott of Concord, Mass.

Two papers were read, the first on "The Punishment of Prisoners," prepared by warden Clarence P. Hoyt of the Columbus state prison, and the other on "The Employment of Convict Labor," by Warden Henry Weller of the Minnesota state prison. Warden Hoyt's paper advocated the use of the paddle in punishing prisoners.

Warden Weller's paper called out a long discussion.

The delegates were tendered a reception at the Athenum.

In Doing So He Made a Vigorous Attack on Governor Lowndes.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—United States Senator George L. Wellington resigned the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee in accordance with the recent written request of Governor Lloyd Lowndes, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. General Thomas J. Shryock was elected to succeed him. General Shryock is state treasurer.

In endorsing his resignation Senator Wellington delivered a speech in which he accused the governor of double dealing and treachery, and alleged that in conjunction with Senator McComas, Congressman Sydney E. Mudd and others, the chief executive had gone into combination to destroy the speaker's future political prospects.

Big Strike Feared in Havana.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—In spite of the efforts of the leaders a general strike today seems inevitable. The only union that had not decided to join was the cartmen's union, but it was expected that the cartmen will go with the rest. The strikers are confident of winning. The various laundry establishments are closed, and it is impossible to get laundry work done, a very serious matter in Havana. It is probable that Havana today will be without bread owing to the bakers' strike.

Wages of Nearly 16,000 Raised.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—As a result of a meeting of the executive committee of the Lake Carriers' association the wages of nearly 16,000 men employed on the vessels of the great lakes will be raised from 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Oct. 1.

FIERCE GUERRILLA WARFARE.

The Yaquis Killing 67 Mexican Soldiers, With Small Loss to Themselves.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Lieutenant Major arrived at Torres on his way to the City of Mexico to make official reports as to the progress of the campaign against the Yaquis. He reported that the Indians had scattered into small bands and were vigorously waging a guerrilla warfare, and that the Mexican soldiers had adopted similar tactics. The Indians avoid open engagements with the soldiers, rather harassing them with attacks from secure positions in the mountains and along the rough mountain roads, not infrequently causing much loss of life among the soldiers with little harm to themselves. General Torres, in command of the Mexican troops, asks the Mexican war department to send a force of rurales to assist him, and it is thought they can render very effective service against the Indians. The Yaquis hold the rurales in great dread, as they are their old time enemies and a most formidable foe. During the past ten days a great many miners have arrived at Ortiz, having been driven out of the mountains by the threatening situation, and all bear tales of murder and bloodshed. Dozens of skirmish fights have resulted in a number of soldiers and Indians being killed and several miners have lost their lives. Many of them have deserted paying mines in order to save their lives.

PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOLS.

Meeting of the Theological Seminaries' Association, at Princeton, N. J. Foreign Clergymen Attended.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26.—The opening meeting of the annual convention of the General Association of Theological Seminaries of the Presbyterian church of the United States was held in Miller chapel. Dr. H. C. Minton of San Francisco read a paper on "Origin and Object of the Association." Rev. W. Craven, president of Knox college, Toronto, delivered an address on "The Teaching of the Seminary in Relation to the Spiritual Life of the Students." The following clergymen were present from other countries:

Rev. Dr. S. D. E. Salmund, Aberdeen, Scotland; Dr. F. M. Hamill, Belfast, Ireland; Dr. J. A. Patterson, Edinburgh; Dr. A. S. Stewart, St. Andrews, Scotland; Dr. J. Scrimgeour, Montreal; President D. H. McVicar, Montreal, and Dr. W. Craven, Toronto. These gentlemen are on their way to the pan-Presbyterian convention to be held at Washington next week. The seminaries represented were Western, Auburn, Lane, Omaha, McCormick, Lincoln, Biddle, San Francisco and Princeton.

Dr. William B. Green gave a reception in honor of the delegates last night at his home.

15TH YEAR. NO. 92.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 26, 1899.

GEN. JOUBERT'S FORCE

Boer Commander Counting on 50,000 Men.

NO EUROPEAN INTERVENTION.

The Representative of the South African Republic Convinced of the Hopelessness of Such Help—Late Note of Chamberlain to President Kruger.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 26.—It is reported from Pretoria that Commandant General Piet Joubert reckons on 18,000 Transvaal troops, 16,000 from the Orange Free State, 8,000 from Cape Colony, 2,000 from Natal and 6,000 Hollanders, German and other volunteers.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Brussels correspondent of The Standard says that Dr. Leyds, European representative of the South African republic, now recognizes the hopelessness of any attempt to obtain European intervention.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The officials of the foreign office gave out the text of the letter of the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, to the British high commissioner in South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner, dated Sept. 22. The British reply expresses regret that her majesty's offer, No. 5, of Sept. 8 had been refused and said:

"The object her majesty's government had in view in the recent negotiations has been stated in a manner which cannot admit of misapprehension, viz, to obtain such substantial and immediate representation for the Outlanders as will enable them to secure for themselves that fair and just treatment which was formally promised them in 1881 and which her majesty intended to secure for them when she granted privileges of self-government to the Transvaal. No conditions less comprehensive than those contained in the telegram of Sept. 8 can be relied on to effect this object."

"The refusal of the South African government to entertain the offer thus made, coming as it does after four months of protracted negotiations, themselves the climax of five years of extended agitation, makes it useless to further pursue the discussion on the lines hitherto followed, and the imperial government is now compelled to consider the situation afresh and formulate new proposals for a final settlement of the issues which have been created in South Africa by the policy constantly followed for many years by the government of South Africa. They will communicate the result of their deliberations in a later dispatch."

The imperial government takes up the charge of breach of faith insinuated by Secretary of State Reitz, Sept. 16, "which we cannot pass over in silence." Mr. Chamberlain refutes this charge.

At another point the communication said: "The imperial government sees no ground for misapprehension on the part of the South African republic as to its answer regarding non-interference and suzerainty, as the imperial government had already stated that it would not press for the appointment of a joint commission of inquiry, in view of the fact that such an inquiry would, in the opinion of the government of the South African republic, prejudice the right of independence repeatedly recognized by the imperial government."

"As to the use of the English language in the volksraad, the imperial government regards this as reasonable and is astonished that the government of the South African republic should deem it unnecessary and make a point of denying that the government of the South African republic ever proposed the same to the British agent."

DURBAN, Natal, Sept. 26.—Seven hundred and fifty men of the Leicestershire regiment, 750 of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, 200 mounted infantry and the Eighteenth hussars arrived at Dundee from Ladysmith.

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 26.—Von Veltheim, the former trooper in the Cape police, who shot and killed Woolf Joel, nephew, partner and executor of the late Barney Barato, in Johannesburg in March of last year, after failing in an attempt to blackmail, has been arrested while crossing the frontier.

It is said that he was returning with the object of giving the government information.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

One of the Most Notable Ever Witnessed at Newport—Prominent People Present.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 26.—The marriage in the Protestant Episcopal All Souls chapel, which followed the Russian orthodox service, uniting Prince Cantacuzene, Count Speransky of Russia and Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant and granddaughter of General U. S. Grant, was one of the most brilliant ever witnessed in Newport.

Right Rev. H. C. Potter, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Nevins of the American church in Rome. But in accordance with the laws of the state of Rhode Island Rev. Dr. Potter of the Emanuel church of this city read that portion of the service which legally united the distinguished pair.

Honore Palmer, a cousin of the bride,

PRINCESS CANTACUZENE.
(Formerly Miss Julia Dent Grant.)

acted as best man by proxy for Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, who was unable to be present.

The bridal procession included only Miss Grant and her escort and the ushers, as there were no bridesmaids nor any maid of honor.

As the bride's father at present is with the army in the Philippines, her brother, Ulysses S. Grant, third, a member of the third class at West Point, in full cadet uniform, acted in his place.

The ushers were: Potter Palmer, Jr., a cousin of the bride; Lockwood Honore, uncle of the bride; Captain Sartoris, a member of General Fitzhugh Lee's staff during the late war and also a cousin of the bride; Robert L. Gerry of New York, H. Roger Winthrop of Newport, John Prentiss of New York, Worthington Whitehouse of New York and Lathrop Randolph of Boston.

Miss Grant was gowned in white. Her dress was severely cut, but of the richest white satin with a sweeping train and veil of tulle.

She carried a shower bouquet of stephanotis and lilies of the valley and wore the gift of the bridegroom, a corsage ornament of diamonds and enamel and a rope of pearls.

The prince was attired in the full uniform of the chevalier garde, brilliant with red and gold.

Among the congregation, beside the immediate family, were Mrs. Ulysses Grant, the grandmother of the bride, H. H. Moore, Edwin C. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Honore, Jr., Mrs. Sartoris, wife of Captain Sartoris, Major General Nelson A. Miles, Mrs. Miles and Miss Miles and Lieutenant Colonel Michler of General Miles' staff, Major General Merritt and Major Mott of his staff, Adjutant General Corbin, Colonel and Mrs. Hein of West Point, Samuel Thayer of Wisconsin, Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn, Chauncey M. Depew and many others.

The reception at the Potter Palmer residence was one of the largest ever held in Newport. The bride couple received under an immense floral arch, with Mrs. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer standing on the right, while seated near was Mrs. U. S. Grant.

The prince and princess started for New York on board the steam yacht Narada.

Strikers Called on Senator Hanna.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—A committee from the street railroad men's union called upon Senator Hanna, who is the president of the Cleveland City Railroad company. The men said they had been received courteously by the senator, who admitted that the strikers on the Big Consolidated lines had grievances which he would have corrected were they his employees.

TO FREE AMERICANS.

Rebels Will Release 14 Prisoners Tomorrow or Thursday.

THREE JOINED FILIPINO ARMY.

Became Officers After Their Capture. Two Englishmen Released Brought the Information—They Had No Information of Captain Rockefeller.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—10 a. m.—Two Englishmen who had been held by the insurgents since June arrived at Angeles. They report that the Filipino congress has resolved that 14 American prisoners shall be surrendered on Wednesday or Thursday.

They have, however, no information as to the whereabouts of Captain Chas. M. Rockefeller of the Nineteenth infantry, who disappeared in April last and of whom no trace has been discovered. They assert that three Americans who were captured by the rebels are acting as officers in the insurgent army.

THE CHINESE CAN LAND.

Finally Agreed to Admit the Shipload to the Philippines, but No More to Try It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Secretary Root received a cable message from General Otis regarding the Chinese situation in the Philippines. He says that the shipload of 700 can be landed without any serious interference with military operations. General Otis discusses at considerable length the subject of Chinese in the Philippine islands, and the dispatch was referred to the state department, where it was made the subject of a conference between Acting Secretary Hill and the Chinese minister.

The result of the conference between Acting Secretary Hill, with whom the war department had rested the responsibility for the decision, and Minister Wu, is set out in the following official statement:

"The Chinese from Amoy, on the steamers Esmeralda and Salvador, about one-half of them being previous residents of the Philippines, have been permitted to land, owing to the special circumstances of the case, on the promise of the Chinese consul general at Manila that no more Chinese will leave Chinese ports for the Philippines unless qualified to land under the war department regulations."

It was stated that the Chinese minister was satisfied with this action in this particular case, although he does not concede the right of exclusion generally in the Philippines, and the Chinese government stands by the principles enunciated in the formal protest which was made last week by the Chinese minister here against General Otis' action.

The war department regulations referred to in the above statement are supposed to be contained in the order made by General Otis a year ago, declaring the Chinese exclusion laws to be in force in the Philippines.

A GUNBOAT CAPTURED.

Rebels Burned It and Carried Away the Guns—Officer and Nine Men Missing.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—It was reported that the insurgents had captured the United States gunboat Urdaneta in the Orani river, on the northeast side of Manila bay, where she was patrolling. One officer and nine of her crew are missing.

The United States gunboat Petrel, sent to investigate the matter returned and reported that the Urdaneta beached opposite the town of Orani, on the Orani (not Arani) river. She was riddled with bullets and burned and the following guns with their ammunition were captured: A 100-pounder, one Colt automatic gun and one Nordenfeldt 25-millimetre gun. The crew of the Urdaneta probably are prisoners or have been killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The gunboat Urdaneta, which was captured with her crew at Orani, about 25 miles from Manila, on the bay of Manila, is a little craft of only 40 tons displacement, not much larger than a small tug. She was captured by the navy early in the war, and has been on police duty for the day for months past and was manned by men from the Oregon.

According to the last reports to the department the little boat was last May under the command of Naval Cadet Weiborn C. Wood, but the personnel of the crew is not a matter of record, being subject to frequent change.

Naturally the navy officials are vexed at the difficulties of the negotiations looking to the release of Lieutenant Gilmore of the Yorktown and his men should be added to by this last misfortune.

Enroute to Philippines.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—The new Twenty eighth regiment from Camp Meade passed through here for service in the Philippines.

SOHLEY IN THE PARADE.

His Name Given Out as a Participant In Dewey Procession—High Prices For Seats.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Enormous prices have been paid for good positions from which to view the Dewey land parade. Rear Admiral Schley engaged a box at the Hotel Majestic, as has also the widow of Captain Gridley, the officer in command of the Olympia during the battle with Montojo's fleet and the forts of Cavite.

Others who engaged boxes there are Governor Bushnell of Ohio, H. M. Flagler, Adjutant General Stewart of Pennsylvania and Vice President McCulloch of Chicago and Northwestern railway. Governor Roosevelt and family will witness the parade from the Fifth Avenue hotel.

Active preparations were in progress on the ships of the squadron off Tompkinsville for the naval parade. The fighting machines are being made immaculate.

Arrangements for the squadron's representation in the land parade have about been completed. The executive officer will be in command of each ship's delegation of seamen. There will be three full companies from each ship now off Tompkinsville, except the Texas, which will have two companies. There are 52 men in each company.

There will be a battalion of four full companies of marines. The New York, the Brooklyn and the Massachusetts will each have a company. The fourth company will be made up of men chosen from the guard of other ships. Major Murphy of the Brooklyn will be in command of the battalion of marines and Lieutenant Mathews of the Brooklyn will be his adjutant. It is thought the Marietta, the composite gunboat which is now at Boston, will stop here on her way to Washington, where she has been ordered to report on Oct. 2.

The Scorpion, the converted yacht, it is expected will come.

The following United States vessels arrived Monday: Dispatch boat Dolphin, revenue cutters Onondaga and William Windom and revenue practice ship Salmon P. Chase. These vessels will take part in the Dewey naval parade on Friday.

The reception committee has finally decided upon the order to be taken by the city officials and the guests of the city in the land parade of next Saturday. It is as follows:

Sousa's band.
Battalion sailors from Olympia.

Dewey and the mayor.
Dewey's five captains at Manila.

Dewey's personal staff.
Rear Admiral Sampson and Randolph Guggenheimer.

Admiral Sampson's staff.
Admiral Philip, commandant of the New York station, and President T. F. Woods of the board of aldermen.

Staff of Admiral Philip.

Junior officers of the North Atlantic squadron.

That will complete the naval formation. Then will come the guests of the city in this order:

Visiting governors not accompanied by troops.

Major General Miles and aides.

Rear Admiral Schley and Rear Admiral Miller [retired].

Joint committee of the municipal assembly. [Fourteen of them.]

Sailors of the North Atlantic squadron.

Following the sailors will be the soldiers of the regular army and other military organizations.

Kearsarge's Successful Trial.

ROCKPORT, Mass., Sept. 26.—The new battleship Kearsarge crossed the finish line, having taken 4 hours, 20 minutes, 30 seconds for the run. An estimate, deducting 30 minutes for turning at Cape Porpoise, shows that she exceeded 17 knots by a fraction.

SAMOAN WAR CLAIMS.

The Three Governments Have Them Under Consideration.

GERMANY DON'T HAVE TO PAY.

She Took No Part In the Bombardment. No Proposition Made For Her to Stand For Part of the Damage Done by Mataafa's Men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The three governments interested in Samoa—Great Britain, Germany and the United States—have been considering the claims arising out of the bombardment last summer, in which the American forces under Admiral Kautz, and the British forces under Captain Sturdee, participated. As a preliminary step the British government has signified a purpose to adopt in this case the principle observed in the damage done by the bombardment of Alexandria, Egypt, namely, that private property destroyed as a necessary incident to the prosecution of naval and military operations would be paid for.

While applying this general principle, the adjustment of the various claims is yet to be made according to the circumstances of each. The claims are being considered under the main heads, viz: Those arising from the joint naval operations of the British and the American forces, and second, those growing out of the operations of the Samoan natives, chiefly the followers of Mataafa.

As Germany took no part in the bombardment she has no damages to pay.

It is said also that no proposition has been made to have Germany pay a part of the Samoan damage done by the Mataafa forces. The course of the United States has not yet been fully determined, either as to the bombardment or the claims arising from native depredations.

FOR SHOOTING AT MILAN.

Man Publicly Shot, Another Condemned and Pardoned, Others Sentenced.

BELGRADE, Serbia, Sept. 26.—The court rendered judgment in the cases of the prisoners who have been on trial some time past charged with the attempted assassination of former King Milan of Serbia, July 6, when he was shot at by a Bosnian, Knad Knezevic, Knezevic and Paisitch, the leaders of the conspiracy, were sentenced to death, 10 others were condemned to 20 years' imprisonment, 1 to 9 years' imprisonment and 7 to 5 years' imprisonment. Six of the men on trial were acquitted. Knezevic was shot publicly in the presence of a large crowd.

In view of the absence of trustworthy evidence the finding of the tribunal is the subject of general condemnation.

After the sentences were read Paisitch was informed that King Alexander had pardoned him.

J. HAY BROWN APPOINTED.

Governor Stone Named Him to Succeed the Late Justice Williams.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—Governor Stone appointed J. Hay Brown of Lancaster to the vacancy on the supreme court bench created by the death of Judge Henry W. Williams of Wellsboro last winter.

Mr. Brown will take his seat when the court reconvenes at Pittsburg next month. He is the Republican nominee for supreme court judge to be voted for in November. Judge S. Leslie Mestrezat of Uniontown is the Democratic candidate. By reason of two vacancies existing on the bench and no elector being entitled to vote for more than one person, both candidates are certain of election.

Some Judges Paid Big Sums.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A number of judges of the city were called before the Mazet legislative investigation committee for the purpose of ascertaining the opinions of the different members of the judiciary as to the advisability of the passage of a stringent law prohibiting the paying of election expenses by the candidates for judicial offices. This action was taken, Chairman Mazet explained, at the request of the City club, the chamber of commerce and other bodies of a similar character. All but one had made big contributions. Some of them favored such a law, and others said they could not see why judges should be exempt.

THE EAST END. WORK ON BOULEVARD

New Driveway Will Be Completed Very Soon.

DIGGING DRAINS ON PENNA. AVE.

Rinehart Is Once More Doing Some Work on That Street—One Year Next Month Since Any Clay Was Mined at the Sewer Pipe Plant—East End News.

Yesterday a large force of men commenced work on the new boulevard leading from the Calcutta road to the property recently donated the city by W. L. Thompson for park purposes. When it will be completed is a matter that cannot be determined at this date. The boulevard is to be macadamized and will be 80 feet wide. It will be the best made road in or about the city when the contractors complete their work. The work on the boulevard through the property of Samuel S. Dixon adjoining the Coburn tract will be commenced within a few days. It is the intention to have both roads completed at the same time.

TWO PREACHERS.

One Is Going, Another Coming to Fill the Former's Place.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. W. H. Haverfield and family, who have been spending several days with relatives in Canton, returned to their residence on Pennsylvania avenue. They expect to leave for Andover the last of the week in order that Mr. Haverfield can preach at his new charge next Sunday.

Reverend Orcutt, who occupied the pulpit at the Second M. E. church last Sunday, expects to move his effects to East End by the first of next week. He will occupy one of the Watson houses on Pennsylvania avenue near the old loop. Those who heard him speak last Sunday are well pleased, and are of the opinion that he will be the means of greatly building up the church.

ALMOST A YEAR

Since Any Work Was Done at the Sewer Pipe Plant.

It will be a year in November since any work was done in the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson sewer pipe plant, and it will be one year on Oct. 18, since the clay diggers suspended operations. Many rumors have been published about the resumption of the works, but from present indications it will be another year before any pipe is made at the plant. In the meantime the kilns are being damaged by the weather, and on some kilns the clay covering has been washed off by the heavy rains.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE.

Rinehart Is Again Doing Work on That Thoroughfare.

Contractor H. S. Rinehart has placed a force of men at work on Pennsylvania avenue digging drains against the curbing on both sides of the street. How long it will require him to complete the work is a matter that cannot be determined. Rinehart claims the street has been a source of annoyance to him ever since work was commenced and he will be glad when the street is accepted by the city.

PAID THE BILL.

San Juan Hill Fight Cost the Boys a Little Money.

Alex Chaffin, whose home on Sandy hill was damaged last week by some flying stones thrown by boys who had a pitched battle, was given several dollars yesterday to pay for the damage which resulted to his property through the fight. The boys took up a collection and when the purse was handed

Grant Moved.

John Grant, of Mulberry street yesterday moved his effects to his new residence on Pennsylvania avenue.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird, of Mulberry street, left yesterday for East Springfield where they will spend several days visiting friends.

C. L. Carman will leave for Holliday's Cove, next week, where he will take charge of a country school. The term lasts six months.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE DAY.

From 800 to 1,000 People From Here to Go to Pittsburgh Saturday.

Josiah Wedgwood lodge, No. 235, Order Sons of St. George, expect to take from 800 to 1,000 people from this vicinity to the Pittsburgh Exposition Saturday on their $1 excursion.

It will be Sons of St. George day at the Exposition, and in honor of the event it is the intention of the Sons of St. George of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio to make it the biggest day in the history of Pittsburgh's show. They will make the occasion an opportunity of honoring Lieut. Dan Godfrey, of the British Guards band, London, now playing at the Exposition, presenting a handsome gold medal to Lieutenant Godfrey and a bronze medal to each of the 50 bandmen, from the British Americans of eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. J. H. Williams, of Philadelphia, a prominent attorney, will be present to make the presentation speech.

Josiah Wedgwood lodge is one of the strongest in the order, and is making rapid strides in membership this year.

Going to Buffalo.

Rev. C. E. Locke, D. D., pastor of the Central M. E. church, San Francisco, son of Rev. W. H. Locke, chaplain of the Mansfield reformatory, formerly of the First M. E. church, this city, has been called to and has accepted the pastorate of Delaware street church, the largest in Buffalo.

The church will be handsomely decorated with flowers, fruits and vegetables. A handsome reredos in the chancel will be a new feature in the decoration. A special collection will be taken up for the rectory improvement fund. This will be one of the most beautiful and interesting services ever held in this church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

UNDERTAKING.

John Rinehart's Fine Establishment, 181 and 183 Second Street.

John Rinehart, the well-known undertaker, has just recovered from a long-continued and very severe illness, and is once more prepared to pay full attention to the undertaking business. He has one of the finest outfits in all this section of country, including a beautiful Rural Hearse, Black Funeral Car and White Funeral Car, the two latter conveyances having rubber tires. He is also ready to provide handsome carriages and horses in any emergency. When you are looking for or needing anything in the undertaking line, don't fail to call on John Rinehart, 181 and 183 Second street. Satisfaction guaranteed in every particular.

At the Grand Tonight.

May Smith Robbins and her company will be at the Grand tonight with "Little Trixie." The piece is a musical comedy with a score of pleasing specialties in the way of singing and dancing and some very clever bits of comedy business. Miss Robbins is a dancer of unusual merit and sings well. The musical selections are of the popular kind.

CIRCUIT COURT CASES

Some Continued and Some Settled Yesterday.

THE DEIDRICK ALIMONY CASE

LISBON, Sept. 26.—[Special]—Circuit court opened yesterday with Judge W. H. Frazer, J. B. Burrows and P. A. Laubie on the bench.

The following cases were continued: John C. Whinnery versus the Salem Water company; Rebecca A. Cope and others versus John W. Hoopes; also the case of W. H. Mullins versus the Salem board of education, arising out of the employment of a lady teacher.

The case of Joseph L. Deidrick versus Louisa C. Deidrick was continued pending the supreme court's decision in the Benner case in which exactly the same points are involved. In the court below Mrs. Deidrick was the plaintiff and sued her husband for alimony for her support. She received at the hands of the court an allowance of about $14,000 and from this finding the husband appeals.

The case of Alex Stewart versus Sarah J. Campbell was settled.

In the case of Alice A. Armstrong versus Lucinda C. Armstrong the appeal was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

One of the cases to be heard is that of the Barford Brothers Pottery company vs. William N. Bryan. Bryan brought suit for damages, alleged to have resulted from the neglect of the company to keep their machinery and appliances in proper condition. The plaintiff was non-suited on a technicality in the common pleas court and appealed to the circuit court, which overruled the court below and sent the case back to be tried upon its merits. This resulted in a heavy verdict for the plaintiff, from which the defendant company appealed. Court will adjourn Friday.

RISE IS DUE.

Rivermen Have Hopes of a Scant Barge Stage This Week.

The rains of the past 24 hours have been general throughout the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys, and as the ground is in good shape and the indications for more rain good, rivermen have hopes for a scant barge stage.

Last night the outlook for a rise was promising. The stage yesterday was 1.7 feet and today had risen to 2.8 feet and still going up.

HILL & HAWKINS.

—Mrs. G. S. Beardmore is visiting friends in Minerva for several weeks.

If "coming events cast their shadows before," those shadows on the blind presage a wedding in the near future. The young lady may even be "all ready" to marry, that is, she thinks she's "all ready" for her trousseau's prepared, the "trip" has been planned, and the house picked out and "everything."

When we see a young woman go out to meet fate that way it brings to mind the Frenchman's saying of the Charge of the Light Brigade. "It was magnificent but it was not war." It is magnificent to see the young girl face the future so fearlessly, but it is not life. No young woman is ready for married life unless her physical condition is up to the standard of marriage, in the health of all the delicate womanly organs, and rarely is that the case.

Young women entering upon the state of marriage will find no friend so helpful as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, prevents the drains that ruin the health, and makes the ordeal of motherhood so easy that it is practically almost painless.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser answers every question. It is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For the cloth-bound edition send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SOUTH SIDE.

HAVE GOT OIL FEVER

Southside People Expect to Make a Strike.

Record Sale of a Plan of Lots—Realty Prices Steadily Advancing—Rally Day Services—All the News of the Southside Suburb.

There is some talk in Chester of a company being formed for the purpose of drilling for oil or gas out Mill creek. Some men who have interested themselves in the matter claim that should a well be put down to any great depth they would surely strike either gas or oil.

The situation has been thoroughly discussed by those interested and it is the intention to enlist the services of C. A. Heck, who has been successful in drilling on the Mercer farm. How soon drilling will be commenced is not known.

ANOTHER POTTERY.

J. E. McDonald May Get One For Chester Before the New Year.

It is probable that J. E. McDonald will bring a pottery to Chester very soon. Several strings are now out and should he be successful the plant will be located on his property east of the mill site. When Mr. McDonald was seen with reference to the above he refused to talk of the matter, other than he might have something to give out within a few days.

LAST LOT SOLD.

One Plat of Lots Was Sold Within a Few Months' Time.

The last lot in the Rigby tract in Chester was sold last evening to Oscar Allison and W. B. McLane. There were over 50 lots in this tract when it was placed on the market, but they did not last but a few months.

It is a singular fact, that when the farms of Chester were subdivided into lots they sold faster than was anticipated. The first prices were very low, but in some instances these same lots could not be purchased today for double their first prices. The price of land throughout Grant district is steadily advancing.

RALLY DAY.

Chester Chapel Will Have Special Services For the Occasion.

On Sunday, October 8, the Chester chapel will observe the annual rally day service. A special program is being arranged for the occasion and a pleasant service is anticipated. The regular communion services will be observed on this date, it being postponed from next Sunday. These services will be in charge of Rev. J. R. Greene, of East End.

Mr. Newcomet is in the engineering department of the Pennsylvania company while Miss Worthington is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Worthington and has a host of friends in this city being very well known here, having visited at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hill, Kossuth street, for several summers.

WELCOMED THEIR PASTOR.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz Given a Surprise by the Members of His Church.

The members of St. John's Evangelical church met in the Sunday school room of the church last evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of extending to their pastor, Rev. John G. Reinartz, a welcome. It was nothing short of a surprise party. When the pastor and his wife appeared in the room, an address of welcome in German was made by William Martin, while Reverend Frischoorn made an address in English. Reverend Reinartz responded in an able manner, after which the members of the church spent the balance of the evening in a social manner.

Edison Going to New Mexico.

Thomas A. Edison will leave for Santa Fe, N. M., this fall to superintend the erection of the big gold concentrating plant that is to be used on the famous Ortiz grant, says the New York Tribune. Mr. Edison refuses to state what the process that he has invented is, other than that he had succeeded in finding a thoroughly automatic process, which would be operated without the use of water. There is absolutely no handling of the material after it is shoveled or dumped into the machine until the waste and gold are delivered from the plant in separate piles. By his process, he asserts, gold bearing beds that will not yield enough gold to pay for washing by the old process can be made to pay a handsome return. The 54,000 acres of the Ortiz grant are roughly estimated to contain from $500,000,000 to $800,000,000 worth of gold, and all attempts heretofore to separate it from the gravel and quartz have been failures on account of the scarcity of water. Mr. Edison states that he is not interested in the Galesto company, which has bought the grant and that he will simply build and operate the concentrating plant under contract.

Who Wants to Be a Marquis?

Every little while Dom Eugenio Faria de Teixeira comes into public notice, and the latest thing about him is his offer to sell his title of Marquis da Aguia Branca, which was conferred by Dom Pedro when he was emperor of Brazil. Dom Eugenio frankly admits that his financial necessities cause him to advertise that his title is for sale. He made a stir when he came to New York in 1896. It was said he was worth $50,000,000. As a matter of fact, his mother had about $250,000, which the son lost in real estate speculation. In fact, he lost everything except his title. The advertisement of the fact that it is in the market says that only propositions from distinguished gentlemen will be considered, and applicants must give genealogy.

ROOSEVELT.

Roosevelt has no use for a disloyal man. He believes in the flag and that which the flag represents, and has no patience with the fellow who would lower "Old Glory."

FORAKER.

Foraker is evidently all right in his support of the administration, and he asserts that there is but one side at the present time for any loyal or patriotic man. Is this much comfort to the grannies?

UP TO COUNCIL.

The people having, by a vote of ten to one, voted to issue $20,000 of bonds for the purchase of the Bradshaw site for Mr. Carnegie's $50,000 public library, the further arrangements are now in the hands of council. The preliminaries for the sale of the bonds, and the selection of a library committee are scheduled for tonight's session. It is to be hoped that there will be no breaks such as occurred in the sale of the sewer bonds. For once council ought to brace up and try not to disgrace the city in concluding the negotiations with Mr. Carnegie.

VOTING PLACES.

There seems to have been more or less misunderstanding about polling places at Saturday's election. The law requires that there shall be a voting place in each ward. This was provided and as a result the East End was left without a polling place, the First ward polls being at Hall's lumber yard. The question has arisen whether the new Fifth ward has not been in legal existence since September 1, and if that was so then the East End was entitled to a polling place for the new ward. It has now been decided that the Fifth ward was in existence, although there will be no ward election until spring. However, the failure to have a polling place

BE SOMETHING.

Yes, represent something. Be for or against. Don't be a thing—a nonentity, nothing. Fling your flag to the breeze. If you are an advocate of the liquor league and the saloon, come out boldly and let the world know it. Don't pretend to be a good man, a good citizen, a law-observing and law-abiding voter, and then, on the sly, advocate and vote for that which you know to be evil and vile. Don't laugh at this and imagine yourself too crafty and clever to be caught in your trickery and cunning. Smarter and more cunning and much craftier men have tested this feature, and have been forced to recognize the truth of the trite old quotation: "Be sure thy sin will find thee out." Don't enact the part of a coward and act as do the proprietors of some of the journals in this city, who pray "good Lord and good devil," and who dare not advocate any party or any cause, fearful of losing a dollar by being a man. Be something. Represent something.

More goods received this week of our big purchase from the celebrated make of Goldsmith, Joseph, Feiss & Co. Joseph Bros. will save to buyers many dollars.

CALIFORNIA POTTERY

Parties Are Trying to Buy the Plant,

BUT SAY $7,000 IS TOO MUCH

The Plant and Three Acres Can Be Purchased at a Much Lower Figure, as the $7,000 Includes Eleven Acres That Are Not Needed.

There is a deal now on foot in this city to purchase the California pottery now held by the First National bank. Overtures have been made to the bank to purchase the plant, but they want $7,000 for the property. This price has been considered too high by those who want the plant and if a lower quotation is made the property will be bought outright.

There has been no company formed yet, but four men are interested in the concern, one of them being employed at present by the Cleveland and Pittsburg company, the others in the uptown potteries. Some action may be taken by the men before the first of the month.

The plant will be thoroughly overhauled if purchased. A new boiler and engine will be purchased and a new packing shed built.

NOT THAT MUCH.

The Pottery and Three Acres Can Be Bought For Less Than $7,000.

If the parties desire to go into the potting business they can purchase the plant and three acres of ground, upon which are located the gas well and dwelling house, at a considerably lower figure than $7,000. There are 11 more acres in the tract, but they are not necessary for pottery purposes unless the parties who buy the plant desire to go into the real estate business. The $7,000 price includes the plant and 14 acres of land, which is a very low figure.

DIRECTORS WERE HERE.

They Were Looking For Thomas Diddle, Who Is Needed as a Reference.

Infirmary Directors Tarr and McBride were in the city yesterday looking for Thomas Diddle. Ida McElroy is ill at her home in Racine, Meigs county, with typhoid fever and it was claimed she was a resident of this county. Diddle was given as a reference, and it was found that Miss McElroy had only been in the county 11 months before she went home, therefore she is not a resident here and this county will not have to keep her.

THEY WANT AN ADVANCE

Motormen Want an Increase of Two Cents an Hour

AND MANAGER HEALY DECLINES

Saying Business at Present Would Not Justify Him in Acceding to Their Request--The Men Will Hold a Meeting to Consider His Reply.

Last Saturday evening the motormen and conductors of the street railway company held a meeting in their room in East End and decided to ask the street railway company for 20 cents an hour instead of 18 cents as is now being paid. A committee composed of C. A. Allison, Samuel Kerr and O. L. Baker was appointed to confer with Manager Healy and request the advance. Mr. Healy was seen yesterday morning by the committee and after the request had been made said the present business did not justify him in granting the increase. A meeting will be held the last of the week, when the committee will make a report of their conference with the management.

THE MAYOR WAS BUSY

He Had Numerous Cases to Care For.

THE TOTAL LIST OF OFFENDERS

Was Jim Sharp, Michael Maloney, Jimmie O'Rourke, Sarah McCormick, Ella McConnell, Cordelia Crooks, Frank Ward, Ed McShane, Sherley Coleman and Ed Dinerstein.

Every time Jim Sharp visits the home of his father there is trouble, and yesterday was no exception to the rule. Jim went home yesterday, and as a result of his visit he was arrested by Officer Grim for using some very bad language. His escapade cost him $9.60, and he paid the amount. Jim has not been a visitor to the mayor's court for several months, and has been working very steadily.

Michael Maloney

was very drunk when Officer White found him yesterday afternoon in the rear of M. J. Cloran's saloon. He had a cut on the top of his head, and it was claimed that he had a watch and chain and some money during the day, but they were missing when White got him. He was questioned in regard to the matter, but was so drunk that he didn't even know his own name and couldn't tell anything about the articles. He was released early this morning so he could go to work, and will call at the mayor's office this evening and settle for his drunk.

Sarah McCormick

called at the mayor's office last evening and entered a plea of guilty upon a charge made by William E. Chambers. She acknowledged that she swept dust on Mary Wright and hit her with the broom, and it cost her $9.60 which she paid.

HALF SISTERS FIGHT.

Ella McConnell and Cordelia Crooks Had a Scrap Sept. 18.

Ella McConnell and Cordelia Crooks, who are half sisters, had an altercation over an old score at the corner of Second and Market streets Sept. 18. There were some words and then they went at it in good shape and Cordelia retreated to the office of the mayor, where she exhibited a few scratches and entered a complaint against Ella for using abusive, profane language and fighting. She acknowledged that she had also used some abusive language and taken part in the fight and Mayor Bough warned her that Ella might retaliate but that made no difference to Cordelia. Last night Officer Davidson arrested Ella and she at once pleaded guilty and paid $7.60 but made a similar charge against Cordelia and she will be arrested. There is not much chance that she will plead not guilty as the mayor has already heard her story.

THE WRONG MAN.

Jimmie O'Rourke Hit David Brooks With an Apple Back of the Ear.

Yesterday as David Brooks, the colored expressman, was driving up Lisbon street he was somewhat shocked when the hard side of an apple struck him back of the ear. He made complaint to Mayor Bough and Jimmie O'Rourke was arrested by Davidson. Jimmie acknowledged that he had thrown one apple, but said he thought Brooks was "Doc" Headley, upon whom he wanted to get revenge, as Headley had been teasing him. The mayor gave him a lecture and let him go upon the promise that he would apologize to Brooks.

MAYOR BOUGH

Has a Private Interview With Several West End Small Boys.

This morning Frank Ward, Edward McShane, Sherley Coleman and Eddie Dinerstein called on the mayor. For several days Rev. B. M. Carson and family have been annoyed by small boys knocking at their front door and one day somebody threw a stone against the door. The boys all claimed they were innocent, and as there was no evidence they were turned loose. Mayor Bough says Dinerstein is at the head of the gang and plans all the mischief.

A SALOON WAS RAIDED

Officer White Made a Capture Last Night

AT THE PLACE OF BILLY MORROW

He Saw Two Women Enter the Saloon At 11 O'clock and Watched the Place Until After 2 O'clock This Morning—His Efforts Were Rewarded, but He Had to Pry the Door Open.

Last night about 11:30 o'clock Officer White saw two women go in the back door to the saloon of William E. Morrow, Sixth street. He watched for a short time and then secured Officers Grim, Whan and Woods and Colin Kinsey and George Bettridge and they surrounded the place.

At 2:30 this morning Officer White pried the door open and found the two women without much trouble, but James Walters was hid under a bill board and Morrow was also in hiding.

When the girls appeared before Mayor Bough this afternoon they gave their names as Florence Cavanaugh and Mame Caruthers and were fined $19.60 each, which they paid. The names given are fictitious, and one of the women is said to be married and resides in Wells-ville, while the other is her sister and comes from Braddock, Pa.

Morrow and Walters will get their hearing tomorrow.

Rumor is rife that a prominent professional man was in the saloon at the time of the raid, and that he was hidden away in a very undesirable location, eventually succeeding in escaping, but by a very narrow margin. Investigation gave no confirmation of this yarn.

THREE RECRUITS.

Two Members of Company E Enlisted For Philippine Service.

Lieut. T. O. Murphy, of Pittsburg, arrived in the city this morning, and upon going to the recruiting office found three applicants awaiting him. They were: Oliver C. Reynolds, Peter A. Maley and John W. Murray. They were sworn in and left this afternoon for Pittsburg. From there they will be sent to the Forty-seventh infantry, now stationed at Port Niagara. This regiment will probably be sent to the Philippines next month.

Murray is 32 years old, and served with Company E in Cuba. He is a nightwatchman.

Maley is from Salineville, is 27 years old and a potter by trade.

Reynolds is from Empire, and was also a member of Company E. He is 19 years old and a laborer.

CUBA AND HER FUTURE.

Careful Study by the President and His Advisers.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another—Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government—Tariff on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The Philippines completely fill the stage. During the war with Spain and for a year or two previous to that Cuba was the place outside our own territorial limits to which the eyes of Americans were principally turned. Now the newspaper correspondents have practically all deserted Havana, and Cuba has become an old story.

The president and his advisers, however, still find in Cuban affairs much that demands their closest study. The present relation of the United States to Cuba is almost without a parallel in the history of dependent governments. The relation of England to Egypt was originally something like our present relation to Cuba, and perhaps our guardianship may develop in the same way. At present the administration regards Cuba as on a totally different basis from Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. Our government is bound by the Teller resolution and by the treaty of peace to establish an independent government in Cuba, and then if the people of that island of their own free will desire annexation to the United States that is another matter. The American people, too, might have something to say about it. But Mr. McKinley feels that he is not justified now in assuming anything more than that the American policy is to try to prepare Cuba for self government, and this may be interpreted as including independence if the Cubans really want it.

While this is the fundamental theory upon which the administration is acting, it is deeply impressed with the necessity of proceeding toward local self government with great deliberation. The task of setting up an autonomous government in Cuba will not be easy. The Spaniards there still hate the Cubans and the Cubans the Spaniards. The Cubans are, moreover, divided between the Autonomists, those who were willing to accept General Blanco's autonomy scheme, and the Radicals, whose sympathies were with the Cuban army. Almost anything which the United States might do now toward advancing local government would be interpreted as benefiting one race or faction or the other. It is hoped that in time the different elements of the population will realize that they have a common interest and so be more easy to harmonize.

When the time comes to act, local government will probably be introduced by degrees. Municipal autonomy, many of the president's best advisers say, should come first. Self government might then, after it has been found successful in the cities, be made applicable to the provinces. Some provinces will be ready for it earlier than others perhaps, and lastly an autonomous government might be given to the island at large. That this will be the logical course is indicated by the fact that most of the culture and the property interests are centered in the cities. With a suitable limitation of the suffrage it would be possible to get an electorate which would be fairly able to manage municipal affairs.

The limitations of the suffrage will doubtless be property and educational. The property qualification, many persons argue, should be based upon the amount of income, for Cuban incomes are likely to be pretty small for many years to come. A moderate sized one, however, might be offered as a substitute for landed possessions. Such restrictions, property and educational, would leave within the limits of citizenship the better classes of Cubans and Spaniards. It would shut out the negroes and the lower strata of country farmers.

A certain percentage of the Cuban army, perhaps one-fourth upon a reasonable test, would come within the suffrage lines. It is not the belief of the president's advisers just now that it would be safe to go much further than this in extending the suffrage upon which the gradual development of self government is to rest. Of course this same body of voters would be the one ultimately to pass upon the question of annexation, and the real interests of the island, it is felt, could not with safety be committed to all its inhabitants.

Some misunderstanding exists here as to the extent to which the Cubans are now participating in the government of the island. It has been said in criticism that the Havana postoffice and custom house are filled with Americans. This is true only to the extent that these establishments are the central offices for the whole island in the postal and customs service respectively. In the local postoffice and the local custom house three-fourths of the employees are Cubans. Practically all of the Havana police force are Cubans. So are the local municipal officers, including the mayor. To be sure, they are appointed by General Ludlow instead of being elected by popular vote, but this does not seem to make much difference to the Cubans. They are excessively fond of holding office and do not care so much how they get it.

The Cubans want a tariff system of their own. They think the interests of the island should be solidly considered. Their tobacco has a reputation which they do not wish injured by the free entry of Porto Rican tobacco, which would be mixed with it, and all would go out of the island as Cuban. This arrangement they resent. In the matter of coffee they do not care so much, since there is comparatively little coffee culture in Cuba, but they do not want their customs system arranged to accommodate Porto Rico. They think that that island should look to the United States for its market.

SOUTHERN PINE LANDS.

Large Sales at From $5 to $15 an Acre.

From time to time during the past year attention has been called to the large purchases of yellow pine land which were being made in the Louisiana and Mississippi timber belt by lumbermen from the northwest, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The tendency toward that kind of investment seems to be steadily on the increase, and all through the summer and fall a continuous stream of buyers and their agents and representatives have sojourned briefly in New Orleans. Enormous tracts have been acquired at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre. It is an undeniable fact that the pine districts of the northwest are being rapidly "cut out," and the date of their exhaustion is a matter of easy computation. This, taken in connection with the remarkable boom in lumber, makes it highly probable that a good deal of the timber land buying which has been recently going on has been of a speculative character. It is said on good authority that much of the property acquired has been bought with money borrowed on the standing trees, and in several instances the loans were actually larger than the price paid for the land.

In this connection Manager J. A. Blaffer of the New Orleans Progressive union tells an interesting story. "Not long ago," he said, "I met a very agreeable gentleman who is in the sawmill business in Minnesota. He came here for the purpose of buying a large tract of yellow pine land, and in the course of conversation it developed that his personal capital, which was not especially great, was tied up in his business in the northwest. I then asked him frankly where he got the money for such a deal as he had in progress. He laughed. 'I have no trouble about that,' he replied. 'I simply send a surveyor down here, and he makes an accurate report on the exact quantity of standing timber. Meanwhile my lawyers have looked into the matter of title, and I then go to the bank and put up the timber as collateral. They are glad to let me have all the money I need.' I expressed some surprise, and he answered me there was nothing unusual about the transaction. 'Any man with a straight record,' he said, 'can borrow whatever he needs on Louisiana pine.'"

Shipping Coffee in Chunks.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

The rate will be one fare for round trip, with 25 cents added for admission coupon to Exposition.

The return limit will cover three days including date on which ticket is purchased.

The Exposition of 1899 will be a marvel. Numerous special new attractions will be added to the principal features of former seasons. The music programs will be by the world's greatest musical organizations. Sousa and his famous band of 50 pieces will give afternoon and evening concerts from Sept. 6 to 19; Godfrey's British Guards Band, of London, England, will furnish music from Sept. 20 to Sept. 30; the celebrated New York Symphony Orchestra of 50 pieces, under the direction of Mr. Walter Damrosch, will entertain Exposition visitors with fine music from Oct. 2 to Oct. 14, and the famous Innes Band of 50 pieces will be the musical attraction from Oct. 16 to Oct. 21.

For rates, tickets, time of trains and other details about the reduced fares, please apply to the nearest ticket agent of the Pennsylvania lines.

Vacation Trips.

The Pennsylvania lines extend direct to places of summer sojourn along the Atlantic Ocean. Atlantic City, Cape May, Asbury Park Long Branch and resorts on the New Jersey coast are seashore terminals of the Pennsylvania system. Newport, Narragansett and summer havens in New England are reached over the Pennsylvania route via New York. The Adirondacks, White Mountains, Catskills and mountain retreats of the east are also reached through New York. Resorts in the Alleghenies are located upon the Pennsylvania route and may be reached via Pittsburg without changing car. The Pennsylvania lines also lead to resorts in Michigan and the lake region through three gateways: Cleveland, Toledo and Fort Wayne. Full information about rates, through time of trains and the convenient manner in which summer resorts may be reached will be cheerfully furnished upon application to local passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or by addressing J. K. Dillon, D. P. Agt., Pittsburg Pa.

New Sunday Trains.

Under new schedule taking effect on Sunday, July 23, a new train will be run regularly on Sundays between Pittsburg, East Liverpool, Steubenville and Bellaire. The train will leave Pittsburg union station 7:10 a. m., central time, arrive East Liverpool 9:02 a. m., Steubenville 10:06 a. m., Bellaire 11:15 a. m., central time; returning leave Bellaire 1 p. m., East Liverpool 3:07 p. m.

Beaver County Fair Excursions.

Sept. 27, 28 and 29, low rate, non-transferable excursion tickets will be sold to Beaver, Pa., via Pennsylvania lines, for the County Fair, where visitors may see many new, novel and attractive exhibits. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Saturday, Sept. 30.

Terrible Proof.

"What was your father whipping you for last night?" asked one small boy of another. "Oh," replied the other, "we had an argument about my Sunday school lesson, and he was proving to me that the whale actually did swallow Jonah."—Troy Times.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

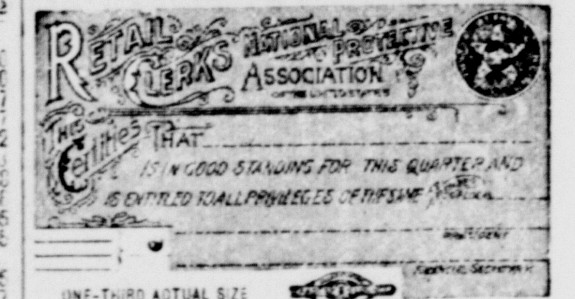

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are drawn to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card ask for it when making your purchase. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. (used only during months named in lower left hand corner and must be properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.)

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

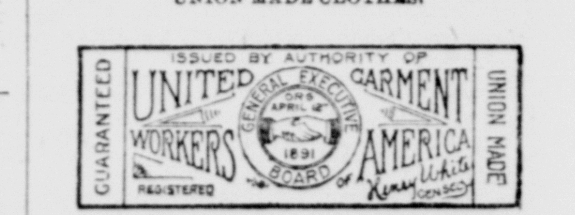

CUSTOM TAILORS LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union made bread. It is evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

OOM PAUL'S PEOPLE.

New Points About the Character of the Boers.

KRUGER A KING IN RURAL GARB.

A Look at the Best Side of the Boers. Hospitable, Though Dirty—Why Civilization Is Backward—Not Wholly Incorruptible—Hatred of the British.

A timely and instructive book entitled "Oom Paul's People," is being brought out by D. Appleton & Co. The author, Howard C. Hillegas, sympathizes with the Transvaal republic. The author reports a personal interview which he had with President Kruger that throws considerable light on the Boer side of the dispute with the uitlanders, and then he goes on to tell many interesting things about the personality of the man:

"President Kruger impresses one as being a king in the garb of a farmer, a genius in a dunce's cap. At first sight he would be mistaken for an awkward countryman, with 'store clothes' and a silk hat intended for some one else. His frock coat is far too small to reach around his corpulent body, and his trousers seem to have a natural antipathy for his shoes. He wears no cuffs, and the presence of a collar and tie may be determined only by drawing aside the natural curtain formed by his whiskers. He is uncouth in his manner, but he has great natural attractiveness, gained by a long life among hunters in the wilds.

"President Kruger is short in stature, measuring less than 5 feet 7 inches. His head and body are large and fat, but his legs are thin and short. His head is just a trifle longer than broad, and almost fits the English definition of 'square head.' The small eyes are surmounted by bushy, white eyebrows, which extend half an inch beyond his forehead. When he is not sitting for a photograph, his hair is not so neatly arranged as it appears in the well known pictures, but hangs loosely down over his wide forehead, except when, with a hasty swish of the hand, he brushes it aside. The hair is nearly white, and hangs over the sides of his head in long tresses, which cover both his ears. When he smiles, the big fat circles above his cheeks are pushed upward and shut his small gray eyes from view. But when pleased the president generally laughs hilariously, and then his eyes remain closed for the greater part of a minute. The mouth is wide and ungainly. The constant use of a heavy pipe has caused a deep depression on the left side of his lower lip, and this gives the whole mouth the appearance of being unbalanced. His chin is large and prominent, and his ears correspond relatively in size and symmetry with his face. When in repose, his features are not pleasant to look upon, but when lighted up by a smile they become rather attractive and generally cause his laughter to become contagious among his hearers."

From President Kruger to his people is an easy step, and Mr. Hillegas brings to the consideration of this topic the same resolve to bring out the man's best points. He says:

"The wholesale slander and misrepresentation with which the Boers of South Africa have been pursued cannot be outlived by them in a hundred years. It originated when the British forces took possession of the Cape of Good Hope, and it has continued with unabated vigor ever since. The Boer's habits and mode of life are similar to those of the American ranchman, and in reality there is not much difference between the two except that the latter is not so far removed from civilization. Physically the Boers are the equals if not the superiors of their old time enemy the Zulus. It would be difficult to find anywhere an entire race of such physical giants as the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. If an average height of all the full grown males in the country were taken, it would be found to be not less than 6 feet 2 inches and probably more. Their physique, notwithstanding their comparatively idle mode of living, is magnificently developed. With the Boer, his religion is his first and uppermost thought. The Old Testament is the pattern which he strives to follow. His religious temperament is portrayed in almost every sentence he utters, and his repetition of Biblical parables and sayings is a custom which so impresses itself upon the mind of the stranger that it is but natural that those who are unacquainted with the Boer should declare it a sure sign of his hypocrisy. He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. The Boer homestead is as unpretentious as its owner. Generally it is a low one story stone structure, with a steep tile roof and a small annex in the rear, which is used as a kitchen. The door is on a level with the ground, and four windows afford all the light that is required in the four square rooms in the interior. A dining room and three bedrooms suffice for a family, however large. The floors are of hardened clay, liberally coated with manure, which is designed to ward off the pestiferous insects that swarm over the plains. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

"The Boer of today is a creature of circumstance. He is outstripped because he has had no opportunities for development. Driven from Cape Colony, where he was rapidly developing a national character, he was compelled to wander into lands that offered no opportunities of any description. He has been cut off for almost a hundred years from an older and more energetic civilization, and even from his neighbors; it is no wonder that he is a century behind the van. No other civilized race on earth has been handicapped in such a manner, and if there had been one it is a matter for conjecture whether it would have held its own, as the Boer has done, or whether it would have fallen to the level of the savage."

Lobbyists seem to be as perniciously active there as here. Mr. Hillegas seems inclined to blame them for the corruptibility of the Boer statesmen, rather than the corruptibility of the statesmen for the existence of the lobbyist. He says:

"Every train from Johannesburg, the uitlander capital, takes to Pretoria scores of lobbyists, who use all their powers, both of persuasion and finance, to influence the minds of the legislators, either in the way of granting valuable concessions for small considerations or of securing the passage of bills favorable to the lobbyists. It is no wonder that the uitlanders declare that less than one-fourth of the raad members are unassailably honest and that all others can be bribed. The Boer alone is not blameworthy who, having never possessed more than $100 at one time, yields to the constant importunities of the lobbyist and sells his vote for several thousand dollars."

However, Mr. Hillegas makes out a good case for his proteges. He says, speaking of the first arrivals of uitlanders in the Transvaal, attracted by the discovery of gold:

"The natural contempt which the Englishmen, who compose the majority of the uitlander population, always have for persons and races not their intellectual or social equals soon created a gulf between the Boers and the newcomers. This line of cleavage was extended when the newcomers attempted to obtain a foothold in the politics of the country. The Boers, who had been suddenly outnumbered three to one, naturally resented the interference, especially as it came from persons who had no desire to become permanent residents of the country and who wanted a voice in the conduct of the national affairs only as a means to attain their own ends, without caring about the welfare of the entire republic."

"One example is sufficient to show the conduct of the uitlanders toward the Boers, but thousands could be given. President Kruger journeyed to Johannesburg in order to learn from the newcomers what his government might do to improve the industry. A crowd met Mr. Kruger and after rude remarks on his personal appearance sang 'God Save the Queen.' Later the Transvaal flag was torn down from a staff in front of the house in which the president was conferring with leading residents of the city.

"Of the million white people south of the Zambezi, probably half are mere fortune seekers, who would leave the country the very instant they secured a moderate fortune. These have the welfare of the country at heart only in so far as it interferes or assists them in attaining their desired goal. They would ask that Portugal be allowed to rule all of South Africa if they received the assurance that the much sought after fortune could be secured six months sooner. The question of granting the right of voting to the uitlanders in the Transvaal is one which so vitally affects the future life of the government that the Boers' concession of that right would be tantamount to presenting the country to the British government."

Teachers and Stationery.

A remarkable charge has been made against the public schoolteachers of Washington by the board of directors of the Business Men's association. As in most cities, the teachers are enabled to get stationery and similar articles at wholesale rates. It is charged that they have gone into the stationery business, purchasing these articles in large quantities and making customers of their pupils, to whom, of course, they sell at the regular retail figures. This evil is said to have reached such proportions as to injure the stationery trade in the city, and has been brought to the attention of the Business Men's association. The board of directors has passed a resolution condemning the schoolteachers for the practice and is trying to get the district commissioners to put a stop to it.

Fighting Department Stores.

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical association recently tried to induce the company which makes a certain well known proprietary preparation not to sell to department stores or anybody who would undersell the regular retail druggist. The company declined, and the association has arranged a boycott among its own members, so that hardly a retail druggist in Kentucky now sells the article in question. Something similar has been done in Pittsburgh. The fight is attracting attention in other places and is likely to be imitated extensively.

AND EVERY ONE OF THEM

Wants a Copy of the New Expansion Atlas, Published by Rand McNally, and Now Being Given Away by the NEWS REVIEW---Read What It Is Like---Call and See It.

The NEWS REVIEW has just closed a contract with Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, the famous map publishers, for the EXCLUSIVE sale and distribution of the new Rand McNally

Expansion Atlas

In this city and vicinity.

This is the revised edition and is right up to date. It contains general maps covering every part of the world, complete and accurate, but its special interest is found in the new maps and descriptive matter pertaining to the

New American Colonies,

The Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Manila and vicinity, including a chronology of all the important events of the Spanish-American war.

The Dewey Souvenir,

A handsomely engraved colored plate, containing excellent portraits of Admirals Dewey and Farragut and the American naval commanders in the Orient, forms the frontispiece of the book. In the center is a beautiful picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, showing the position of each of the American and Spanish vessels and the scenery of the bay, drawn from official descriptions.

Photographs

Of the leading American war ships and portraits of all the presidents are also shown. All the maps are fully and completely indexed so that it is possible in a moment to find any place desired. Population, area and other interesting information is given briefly and accurately up to date.

The map showing how the United States have expanded since the foundation of this government is one of the most valuable features of the book, as it shows at a glance.

The NEWS REVIEW proposes to GIVE AWAY one copy of the Expansion Atlas to each new subscriber who pays in advance

CUBA AND HER FUTURE.

Careful Study by the President and His Advisers.

MIXED POLITICAL SITUATION.

Cubans and Spaniards Still Hate One Another—Cautious Progress Toward Local Self Government—Tariff on Tobacco.

A remarkable example of the way public interest moves in waves, first one question and then another attracting attention, is afforded by the small space now given in the newspapers to Cuban affairs, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The Philippines completely fill the stage. During the war with Spain and for a year or two previous to that Cuba was the place outside our own territorial limits to which the eyes of Americans were principally turned. Now the newspaper correspondents have practically all deserted Havana, and Cuba has become an old story.

The president and his advisers, however, still find in Cuban affairs much that demands their closest study. The present relation of the United States to Cuba is almost without a parallel in the history of dependent governments. The relation of England to Egypt was originally something like our present relation to Cuba, and perhaps our guardianship may develop in the same way. At present the administration regards Cuba as on a totally different basis from Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. Our government is bound by the Teller resolution and by the treaty of peace to establish an independent government in Cuba, and then if the people of that island of their own free will desire annexation to the United States that is another matter. The American people, too, might have something to say about it. But Mr. McKinley feels that he is not justified now in assuming anything more than that the American policy is to try to prepare Cuba for self government, and this may be interpreted as including independence if the Cubans really want it.

While this is the fundamental theory upon which the administration is acting, it is deeply impressed with the necessity of proceeding toward local self government with great deliberation. The task of setting up an autonomous government in Cuba will not be easy. The Spaniards there still hate the Cubans and the Cubans the Spaniards. The Cubans are, moreover, divided between the Autonomists, those who were willing to accept General Blanco's autonomy scheme, and the Radicals, whose sympathies were with the Cuban army. Almost anything which the United States might do now toward advancing local government would be interpreted as benefiting one race or faction or the other. It is hoped that in time the different elements of the population will realize that they have a common interest and so be more easy to harmonize.

When the time comes to act, local government will probably be introduced by degrees. Municipal autonomy, many of the president's best advisers say, should come first. Self government might then, after it has been found successful in the cities, be made applicable to the provinces. Some provinces will be ready for it earlier than others perhaps, and lastly an autonomous government might be given to the island at large. That this will be the logical course is indicated by the fact that most of the culture and the property interests are centered in the cities. With a suitable limitation of the suffrage it would be possible to get an electorate which would be fairly able to manage municipal affairs.

The limitations of the suffrage will doubtless be property and educational. The property qualification, many persons argue, should be based upon the amount of income, for Cuban incomes are likely to be pretty small for many years to come. A moderate sized one, however, might be offered as a substitute for landed possessions. Such restrictions, property and educational, would leave within the limits of citizenship the better classes of Cubans and Spaniards. It would shut out the negroes and the lower strata of country farmers.

A certain percentage of the Cuban army, perhaps one-fourth upon a reasonable test, would come within the suffrage lines. It is not the belief of the president's advisers just now that it would be safe to go much further than this in extending the suffrage upon which the gradual development of self government is to rest. Of course this same body of voters would be the one ultimately to pass upon the question of annexation, and the real interests of the island, it is felt, could not with safety be committed to all its inhabitants.

Some misunderstanding exists here as to the extent to which the Cubans are now participating in the government of the island. It has been said in criticism that the Havana postoffice and custom house are filled with Americans. This is true only to the extent that these establishments are the central offices for the whole island in the postal and customs service respectively. In the local postoffice and the local custom house three-fourths of the employees are Cubans. Practically all of the Havana police force are Cubans. So are the local municipal officers, including the mayor. To be sure, they are appointed by General Ludlow instead of being elected by popular vote, but this does not seem to make much difference to the Cubans. They are excessively fond of holding office and do not care so much how they get it.

The Cubans want a tariff system of their own. They think the interests of the island should be solely considered. Their tobacco has a reputation which they do not wish injured by the free entry of Porto Rican tobacco, which would be mixed with it, and all would go out of the island as Cuban. This arrangement they resent. In the matter of coffee they do not care so much, since there is comparatively little coffee culture in Cuba, but they do not want their customs system arranged to accommodate Porto Rico. They think that that island should look to the United States for its market.

SOUTHERN PINE LANDS.

Large Sales at From $5 to $15 an Acre.

From time to time during the past year attention has been called to the large purchases of yellow pine land which were being made in the Louisiana and Mississippi timber belt by lumbermen from the northwest, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The tendency toward that kind of investment seems to be steadily on the increase, and all through the summer and fall a continuous stream of buyers and their agents and representatives have sojourned briefly in New Orleans. Enormous tracts have been acquired at prices ranging from $5 to $15 an acre. It is an undeniable fact that the pine districts of the northwest are being rapidly "cut out," and the date of their exhaustion is a matter of easy computation. This, taken in connection with the remarkable boom in lumber, makes it highly probable that a good deal of the timber land buying which has been recently going on has been of a speculative character. It is said on good authority that much of the property acquired has been bought with money borrowed on the standing trees, and in several instances the loans were actually larger than the price paid for the land.

In this connection Manager J. A. Blaffer of the New Orleans Progressive union tells an interesting story. "Not long ago," he said, "I met a very agreeable gentleman who is in the sawmill business in Minnesota. He came here for the purpose of buying a large tract of yellow pine land, and in the course of conversation it developed that his personal capital, which was not especially great, was tied up in his business in the northwest. I then asked him frankly where he got the money for such a deal as he had in progress. He laughed. 'I have no trouble about that,' he replied. 'I simply send a surveyor down here, and he makes an accurate report on the exact quantity of standing timber. Meanwhile my lawyers have looked into the matter of title, and I then go to the bank and put up the timber as collateral. They are glad to let me have all the money I need.' I expressed some surprise, and he answered me there was nothing unusual about the transaction. 'Any man with a straight record,' he said, 'can borrow whatever he needs on Louisiana pine.'"

Shipping Coffee in Chunks.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

EXPOSITION EXCURSIONS

To Pittsburg via Pennsylvania Lines on Thursdays.

Excursion tickets to Pittsburg account the Exposition will be sold for regular trains via Pennsylvania lines on Thursdays, Sept. 7, 14, 21 and 28, and Oct. 5, 12 and 19, from Ashtabula, Erie, Massillon, New Philadelphia, Powhatan and intermediate ticket stations on the Fort Wayne route, and from Dennison, Cadiz, Wheeling, Washington, New Cumberland and intermediate ticket stations on the Pan Handle route.

For rates, tickets, time of trains and other details about the reduced fares, please apply to the nearest ticket agent of the Pennsylvania lines.

Vacation Trips.

The Pennsylvania lines extend direct to places of summer sojourn along the Atlantic Ocean. Atlantic City, Cape May, Asbury Park Long Branch and resorts on the New Jersey coast are seashore terminals of the Pennsylvania system. Newport, Narragansett and summer havens in New England are reached over the Pennsylvania route via New York. The Adirondacks, White Mountains, Catskills and mountain retreats of the east are also reached through New York. Resorts in the Alleghenies are located upon the Pennsylvania route and may be reached via Pittsburg without changing car. The Pennsylvania lines also lead to resorts in Michigan and the lake region through three gateways: Cleveland, Toledo and Fort Wayne. Full information about rates, through time of trains and the convenient manner in which summer resorts may be reached will be cheerfully furnished upon application to local passenger and ticket agents of the Pennsylvania lines, or by addressing J. K. Dillon, D. P. Agt., Pittsburg Pa.

New Sunday Trains.

UNION LABELS.

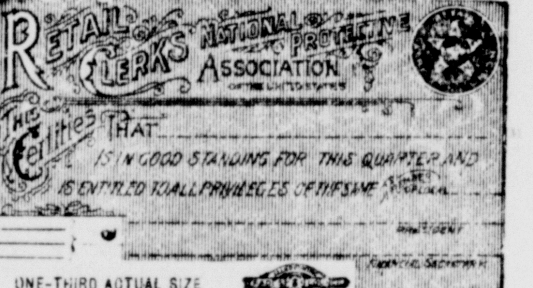

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS. All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only: using months named in lower left hand corner and properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole or every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

OOM PAUL'S PEOPLE.

New Points About the Character of the Boers.

KRUGER A KING IN RURAL GARB.

A Look at the Best Side of the Boers. Hospitable, Though Dirty—Why Civilization Is Backward—Not Wholly Incorruptible—Hatred of the British.

A timely and instructive book entitled "Oom Paul's People," is being brought out by D. Appleton & Co. The author, Howard C. Hillegas, sympathizes with the Transvaal republic. The author reports a personal interview which he had with President Kruger that throws considerable light on the Boer side of the dispute with the uitlanders, and then he goes on to tell many interesting things about the personality of the man:

"President Kruger impresses one as being a king in the garb of a farmer, a genius in a dunce's cap. At first sight he would be mistaken for an awkward countryman, with 'store clothes' and a silk hat intended for some one else. His frock coat is far too small to reach around his corpulent body, and his trousers seem to have a natural antipathy for his shoes. He wears no cuffs, and the presence of a collar and tie may be determined only by drawing aside the natural curtain formed by his whiskers. He is uncouth in his manner, but he has great natural attractiveness, gained by a long life among hunters in the wilds.

"President Kruger is short in stature, measuring less than 5 feet 7 inches. His head and body are large and fat, but his legs are thin and short. His head is just a trifle longer than broad, and almost fits the English definition of 'square head.' The small eyes are surmounted by bushy, white eyebrows, which extend half an inch beyond his forehead. When he is not sitting for a photograph, his hair is not so neatly arranged as it appears in the well known pictures, but hangs loosely down over his wide forehead, except when, with a hasty swish of the hand, he brushes it aside. The hair is nearly white, and hangs over the sides of his head in long tresses, which cover both his ears. When he smiles, the big fat circles above his cheeks are pushed upward and shut his small gray eyes from view. But when pleased the president generally laughs hilariously, and then his eyes remain closed for the greater part of a minute. The mouth is wide and ungainly. The constant use of a heavy pipe has caused a deep depression on the left side of his lower lip, and this gives the whole mouth the appearance of being unbalanced. His chin is large and prominent, and his ears correspond relatively in size and symmetry with his face. When in repose, his features are not pleasant to look upon, but when lighted up by a smile they become rather attractive and generally cause his laughter to become contagious among his hearers."

From President Kruger to his people is an easy step, and Mr. Hillegas brings to the consideration of this topic the same resolve to bring out the man's best points. He says:

"The wholesale slander and misrepresentation with which the Boers of South Africa have been pursued cannot be outlived by them in a hundred years. It originated when the British forces took possession of the Cape of Good Hope, and it has continued with unabated vigor ever since. The Boer's habits and mode of life are similar to those of the American ranchman, and in reality there is not much difference between the two except that the latter is not so far removed from civilization. Physically the Boers are the equals if not the superiors of their old time enemy the Zulus. It would be difficult to find anywhere an entire race of such physical giants as the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. Of an average height of all the full grown males in the country were taken, it would be found to be not less than 6 feet 2 inches and probably more. Their physique, notwithstanding their comparatively idle mode of living, is magnificently developed. With the Boer, his religion is his first and uppermost thought. The Old Testament is the pattern which he strives to follow. His religious temperament is portrayed in most every sentence he utters, and his repetition of Biblical parables and sayings is a custom which so impresses itself upon the mind of the stranger that it is but natural that those who are unacquainted with the Boer should declare it a sure sign of his hypocrisy. He does not quote Scripture merely to impress upon the mind of his hearer the fact that he is a devout Christian, but does it for the same reasons that a sailor speaks the language of the seafarer.

"The Boer is hospitable to a degree that is astonishing, and he will give to a stranger the best room in the house, the use of his best horse and his finest food. Naturally he will not give an effusive welcome to an Englishman, because he is the natural enemy of the Boer, but to strangers of other nationalities he opens his heart and house. The Boer homestead is as unpretentious as its owner. Generally it is a low one story stone structure, with a steep tile roof and a small annex in the rear, which is used as a kitchen. The door is on a level with the ground, and four windows afford all the light that is required in the four square rooms in the interior. A dining room and three bedrooms suffice for a family, however large. The floors are of hardened clay, liberally coated with manure, which is designed to ward off the pestiferous insects that swarm over the plains. Personal uncleanness is one of the great failings that has been attributed to the Boer, but when it is taken into consideration that water is a priceless possession on the plains of South Africa no further explanation is needed."

Here is the author's reason why the Boer nation has not advanced so far as it might:

"The Boer of today is a creature of circumstance. He is outstripped because he has had no opportunities for development. Driven from Cape Colony, where he was rapidly developing a national character, he was compelled to wander into lands that offered no opportunities of any description. He has been cut off for almost a hundred years from an older and more energetic civilization, and even from his neighbors; it is no wonder that he is a century behind the van. No other civilized race on earth has been handicapped in such a manner, and if there had been one it is a matter for conjecture whether it would have held its own, as the Boer has done, or whether it would have fallen to the level of the savage."

Lobbyists seem to be as perniciously active there as here. Mr. Hillegas seems inclined to blame them for the corruptibility of the Boer statesmen, rather than the corruptibility of the statesmen for the existence of the lobbyist. He says:

"Every train from Johannesburg, the uitlander capital, takes to Pretoria scores of lobbyists, who use all their powers, both of persuasion and finance, to influence the minds of the legislators, either in the way of granting valuable concessions for small considerations or of securing the passage of bills favorable to the lobbyists. It is no wonder that the uitlanders declare that less than one-fourth of the raad members are unassailably honest and that all others can be bribed. The Boer alone is not blameworthy who, having never possessed more than $100 at one time, yields to the constant importunities of the lobbyist and sells his vote for several thousand dollars."

However, Mr. Hillegas makes out a good case for his proteges. He says, speaking of the first arrivals of uitlanders in the Transvaal, attracted by the discovery of gold:

"The natural contempt which the Englishmen, who compose the majority of the uitlander population, always have for persons and races not their intellectual or social equals soon created a gulf between the Boers and the newcomers. This line of cleavage was extended when the newcomers attempted to obtain a foothold in the politics of the country. The Boers, who had been suddenly outnumbered three to one, naturally resented the interference, especially as it came from persons who had no desire to become permanent residents of the country and who wanted a voice in the conduct of the national affairs only as a means to attain their own ends, without caring about the welfare of the entire republic."

"One example is sufficient to show the conduct of the uitlanders toward the Boers, but thousands could be given. President Kruger journeyed to Johannesburg in order to learn from the newcomers what his government might do to improve the industry. A crowd met Mr. Kruger and after rude remarks on his personal appearance sang 'God Save the Queen.' Later the Transvaal flag was torn down from a staff in front of the house in which the president was conferring with leading residents of the city.

"Of the million white people south of the Zambezi, probably half are mere fortune seekers, who would leave the country the very instant they secured a moderate fortune. These have the welfare of the country at heart only in so far as it interferes or assists them in attaining their desired goal. They would ask that Portugal be allowed to rule all of South Africa if they received the assurance that the much sought after fortune could be secured six months sooner. The question of granting the right of voting to the uitlanders in the Transvaal is one which so vitally affects the future life of the government that the Boers' concession of that right would be tantamount to presenting the country to the British government."

Teachers and Stationery.

A remarkable charge has been made against the public schoolteachers of Washington by the board of directors of the Business Men's association. As in most cities, the teachers are enabled to get stationery and similar articles at wholesale rates. It is charged that they have gone into the stationery business, purchasing these articles in large quantities and making customers of their pupils, to whom, of course, they sell at the regular retail figures. This evil is said to have reached such proportions as to injure the stationery trade in the city, and has been brought to the attention of the Business Men's association. The board of directors has passed a resolution condemning the schoolteachers for the practice and is trying to get the district commissioners to put a stop to it.

Fighting Department Stores.

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical association recently tried to induce the company which makes a certain well known proprietary preparation not to sell to department stores or anybody who would undersell the regular retail druggist. The company declined, and the association has arranged a boycott among its own members, so that hardly a retail druggist in Kentucky now sells the article in question. Something similar has been done in Pittsburgh. The fight is attracting attention in other places and is likely to be imitated extensively.

The Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Manila and vicinity, including a chronology of all the important events of the Spanish-American war.

The Dewey Souvenir,

A handsomely engraved colored plate, containing excellent portraits of Admirals Dewey and Farragut and the American naval commanders in the Orient, forms the frontispiece of the book. In the center is a beautiful picture in colors of the Battle of Manila Bay, showing the position of each of the American and Spanish vessels and the scenery of the bay, drawn from official descriptions.

Photographs

Of the leading American war ships and portraits of all the presidents are also shown. All the maps are fully and completely indexed so that it is possible in a moment to find any place desired. Population, area and other interesting information is given briefly and accurately up to date.

The map showing how the United States have expanded since the foundation of this government is one of the most valuable features of the book, as it shows

The History of Expansion

MESSAGE FROM OTIS.

Favorable Reports on the Situation in the Islands of Negros and Sulu.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—These dispatches from General Otis at Manila were made public by the war department:

MANILA, Sept. 23.

Adjutant General, Washington: Hughes, Iloilo, reports Lopez and 64 armed men surrendered to Byrne at Castellano, Negros. Election in that island Oct. 2. Sought conference. Chief insurgents Panay wished to know what promise could be given them in case of formal submission. Told no arrangements possible until surrendered and force disbanded.

MANILA, Sept. 25.

Adjutant General, Washington: Bates returns from Jolo, 21st inst., having placed garrisons at Sias and Bungam, Tawi Tawi group, one company each place. Affairs in archipelago satisfactory. Bates saw chief insurgents Zamboanga, still anxious to receive United States garrison on condition of withdrawal should Aguinaldo succeed in Luzon. Proposition not entertained. Zamboanga having trouble with more Datos in vicinity, who have raised United States flag. Dato Cagayan, Sulu island, visited Jolo, gave address, and desired to raise American flag instead of Spanish flag on island. American flag will be raised there. Ready to give six months' notice in order to establish in archipelago customs regulations under protocol between Spain, Germany and Great Britain of 1885. Bates' report by mail.

PADDLE FOR PRISONERS.

Colorado Warden Advocated Its Use, at the Meeting of the National Prison Congress.

HARTFORD, Sept. 26.—Vice President Wright called the third day's session of the national prison congress to order in Keney hall.

Vice President Wright vacated the chair and it was taken by General Nelson Vial, the warden of Rhode Island state prison. Warden Henry Woller of the Minnesota state prison was appointed vice chairman of the meeting. The annual address of President A. T. Hart, the superintendent of the state reformatory of Indians at Jeffersonville, was read by Warden Scott of Concord, Mass.

Two papers were read, the first on "The Punishment of Prisoners," prepared by warden Clarence P. Hoyt of the Columbus state prison, and the other on "The Employment of Convict Labor," by Warden Henry Woller of the Minnesota state prison. Warden Hoyt's paper advocated the use of the paddle in punishing prisoners.

Warden Woller's paper called out a long discussion. The delegates were tendered a reception at the Athenum.

SENATOR WELLINGTON RESIGNS.

In Doing So He Made a Vigorous Attack on Governor Lowndes.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—United States Senator George L. Wellington resigned the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee in accordance with the recent written request of Governor Lloyd Lowndes, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. General Thomas J. Shryock was elected to succeed him. General Shryock is state treasurer.

In endorsing his resignation Senator Wellington delivered a speech in which he accused the governor of double dealing and treachery, and alleged that in conjunction with Senator McComas, Congressman Sydney E. Mudd and others, the chief executive had gone into combination to destroy the speaker's future political prospects.

Big Strike Feared in Havana.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—In spite of the efforts of the leaders a general strike today seems inevitable. The only union that had not decided to join was the cartmen's union, but it was expected that the cartmen will go with the rest. The strikers are confident of winning. The various laundry establishments are closed, and it is impossible to get laundry work done, a very serious matter in Havana. It is probable that Havana today will be without bread owing to the bakers' strike.

Wages of Nearly 16,000 Raised.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—As a result of a meeting of the executive committee of the Lake Carriers' association the wages of nearly 16,000 men employed on the vessels of the great lakes will be raised from 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Oct. 1.

To Fill Ermentrout's Place.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—Governor Stone issued a writ for a special election in the Lehigh-Berks district, on Nov. 8, for the election of a congressman to succeed the late Daniel Ermentrout of Reading.

FIERCE GUERRILLA WARFARE.

The Yaquis Killing Of Mexican Soldiers, With Small Loss to Themselves.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Lieutenant Majeran arrived at Torres on his way to the City of Mexico to make official reports as to the progress of the campaign against the Yaquis. He reported that the Indians had scattered into small bands and were vigorously waging a guerrilla warfare, and that the Mexican soldiers had adopted similar tactics. The Indians avoid open engagements with the soldiers, rather harassing them with attacks from secure positions in the mountains and along the rough mountain roads, not infrequently causing much loss of life among the soldiers with little harm to themselves.

General Torres, in command of the Mexican troops, asks the Mexican war department to send a force of rurales to assist him, and it is thought they can render very effective service against the Indians. The Yaquis hold the rurales in great dread, as they are their old time enemies and a most formidable foe. During the past ten days a great many miners have arrived at Ortiz, having been driven out of the mountains by the threatening situation, and all bear tales of murder and bloodshed. Dozens of skirmish fights have resulted in a number of soldiers and Indians being killed and several miners have lost their lives. Many of them have deserted paying mines in order to save their lives.

PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOLS.

Meeting of the Theological Seminary Association, at Princeton, N. J. Foreign Clergymen Attended.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26.—The opening meeting of the annual convention of the General Association of Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian church of the United States was held in Miller chapel. Dr. H. C. Minton of San Francisco read a paper on "Origin and Object of the Association." Rev. W. Craven, president of Knox college, Toronto, delivered an address on "The Teaching of the Seminary in Relation to the Spiritual Life of the Students." The following clergymen were present from other countries:

Rev. Dr. S. D. E. Salmund, Aberdeen, Scotland; Dr. F. M. Hamill, Belfast, Ireland; Dr. J. A. Patterson, Edinburgh; Dr. A. S. Stewart, St. Andrews, Scotland; Dr. J. Scrimgeour, Montreal; President D. H. Mcvicar, Montreal, and Dr. W. Craven, Toronto. These gentlemen are on their way to the pan-presbyterian convention to be held at Washington next week. The seminaries represented were Western, Auburn, Lane, Omaha, McCormick, Lincoln, Biddle, San Francisco and Princeton. Dr. William B. Green gave a reception in honor of the delegates last night at his home.

A Witness For Dreyfus Promoted.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Captain Freystaeter, who was a member of the Dreyfus courtmartial of 1894 and who testified before the courtmartial at Rennes that his original belief in the guilt of the accused was largely the result of the reading of the documents of the secret dossier, communicated to the judges in a private room, without the knowledge of Dreyfus or his counsel, has been appointed a commander of marine infantry at Rochefort, in the department of Charente Interieure.

Expelled by a Conference.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—Rev. John M. Life, chaplain of the Seventh Ohio volunteers, was round guilty by the Ohio synodical conference of conduct unbecoming a minister of the Gospel in using disrespectful language to Rose Lee Burch, daughter of the lieutenant colonel of the regiment, and was expelled from the ministry. An appeal was taken. A year ago the charges were preferred by the girl and created a great sensation.

Captain Sigbee's Daughter Dead.

LEWES, Del., Sept. 26.—Miss Sigbee, daughter of Captain Sigbee, late of the inflated battleship Maine, and now commander of the Texas, died of heart failure at the cottage of Mrs. Rittenhouse, Rehoboth, Del., where she had been spending the summer. Her remains will be sent to Washington for burial today.

He Didn't Like Pledges.

Judge Martin Grover of Troy, N. Y., was at one time approached by a young citizen who wished to be nominated to the state assembly. The shrewd old judge had certain doubts about him, which he expressed somewhat freely, and yet he was willing to afford him a trial. He therefore addressed the aspirant in this way:

"Young man, if you will give me your word that you won't steal when you get to Albany, I'll see what kin be done about sendin' you there."

"Judge Grover," replied the young man, drawing himself up with great dignity, "I go to Albany unpledged or I don't go at all."
